GENERAL NEWS.

The Canadian department of census and statistics announces the population of all British North America at 6,564,900, the first of last April, an increase of 1,133,688 during the past six years.

Charges of horrible brutality in the Alabama state insane asylum have been filed by nurses, attendants and discharged patients. Patients are said to have been choked, beaten, kicked, starved and in various ways tortured until in many instances death ensued.

It is a most significant fact that all the officials of Lloyd's and other marine underwriters scoff at the talk of war between Japan and the United States. The president of Lloyd's at London, openly declares that except for the yellow journals and the irresponsible professional jingoes there would be no war talk at all.

Placing both barrels of a shotgun into his mouth and pulling the trigger with his toe, William Malzahn, a wealthy farmer of the town of Wheatland, in Kenosha county, Wisconsin, committed suicide. A portion of his head was blown through a doorway into an adjoining room, where his wife was sleeping. Malzahn was despondent on account of family troubles.

As a result of a barroom brawl at Niagara Falls, N. Y., Edward Little, more familiarly known as "Big Ed," is dead, and Harry Daley, Patrick Monkley, George Hillman, jr., Thomas Donahue and three negroes, one a waiter and the other two females, are under arrest. Daley is directly charged with the murder of Little, and the others are held as accessories or witnesses.

Roosevelt has appointed Frank A. Leach of Oakland, Cal., director of the mint to succeed George E. Roberts, who resigned to accept the presidency of the Commercial National bank of Chicago, made vacant by the death of James H. Eckels. Mr. Leach is at present superintendent of the San Francisco mint. He will assume his new duties at Washington late in the present month.

The Armour Packing company's ice plant at Las Vegas, Nev., was totally destroyed by fire. The plant cost $125,000, and with it was destroyed 700 tons of ice. The plant was one of the largest in the southwest, and the only icing station on the Salt Lake road between California and Salt Lake City. The loss will cause great distress to a large desert territory, and may interfere with refrigerator car service over the route.

Robbers at Omaha fatally beat Han Paek, a Chinese restaurant keeper, and robbed his strong box of $100 in cash. An ice man found Paek lying in a pool of blood and notified the police. He was removed to a hospital, where he died. A bloody meat cleaver and a pick handle gave evidence of a terrible struggle during which the Chinaman received a score of wounds, several on his head, resulting in death. There is no clue to his assailants.

When stung on the arm by a rattlesnake, John Samuels, a grader employed near Wolcott, Wyo., adopted heroic measures to save his life. Stopping the flow of blood in his arm with a piece of cord, he lacerated the flesh about the wound, filled the laceration with gunpowder and applied a match. The resulting explosion burned all of the poison out of his flesh, but made a nasty burn on his arm. He suffered nothing from the effects of poison.

As the barge Japan, in tow of the tug Marion, was approaching Ketchikan, Alaska, her cargo of dynamite blew up from wholly unknown causes. The barge's crew of three Japanese and one white man were blown in atoms and the barge disappeared except for a little floating wreckage.

George Hodson, a painter, fired by jealousy, shot and killed Peter Forrester, a saloonkeeper and sport, and Marie Smith, in Forrester's apartments at Buffalo, N. Y.

After working all day damming the streets, in which ran rivers of blazing oil from the exploding tanks of an oil refinery west of the village, the citizens of Bridgeport, Ill., managed to save their homes from a fate somewhat similar to that of Pompeii. Dykes were made to cut off the flames from the residences and the damage was confined to the refinery and its vicinity. The loss will total $150,000. No lives were lost. The tanks were struck by lightning and ignited.

Ban On Hoboes.

Pasco, July 13.—Tramps are beginning to infest the Northern Pacific trains in such large numbers that the officials of the road have issued strict instructions to the conductors and trainmen to keep the wanderers from stealing rides on penalty of being summoned to appear on the carpet before the superintendent. It is said that the vagrants have been beating their way on both freight and passenger trains and that the employees of the company, in a great number of cases, have allowed the practice to continue.

Councilman Tausck Injured.

Councilman Eugene Tausck was severely, but not seriously injured in a runaway accident today, says the Walla Walla Bulletin. He and Robert Johnson were out driving when the shafts of the buggy broke, and the horse, becoming frightened, started to run. The buggy was overturned and the occupants thrown to the ground. Mr. Tausck's nose was broken, his face considerably scratched and his hand bruised. Mr. Johnson was also badly bruised.

The Condon Times has been sold by Edward Curran to M. Fitzmaurice, a real estate man of that place. The paper will continue to be published. Mr. Curran will locate in Portland.

IN MORROW COUNTY

SYSTEMATIC EXAMINATION WILLOW CREEK COAL FIELD

Will be at Once Made by an Experienced Coal Operator, to Determine Quantity and Quality of the Deposits—Field Is Distant But Twenty Miles from Heppner—A Hardman Father Allows a Daughter to be Imprisoned in County Jail.

The latest important happenings of Morrow county are compiled from the most recent issues of the Heppner-Gazette and Times:

Heppner and Morrow county people have good foundation for the hope that we will have plenty of coal for this winter's fuel.

The movement started last week to investigate the proposition of mining the Heppner coal fields and freighting the product to this city has culminated in the employment of Mr. Jones, a practical and experienced coal miner from Seattle.

Mr. Jones will be here in a few days and will go out to the Willow creek coal field where he will investigate the conditions and if deemed practicable, the work of mining will be commenced immediately and the coal will be hauled to Heppner.

From practical tests of the Willow creek coal for steam and domestic use it has been found to be the equal if not superior to any western coal.

In a test on the O. R. & N. with a heavy freight train, the coal was proven to be a great steam producer.

For domestic use this coal has been highly satisfactory, being clean, hard, high in carbon and burns well in the ordinary coal stove, leaving but little ash.

It is believed that the coal can be delivered in Heppner at $8 per ton, which is cheaper than other coals can be handled here even if it could be obtained.

The distance from Heppner to the mines is only 20 miles with an easy water grade, but it is a mountain road and needs considerable work.

Allows Daughter to Be Jailed.

On the Fourth of July Deputy Sheriff G. A. Bleakman, of Hardman, brought in James Frakes, aged 20, and his sister, Sadie Frakes, and turned them over to the custody of the sheriff to await the action of the next grand jury on a charge of larceny from a residence. Their father had a search warrant issued by Justice Bates, and had the boy and girl searched for his watch, which he had accused them of stealing. The watch was found in the suit case of the girl and the boy has confessed to the offense that he took a horseshoe nail and picked the lock of his father's trunk, taking out the watch and giving it to his sister for safe keeping. Justice Bates bound both of them over in the sum of $500 each and for lack of bondmen they are yet in the county jail.

The deputy district attorney here has communicated these facts to Judge Bean, who will be here in a few days, when the girl will probably be paroled and the boy either sent to the reform school (from which he is now on parole) or to the pen.

Case of Appendicitis.

Glen, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Young of Eight Mile, who was operated upon last week for appendicitis, is recovering rapidly. He was in a very dangerous condition when operated upon, and for a day or two his recovery was in doubt, but he is now past all danger and getting along fine.

NEW MILLINERY YSTORE.

Mrs. N. E. Harris Now in Portland for Stock to be Installed in Dusenberry Building.

Mrs. N. E. Harris of Palouse City, who has been visiting her nephew, Charles A. Hill and family for a few days, is now in Portland purchasing a large stock of millinery which will be installed in the Dusenberry building adjoining the office of the Pendleton Tribune on Main street.

Mrs. Harris is an experienced milliner and will put in new fixtures, and fit up the room to carry a large general line of millinery. She expects to open as soon as the room can be fitted up and the goods received from Portland.

Wrestling in Walla Walla.

Charles Delivuk, champion wrestler of Austria and Canada, is in the city preparing for his match with George Klingler, James Casey and Ludwig Leifson, which will take place Wednesday evening, either in the Keylor Grand theater or the Armory hall. Delivuk agrees to throw these three men in one hour, for a purse of $300. The match will be catch as catch can. Delivuk has met many of the great wrestlers of the world and has always given a good account of himself, says the Walla Walla Bulletin.
