SOME CHANGES IN CURRICULUM

COLLEGES CAN NO LONGER BE CALLED HIGH SCHOOLS

Normal Regents Will Recommend a Normal Course for the High Schools to Cover One Year—All of the Normal Colleges Will Be Continued—Believed That Normal Instruction Will Strengthen the High Schools and Yet Not Weaken the Normals.

Upon their first visit to the Weston normal school, the members of the executive committee of the normal school board passed through here today. Messrs. Hofer and Maier, the western Oregon members of the committee, arrived here this morning while Prof. Bragg, of Union county, came on train No. 1. They left for Weston on the 11:15 train and have been devoting the afternoon to an inspection of the buildings and the general conditions existing at the Eastern Oregon normal.

While here Messrs. Hofer and Maier talked very interestingly of the work the regents now have to do. The meeting recently held at Salem was the second one since the board was named by Governor Chamberlain, and today is the first time that the new regents have had an opportunity to visit the Weston school, or at least in an official capacity.

Already the regents have made some radical changes in the courses to be taught at the various normal schools, though all of the schools are to be continued as in the past. In general the changes have been made for the purpose of confining the courses more closely to normal work and to putting an end to the complaint that the normals have been serving too much as high schools for the communities in which they are located.

In addition to the changes in the normal courses the regents are now preparing a high school normal course which will be recommended to the various high schools of the state. The course will cover one year and will be such that by taking it a high school student may secure some valuable aid in the art of teaching without attending a normal school. While this move is apparently in conflict with the normal schools, Regent Hofer declares it will not prove to be such. "At present," says he, "there are many high school students who leave school and after securing a third grade certificate commence teaching school without ever attending a normal school. In many instances the students are not in a position to attend a normal school. It is this class that the proposed high school normal work will reach. If high school students intending to teach will take the course they will be better prepared to teach and the general standard of teachers throughout the state will be raised."

While the regents have no power to order normal instruction given in the high schools they will recommend such to the various school boards and it is believed that the plan will be adopted by many. In the opinion of the regents the high schools themselves will be strengthened by the addition of the course.

Not only have the farmers found the bureau a successful undertaking, but men who are looking for work in the harvest fields are able to secure positions with little difficulty, and in addition are given the benefit of free reading rooms, baggage department and other conveniences.

CARDINAL'S 73d BIRTHDAY.

Gibbons' Age Exceeded Only by Williams and Ryan.

Baltimore, Md., July 23.—A flood of telegrams and messages of congratulation were received today at the archiepiscopal residence in North Charles street, reminding the venerable Cardinal Gibbons that this was his seventy-third birthday. The felicitations came not only from all parts of the province of Baltimore, which extends from Maryland to Florida, but from clergy and laymen throughout America. By cable there were received during the day a message expressing the cardinal's numerous friends in Rome.

Cardinal Gibbons was born in this city, but received his early education in Ireland. Returning to the United States he entered St. Charles college in 1855 and later pursued his clerical studies at St. Mary's seminary in this city. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1861 and a few years later became private secretary to Archbishop Spalding and chancellor of the archdiocese. In May, 1877, he was appointed coadjutor archbishop of Baltimore and later in the same year he succeeded to the see. In 1886 he was elevated to the cardinalate. With the exception of Archbishop Williams of Boston, who is 85 years old, and Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, who is 75, Cardinal Gibbons is the oldest member of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in America.

EDDIE KINNEY KILLED.

Run Over by a Hay Rake, on a Ranch Near Heppner.

Miss Sarah Cunningham left at noon today for Heppner, where she was called on account of the accidental death of a nephew of Charles Cunningham, Eddie Kinney, aged 12 years. The boy fell from a hay rake early this morning, and was run over by the horses, from which he died almost instantly. He lived with his mother 12 miles from Heppner, and is quite well known in Pendleton, having attended St. Joseph's academy here during the past two terms. He will be buried at Heppner.

Must Give Bond for Insurance.

The widow of the late "Rev." Homer M. Street, who was blown up by dynamite in Crook county some months ago, has received a check for $4000 for her husband's life insurance, but as there is some doubt on the part of the officials that Street is dead, she was required to deposit a surety bond for $8000 of five years' duration before the money was delivered to her. The body of Street has never been recovered, having been blown into Matoles creek, near their home, it is alleged.

Finished Summer Run at Sawmill.

J. A. McLaughlin, the well known sawmill man of Gurdane, was in the city today after a load of harvest supplies. He has just finished a summer run with his sawmill at Gurdane in which he cut 75,000 feet of excellent lumber. He will perhaps make another run some time during the fall. The market for lumber is very good now. People go to his mill for the output now, instead of requiring him to haul the lumber to them as formerly. Very little of the lumber sawed in the recent run will be hauled to Pendleton.

Victim of Accident May Recover.

William Stephens, who was accidentally shot in the head by Policeman Griff Roberts in Portland Saturday night, will perhaps recover, although all first reports said he was fatally injured. The bullet entered the back of his head and ranged around inside of the skull, lodging somewhere in the side of his head, where it remains. He has left the hospital and is now with relatives in Salem.

BLEW OUT HIS BRAINS.

In Office of His Employer When Shortage Was Found.

Sioux City, Ia., July 23.—George Burkey, a salesman, when confronted with the proof of a shortage in his accounts, blew out his brains in the office of his employer. He was a prominent member of the First Christian church.

An unknown man, well dressed, but evidently beating his way, fell from a freight train near Kiona, Wash., was run over and instantly killed.

Was Miss Carpenter Lost?

In the list of passengers on board the ill-fated steamer Columbia appears the name of Miss Clara Carpenter, and the fact leads many local people to believe that Miss Carpenter, principal of the East End school during the past year, was among the dead. But apparently the wreck victim is another young lady of an identical name, for the former Pendleton teacher is now visiting with friends in northern Alberta, according to those who heard from her last. However, it may prove that she was a Columbia passenger. When she left this city after resigning her position to accept one in the schools at Helena, she was intending to spend the summer visiting relatives in Nova Scotia, but may have changed her mind.

JUDGE ARTMAN PASSES.

Famous Indiana Judge Whose Liquor Decision Is a National Issue in Pendleton a Few Minutes.

Judge Samuel R. Artman, of Lebanon, Ind., whose famous decision that all liquor business is unconstitutional because it incites riot, murder, disorder and other crimes, passed through Pendleton last evening on O. R. & N. train No. 2, on his way to Boise City, where he lectures tonight.

He is now on a lecturing tour of the west and spoke in Portland on Sunday evening. He has 36 lecture dates ahead and goes from Boise to Salt Lake and on to the east.

Since his famous decision was rendered last February he has been a foremost figure in the nation and the demand for his lectures has been so great that he has been forced to deny many places.

He is a native of Indiana, 41 years of age and is the first judge in the United States to declare from the bench that all liquor traffic is unconstitutional because of the crimes it causes.

An effort had been made to have Judge Artman give one lecture in Pendleton as he had a vacant date last night, but the matter was not taken up in time to be carried out successfully.

COLUMBIA DISASTER.

that it will be my end," said Captain Doran to the dock agent. "I will never be among the survivors unless every passenger is saved."

Many of the officers and crew, according to a dispatch from Eureka, were landed by the steamer George W. Elder, and it is put down for certain that Captain Doran practically committed suicide, by remaining at his post of duty on the bridge while the steamer swiftly settled into the sea. He could undoubtedly have leaped into one of the boats and saved his life had he not clung so tenaciously to the belief that every true master will see his passengers safe or perish with the doomed ones.

Captain Doran was not only a careful navigator, but was so well posted on the coast line that he could tell his exact position anywhere between this city and San Francisco in the densest fog or severest storm without the use of any instruments or leads. The sound of the revolving propeller told him the depth of the water and a light mist on the glass invisible to the untrained eye, would warn him of the approach of a storm many hours in advance. He was the commodore of the Pacific coast passenger steamers and had a kind word for everybody.

INSANE MAN AT ECHO.

Resisted the Local Officers—Will Be Brought Here by Blakley.

Word was received at the sheriff's office this afternoon from Echo to the effect that a violently insane man had just been arrested a short distance below that place. He was found on the railroad track west of Echo and when the marshal attempted to arrest him he offered considerable resistance, but was finally overpowered.

Deputy Joe Blakley is now on his way home from Ione with Mahland Brock in custody, and he will also bring the insane man up from Echo.

Petition for Pardon Grover Martin.

Lamar Martin, father of Grover Martin, under a 10-year sentence to the penitentiary for the killing of old man Preston near Milton, has been here today and is circulating a petition asking for the pardon of his son. The paper is signed by many of the best people of Milton and the parents of the boy are in hopes of securing his freedom. He has been in the penitentiary about a year and a half.

FORTUNE IN SMALL TRACTS.

Record of One Man's Savings Near Portland.

The Oregon Agriculturist says of a small farmer's record near Portland: H. A. Lewis, the Russellville nurseryman, has a little orchard of Royal Ann cherries, 25 in number, which were planted 19 years ago. The trees were set 20 feet apart, which is too close. Mr. Lewis believes in pruning a cherry tree and his trees have never shown ill results from pruning, but on the contrary have always been remarkably healthy.

By pruning he has developed low-topped and spreading trees, which give the sun a chance at a large portion of the foliage and fruit. Two of the trees this year yielded 1125 pounds of cherries and the crop from the 25 trees was 5,500 pounds. The best of it about these trees is that they have borne regularly since they were old enough although the crop this year was larger than ever before. The crop last year was 4000 pounds.

The trees stand in a block and not in a single row, so that their yield must be considered on the basis of a solid orchard rather than that of trees standing alone or in rows with wide spaces on each side. Mr. Lewis has great faith in the cherry as a profitable crop if it is planted on the right kind of land.

The way these trees were planted makes them occupy but little over a quarter of an acre; possibly not that much. If he received 5 cents a pound for the product, then the proceeds from those two trees were over $56 and for the 25 trees $275.

Surely, that small piece of land is yielding large and profitable returns. Suppose that the space necessary for that amount of trees was just double, even then the return would be very satisfactory. What Mr. Lewis has done others should be doing, as there is a demand for the fruit.

AUTOMOBILE ENDURANCE TEST.

Fifty Touring Cars Will Traverse Willamette Valley Next Sunday.

Salem, "The Cherry City," is on the itinerary of the big automobile endurance 132-mile run to be made from Portland and return by way of Salem and McMinnville next Sunday, says the Salem Statesman. About fifty touring cars will make the eventful run which will be the initial test of a series of journeys to be undertaken under the auspices of the Automobile Dealers' association and the Portland Automobile club, two motorists' organizations of the metropolis.

The machines will leave Portland at 8 a. m. Sunday morning and are expected to arrive here at 11 o'clock where the party will have dinner. From Salem the party will go to McMinnville and will return to Portland by way of Newberg.

This is not a speed test but an endurance tryout as no machine will be allowed to exceed a speed of twenty miles per hour nor to stop its motor at any time between Portland and Salem except in cases where horses of passing teams appear to be frightened beyond control. In all other cases the motorists will slak up as they pass teams but the motor must not be "killed" during the journey to Salem.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
