GOOD SPEAKERS FOR THE FAIR

SPECIAL INVITATIONS "FOR EDUCATIONAL DAY"

Congressman Willis B. Hawley, B. F. Mulkey of Ashland Normal, Mrs. Millie E. Trumbull of Portland, Judge William Smith of Baker City and Mrs. Eva Emery Dye, invited to Deliver Addresses on Educational Topics on "Education Day," September 27, at District Fair.

If "Educational Day" at the district fair, September 27, is not an unqualified success it will not be the fault of the able and active committee which has the program in charge. The committee met last evening and decided to invite, in addition to the state officials already invited by the fair commission, a number of prominent educators and educational leaders and thinkers of the state.

Special invitations have been sent out today to a list of five leading educational workers of the state as follows: Congressman Willis B. Hawley of the first congressional district, who was formerly president of Willamette university and who is an active and progressive educator; B. F. Mulkey, president of Ashland normal school, one of the leading teachers and educational workers of southern Oregon; Mrs. Millie E. Trumbull of Portland, a prominent educator and juvenile reformer; Judge William Smith of Baker city, formerly principal of Leighton academy of Cove and one of the best speakers and thinkers in eastern Oregon; and Mrs. Eva Emery Dye, Oregon's favorite and leading woman author, and educator, author of "McLoughlin and Old Oregon," "The Conquest," "McDonald of Oregon" and other popular western histories and romances.

All of these people are prominent in their spheres of work and the committee has exercised excellent judgment in sending its special invitation, with a view to securing a variety of literary ability and educational activity for its special day at the fair.

These speakers should attract a large attendance on that day, which will be made one of the leading days of the fair. Aside from the prominent speakers there will be parades and free admission of all the school children of the city and also of the reservation schools.

Coming for Irrigation Day.
This morning Secretary Fitz Gerald of the fair commission, received word from C. W. Mallett of Ontario, stating that he will attend the fair on irrigation day if possible for him to be here. Mr. Mallett is one of the leaders in the irrigation work now under way in Malheur county and he has just returned from attending the national irrigation congress at Sacramento.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 5c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00. A. C. Koepfen & Bros.

K. OF P. ENTERTAINMENT.

Newton Beers, Dramatic Impersonator, Coming Here Soon.

Newton Beers, famous impersonator, will be in this city and will give an evening's entertainment under the auspices of Damon lodge No. 4, Knights of Pythias.

He will characterize in monologue Banim's immortal fraternal drama, "Damon and Pythias." Arrangements for the presentation of the entertainment were made here last evening between the members of the lodge and Frank Lee Miles, business manager for Mr. Beers.

As a dramatic entertainer Newton Beers is declared to be a master of the art and if half the testimonials tendered him by famous men are to be relied upon, his recital will be something that should not be missed.

As the theater will not be open one of the local churches will be secured for the entertainment.

May Locate in Pendleton.

Dr. J. C. M. Luttenberger of St. Louis, is in the city for a few days a guest of Rev. Lee Ferguson of the First Christian church, and may decide to locate here permanently. Dr. Luttenberger is one of the leading physicians of St. Louis, having practiced his profession there for many years, but is desirous of coming to the west. He has long resided in the famous 28th ward of St. Louis, which turned the election for governor to Joseph Folk. He is a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity and is a cordial and capable gentleman and is pleased with the appearance of this city.

Seeks Wallowa County Traffic.

Geo. D. O'Connor, traveling freight agent for the Northern Pacific with headquarters at Walla Walla, was in the city today looking about for shipments that could be sent over his road, says the Baker City Herald. Mr. O'Connor and Judge Curry, who will act as his legal advisor, will leave tonight for Wallowa county where they will interview the ranchers in an endeavor to have them ship their grain over the Northern Pacific.

Will Finish Medical Course.

Eldred B. Waffle, who has been the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Waffle, during the summer vacation, left last night for Portland where he will enter Portland Medical college to finish his course this year. He will graduate from that institution next spring and expects to enter St. Vincent's hospital as house physician after graduation. He has been in the college for the past four years.

Hinkle and Hill at Mt. Vernon.

A card from Dave Hill says that himself and J. T. Hinkle of this city have been visiting Washington's old home at Mt. Vernon the past few days. They expect to return to Pendleton soon. Hinkle was defeated for re-election as grand chaplain of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, which position he has held for two years. The grand aerial session has just closed at Jamestown.

Bought Eight Hearse Horses.

C. B. Mellinger an undertaker of Tacoma, who has been in this vicinity for the past 10 days, shipped out eight head of well mated, well broken driving horse last evening over the Northern Pacific. The horses will be used on hearses in Tacoma and were valued at about $400 per span. They were purchased from different people in Umatilla county and were a fine lot of animals.

Bishop Scadding Tells of Oregon.

Bishop Charles Scadding of the Episcopal diocese of Oregon, who is now visiting in the east, preached at Grace church, Chicago, on September 8 on the subject, "Opportunities in Oregon." There was a large attendance and the graphic information about Oregon was highly appreciated. The lecture was accompanied by stereoptican views of Oregon scenes and was a living advertisement of Oregon resources.

Friend of Dr. C. J. Smith.

J. D. Miller of Tacoma, an old-time friend and schoolmate of Dr. C. J. Smith, has been visiting with the latter today while en route to La Grande. The two men lived as neighbors during their boyhood days in Ohio. Mr. Miller left the Buckeye state to locate in Tacoma a short time before Dr. Smith came to Pendleton. He is now a member of the firm of J. B. Stevens & Co., dealers in grain and hay.

IS NO EPIDEMIC

MENINGITIS PREVALENT HERE NOT INFECTIOUS.

Local Situation Need Cause No Alarm—Two Widely Different Forms of the Disease Discussed by Local Physician—Milder and Less Dangerous Form Has Been Present Here.

That Pendleton is in no danger of an epidemic of meningitis is declared by physicians of the city. According to Dr. W. G. Cole the three local cases from which deaths but recently occurred were all cases of tubercular meningitis which is a form that is not regarded as epidemic.

There is a wide difference between the two forms. The principal points of variance are that the regular meningitis comes quickly, the patient breaks out, thus causing the disease to be often known as spotted fever, while the tubercular form is a lingering ailment and the patient does not break out.

Upon the subject of the regular cerebro-spinal meningitis Dr. Daniel E. Hughes in his medical work says: "The common form begins abruptly with a chill, excruciating headache, persistent nausea, vomiting, vertigo and an overwhelming sense of weakness. Within a few hours the muscles of the back become rigid and retract with decided pain upon moving the head. There is great restlessness and the surface of the body becomes highly sensitive, cramps in the muscles of the legs and elsewhere and spasmodic twitchings of the lips and eyelids come and go, finally convulsions or delirium occur. From the first day to the fifth an eruption of petechiae or purpura occurs in the majority of cases and also an hepetic eruption appears. The disease reaches its height in from three to eight days. "Tubercular meningitis is not epidemic, has no characteristic eruption, is preceded by long prodromes and runs a tedious course. It is usually a secondary disease."

That the two recent cases of meningitis were plainly tubercular meningitis is stated by Dr. Cole. In both cases the trouble followed attacks of the measles and the illness was lingering.

Last spring much alarm was caused in different portions of western Oregon and Washington over the prevalence of an epidemic of meningitis and the recent deaths here have caused some uneasiness. But as the trouble is declared not infectious there is apparently no need for alarm.

SKETCH OF STEPTOE FIGHT.

Idaho Pioneer Reviews the Famous Indian Fight.

The Lewiston Tribune publishes the following interesting article on the Steptoe Indian fight and other historical subjects of the inland empire: "Julietta, Sept. 16.—(To the Tribune.)—Being an old-timer, I want to correct something I saw in the Morning Tribune of September 5, under the head of the "Great Pageant—the Survivors of the Steptoe Butte Massacre." I am one of the survivors, and will state there was no massacre. It was a battle and we killed and wounded a great many more of the Indians than they did of us, and furthermore we were not near the said butte.

In proceeding on our expedition north our trail led us about four miles east of the butte and on our retreat from the battle ground we passed the butte about the same distance west. It was called Pyramid Butte before the Steptoe battle and the name was changed after.

In regard to the first steamer to reach Lewiston, it was the Colored Wright and not the Okanogan. The latter boat did not ascend the Snake river till 1882.

The Colonel Wright was the first steamer built above The Dalles, and on the evening of the third day of May, 1861, entered the mouth of the Clearwater and proceeded as far as the Nez Perce agency at the mouth of the Lapwal, where she tied up for the night.

The next day, May 4, Mr. A. J. Cain, the agent; John Silcott, myself and several others went aboard and started up the river. Our late townsman, S. S. Slater, was one of the passengers, and had a quantity of goods aboard for the mines. We found the rapid so strong above the Big Eddy that we had to put out a cable and it parted and we drifted down into the eddy.

Captain Len White was in command of the steamer, and our veteran steamboat captain, E. W. Baughman, was mate. Captain White concluded to go back so we went down to the mouth of the Bedrock creek and discharged the freight, which consisted of Slater's goods. Our late townsman, Lot Wigglin, was with Slater as clerk. There was no town started until the Wright's second trip. This is a matter of history and we want it correct. Yours, THOS. BEALL.

WOOD FAMINE IN GRANT.

Difficulty of Securing Timber From Reserves is Annoying.

There is every indication that there will be a wood famine in the towns of northern Grant, situated, as we are, in the timber and the national forest, says the Monument Enterprise. There is particular danger to the residents of Long creek who can not wield an ax, because there is no wood for sale nor any one to cut it.

There has been several inquiries the past week concerning the method of procedure to obtain the right to cut fire wood from the national forest. There is considerable amount of red tape to be spun before this privilege can be secured.

If the government is as slow in attending to the settler's application for fire wood as it is in attending to his other applications and if the people all wait until the cold weather to make application there is danger that
