Teutsch's Rebuilding Sale

Has been a success. The object has been to clear out all merchandise possible to make room for the carpenters and masons. We have succeeded.

Still, we find that hundreds of lines have not been broken. Stacks and stacks of merchandise still to be sold.

We must sell the goods, and the prices we ask should surely tempt you.

Remember :

Every article in every department must go at some price. Don't wait till tomorrow, come today. Such a chance will not last forever.

Boosting the Rose Show. The Portland Spectator says of the Portland rose show and fiesta to be held in that city June 21 and 22: That the rose show and fiesta will be a splendid success there is no doubt. Subscriptions are coming in in such numbers and amounts that the original plans will likely be revised to permit of a more extensive display and carnival than the projectors of the affair first planned. Nothing that Portland has ever undertaken has fallen through, and the city has never taken up anything that promises so much advertising in as short a time as this rose show.

THE HAYWOOD JURY.

Clarence Darrow Reviews the Men Who Will Try Famous Case.

In an interview with Clarence Darrow and Mr. Richardson after the empanelling of the Haywood jury the following statement was made by them.

"The Haywood jury is made up of eight republicans, three democrats and one prohibitionist. It consists of nine farmers, one real estate agent, one building contractor and one foreman of fence construction on a railroad."

"There is no man on the jury who works for wages or who has ever belonged to a labor organization, except Burns was a member of a carpenters' union 14 years ago, or who has ever been a student of trades unionism or the labor question."

"In the 200 odd jurors drawn not more than three trades unionists were placed in the panel and these were excused for conscientious objections to capital punishment and fixed opinions."

"The jurors drawn have been mainly farmers interspersed with a large number of bankers and some business men. The jurors appear to be men of honest purposes, determined to give the defendant a fair trial, but it is uniformly made up of a class to which none of the defendants have ever belonged and who have no natural kinship to labor organizations."

"In addition to this they are drawn from a small county almost wholly agricultural and each member for a year and a half has read little about the case except what has been contained in the Boise daily papers and this has been uniformly hostile to the defendants. Nearly all of them admitted that they had formed opinions and impressions from what they read and necessarily these must have been against the defendant."

Prisoner's Wife Dies.

Word was received here this morning of the death of Mrs. Mike McCarty at North Yakima. The deceased was the wife of Mike McCarty, now in the county jail charged with having robbed J. P. McManus in the Idle Hour lodging house last winter.

OPPOSED TO TAFT.

Laboring Men Remember His Record as Judge.

That the laboring men of the United States and especially union men, have not forgotten Secretary Taft's record as a judge, is shown by the following (excerpt from the June number of Current Literature, a non-partisan and absolutely fair-minded publication. Current Literature says of Mr. Taft:

"One phase of Mr. Taft's career is likely to become of considerable interest in the near future if he becomes the republican candidate for president. When he was a judge of the superior court of Cincinnati, before he went to the Philippines, he had a number of cases to decide that pertained to labor unions and their contests with employers. In one case—Moore & Co. versus the Bricklayers' union—he sustained the lower court in fining the union for conspiracy to injure the plaintiffs. He enforced an injunction compelling Chief Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, to abandon a sympathetic strike against the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan railway, and in the great Pullman strike of 1894 he caused the arrest for contempt of court, of J. W. Phelan, one of the lieutenants of Eugene V. Debs.

Phelan had organized a strike against the Cincinnati Southern railway, and counseled violence. Taft sentenced him to six months' imprisonment and said: "The gigantic character of the conspiracy of the American Railway union staggers the imagination. The railroads have become as necessary to the life and health and comfort of the people of this country as are the arteries of the human body, and yet Debs and Phelan and their associates proposed, by inciting the employees of all the railways in the country to quit their service, without any dissatisfaction with the terms of their own employment, to paralyze utterly all the traffic by which the people live, and in this way to compel Pullman, for whose acts neither the public nor the railway companies are in the slightest degree responsible, and over whose acts they can lawfully exercise no control, to pay more wages to his employees."

"The purpose, shortly stated, was to starve the railroad companies and the public into compelling Pullman to do something which they had no lawful right to compel him to do. Certainly, the starvation of a nation cannot be a lawful purpose of combination, and it is utterly immaterial whether the purpose is effected by means usually lawful or otherwise."
