ACCEPTS BANK POSITION.

Clark Nelson Will Take Place of Harry C. Thompson.

Clark Nelson has accepted a position in the Pendleton Savings bank made vacant through the resignation of Harry C. Thompson. He will commence upon his duties October 1, at which time Mr. Thompson will leave the bank to become connected with the Wilcox Implement company.

It is understood that Arthur E. Lambert will be promoted to the position of exchange teller, now held by Mr. Thompson, and that Mr. Nelson will take Lambert's present position as bookkeeper.

EMBEZZLER FREED.

On Account of Good Behavior, From United States Prison.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 21.—Hallam Sims, the young Atlanta embezzler whose speculations in 1903 caused the suspension of the Capitol City bank, will be released from the United States prison tomorrow on account of good behavior.

He was under a six year sentence. Sims traveled in the best of southern society and his connections came to the rescue of the bank which paid back dollar for dollar.

Changes of Salesmen.

Several changes of interest have just taken place among the furnishing goods men of the city and it is understood that still more are to follow. A. W. Bennett, until recently salesman for Max Baer, commenced work today as a salesman at The Peoples Warehouse. He will take the position just vacated by George Gill, who has been there for several weeks, but has resigned to go east.

Wood Paslay, now at Alexander's store, has accepted Mr. Bennett's old position at Max Baer's and will probably commence there the first of October.

If you see it in the East Oregonian, it's so.

BRYAN'S MIDNIGHT SPEECHES.

Great Commoner Twice Greeted by Pocatello People in "the Small Hours."

Through a coincidence in taking trains, William Jennings Bryan, the great commoner, will again deliver an early morning address to the citizens of Pocatello and the surrounding country.

The last address delivered by Bryan in Pocatello was 10 years ago when Bryan was returning from a trip to the west after his defeat in the campaign for the presidency in 1896. It was at 3 o'clock in the morning. The arrangements for hearing Bryan and tendering him a reception at that time were quickly made by the citizens of Pocatello and the surrounding country when it was ascertained that he would arrive in Pocatello shortly after midnight.

Upon the arrival of the train, Mr. Bryan arose from his berth, slipped on his clothes over his nightshirt and proceeded to the platform which had been hastily constructed in the center of the city. There he addressed a large gathering on the issues of the day, for an hour, after which he mounted the platform of his Pullman and received several thousand citizens of Idaho at 4 o'clock in the morning.

A telephone message from Senator Dubois last evening conveyed the information that Mr. and Mrs. Bryan would leave Blue Lakes Friday afternoon for Twin Falls, where he would deliver an address before taking the evening train for the east and thence home. Under that arrangement Mr. Bryan will arrive in Pocatello about midnight Friday night and deliver his second address to the citizens of that vicinity.

Fair at La Grande.

The First Eastern Oregon Agricultural district will hold a fair at La Grande from October 2 to 5 and every preparation is now being made for a successful event. The immense crops in Union and Wallowa counties and the general prosperity of the people insures a good fair at La Grande, as well as at Pendleton. It is hoped that an interchange of courtesies can be made with La Grande and that people from the two big eastern Oregon districts may visit each other's fairs and become better acquainted.

Emma Goldman, who is returning from the anarchists' congress at Amsterdam, will not be allowed to land at New York, because she is an avowed anarchist. The immigration officials will order her deported to Russia.

Charles L. Beagle, manager of the Michigan Carriage company at Los Angeles, was arrested there on a charge of grand larceny. Beagle is accused of having appropriated $5000 of the company's funds.

RACING FOR WHEAT CROP.

North Bank Track Layers Hurrying to Reach The Dalles.

Tracklaying on the north bank road has reached a point 18 1/2 miles east of The Dalles and is being pushed as rapidly as possible. Two miles of track is laid in a day. Construction trains follow the tracklayers and the road is ballasted and put in shape for the rolling stock very rapidly.

The object, apparently, is to reach The Dalles in time to use the open river for the purpose of moving the immense crop of grain that is being harvested in the inland empire. There is some grading to be done opposite this point, but it is safe to state that within the next month north bank trains will be hauling grain and loading it on boats at The Dalles.

It has been surmised on good authority that a free ferry will eventually be established between The Dalles and Washington, and that steamboats, in the employ of the Northern Pacific, will be transporting goods to and from The Dalles. Farmers may be induced by cheaper rates to tidewater to haul their grain to this city and ship it on these boats.

GIFT TO REV. COMPTON.

Conference at Walla Walla Pays Tribute to First Washington Minister.

An un-asked-for contribution of $50.75 was given this morning to Rev. J. W. Compton of Milton, and secretary of the conference of the M. E. church, south, in session this week in this city, says the Walla Walla Bulletin. Rev. Mr. Compton is an old man, and bears the distinction of being the first Methodist minister of his church in the state of Washington. When he first came to the state he resided in Spokane, or where Spokane now stands, and owned a large tract of land which the suburbs of the city now cover. During the hard times of 1893 he lost all of this land, which is worth at the present time between $150,000 and $200,000.

He made an address at the meeting this morning, giving a history of his past life. The donation was made at the close of his address, and was unlooked-for on his part.

The morning was taken up by the address and by reports of several pastors. This afternoon there is no meeting, but the reports of different committees are being made.

Dr. W. E. Vaughn, editor of the Pacific Methodist Advocate at San Francisco, will preach this evening. A memorial service will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in memory of the late Rev. M. V. Howard, who died several weeks ago in Milton.

Rebekah Social at Echo.

The members of the Rebekah lodge at Echo will hold a social session this evening, to which the Odd Fellows and their friends will be invited. This is in honor of the anniversary of the Rebekah lodge, and it promises to be a very enjoyable affair. The evening's entertainment will close with a ball.

Separator Burned.

Information was received here last Saturday that Peter Brenner had lost his separator by fire while engaged in threshing at his Eight Mile ranch the day before. Beside the separator about 600 or 700 sacks of grain were consumed by the flames, the total loss being estimated at about $2000.
