THE PENDLETON DRUG CO.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION ASSURED

Pendleton is making progress with her Fourth of July fund and it is now certain that a first class celebration will be held. A total of over $1600 has been raised and the committees will continue soliciting until at least $2500 is secured.

Aside from the cash subscriptions which have been secured, a number of valuable prizes have been offered and a donation in printing and advertising has been made by the Pendleton Tribune to the amount of $50, which is highly appreciated by the business men, as the Tribune has never given any large sum to any public enterprise before. However, it is understood that this amount is to be paid wholly in services and is not a cash subscription. It is thought that the entire $2500 can be raised in a few days.

The Fourth cavalry band of Walla Walla has been secured for the celebration and other attractions are promised by the committee on arrangements. The people of the surrounding country are cordially invited to spend the day in Pendleton. A rousing celebration should be held with a fund of $2500. ### HOME FOR WORKING GIRLS.

Founded at Boise by Bishop Funsten, Episcopal.

The property formerly used as a Crittenden Home at 115 13th street, has been acquired by Bishop Funsten and plans are being made to convert it into a home for working girls, says the Boise Statesman. The building has been somewhat enlarged, a roomy recreation room having been built in the rear connecting it with what was the dining room of the original home. The building has been christened the "Sheltering Arms" and it is the intention of Bishop Funsten and Dean Hinks to make it a regular home for working girls who are without relatives in the city.

Dean Hinks is now in correspondence with the matron for the home and hopes to have it opened by July 1. At the beginning there will only be accommodations for six girls, but just as soon as there is a demand for more rooms the building will be enlarged.

The large annex recently built will be used as a recreation room for the girls to be used at noon time and evenings when amusements and good reading matter will be provided. The girls may receive their friends here subject to the rules of the building. It is also the intention of the management to provide meals for the girls rooming at the home and for those outside who care to board there. Good, wholesome food at a low price will be furnished.

It will be the aim of those interested in the work to give the girl without home ties a genuine home influence. The matron will be a woman of tact and refinement who will make the girls feel at home at once. There is at present no similar place for such girls to go and though the idea will be somewhat of an experiment in this city, there seems no doubt that it will be a success from the start.

As yet no definite arrangements have been made for the regular support of the home although many citizens have already signified their willingness to assist in this excellent work. The arrangement for the present are such that it will not require much of an income to carry on the work and as it increases a regular income will be provided.

The Dall brothers, arrested at Chenere, Wash., for digging into and robbing Indian graves, were fined each $75 and costs at Aberdeen.

ABANDON MONTANA POSTS.

Western Troops Are Being Withdrawn by War Department.

Recollections of Indian wars come to the pioneers of Oregon, Idaho and Montana, when they read of the withdrawals of government troops from Forts Keogh and Assinboine in Montana. For many years the troops from these posts protected the pioneer settlers from the ravages of Indians and their withdrawal marks the close of the pioneer epoch in the west. A Washington dispatch says: Secretary Taft has briefly outlined his policy in regard to the reduction of the garrisons in western army posts. In the following telegram sent to Senator Clapp of Minnesota, who had made a vigorous protest against the withdrawal of a part of the garrison from Fort Snelling:

It is not proposed to remove cavalry from Fort Snelling. So far as the cavalry at Forts Assinboine and Keogh are concerned, the absence of concentrating squadrons into regiments requires the removal of the squadrons at Fort Assinboine and Keogh, which has long been contemplated. The order has been announced, but will not become effective until long after 1 am at Minneapolis, and the matter can be discussed there if it is though wise.

Charles C. Fox, aged 24 years, fell from a load of dirt at The Dalles, injuring his spine till paralysis resulted. He died 15 days later—on June 4.

Twenty-Third International Christian Endeavor Convention Seattle, Wash., July 10 to 18, inclusive.

For above occasion O. R. & N. Co. will make rate of one and one third fare for round trip. Tickets on sale July 8 and 9; final return limit July 18, 1907.

A carload of giant powder on the Chicago, Indiana & Southern railroad at Reddick, Ill., exploded and five persons were killed. Some 30 others were injured.

If you see it in the East Oregonian, it's so.

Lard is no respecter of stomachs

No one on this green earth can eat lard-soaked food day after day and not feel its ill effects eventually. You may have one of those iron-clad stomachs which will prove unsusceptible for a time, but the hog-fat and its accompanying indigestibility will do its work sooner or later. It is an absolute fact that lard—simply hog-fat—is indigestible, and that it is not fit for the human stomach.

Cottolene, on the other hand, is made from pure, refined cotton seed oil—a product of nature which is thoroughly palatable, digestible and healthful. No other shortening contains the digestible, nourishing and healthful qualities of Cottolene. Even pie, that nightmare of dyspeptics, becomes easily digestible when made with Cottolene. How many people can eat lard-laden pie?

Ask your regular grocer for a pail of Cottolene and start tomorrow on the way to "lardless cookery." It will insure both for yourself and your family better food, better digestion and better health.

Cottolene shortens your food and lengthens your life.

Try it according to directions for a few weeks and you'll never go back to lard.

COTTOLENE was granted a GRAND PRIZE (highest possible award) over all other cooking fats at the recent Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and food cooked with COTTOLENE another GRAND PRIZE.

"Home Helps" a book of 300 choice recipes, edited by Mrs. Rorer, is yours for a 2 cent stamp, if you address The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago.

A NEW FEATURE—The patent air-tight top on this pail is for the purpose of keeping COTTOLENE clean, fresh and wholesome; it also prevents it from absorbing all disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.
