PECULIAR DRESS AND MANNERS NOTICEABLE.

Only Greek Woman in All the Gangs of Far Easterners Who Have Worked About Pendleton—Accompanies Men to Saloons But Don't Drink—Is Sixty Years of Age and Has Two Sons Here.

A Greek woman, mother of two boys of a large gang of Greek laborers now in the city, has attracted much attention on the streets today by accompanying the gang to different saloons where the men took occasional drinks.

The woman is past middle age and is dressed in the garb of her country, wrapped in a heavy shawl with a kerchief over her head, wearing low shoes and coarse calico dress.

Although she did not drink at any of the places visited by the gang, yet she accompanied them everywhere and stood by while the men drank. When on the street the woman walked in the street instead of on the sidewalks with the men and otherwise attracted much attention.

So far as known this is the only Greek woman with any of the gangs of laborers. She has been with the gang in which her two sons work.

Commercial National Bank
Organized, developed and conducted on the principle of conservative banking along progressive lines, the COMMERCIAL NATIONAL BANK has preserved its individuality intact during a period of both good and "panicky" times, and by strictly business methods has gained each day in strength, in scope and in the confidence of the public. Governed by the same principle, and entertaining a reciprocal confidence in a public which recognizes the right relationship between service and recompense, this NATIONAL BANK expects to continue to grow both in its capacity and its opportunity to serve, and to that end invites the patronage to which it believes it has proved itself entitled.

amination in this city, was married last week in Long Creek to Louis Gilliland, the well known young rancher of Pilot Rock, and son of Judge and Mrs. T. P. Gilliland of this city.

They will reside on the Gilliland farm two miles from Pilot Rock.

Three years ago while Miss Andrus was teaching public school at Dale, she rode on horseback to this city to take the examination in mid-winter that she might secure a certificate and continue her teaching. Her long ride over snow covered roads at that time was considered remarkable and stands unique among the achievements of Umatilla county teachers, perhaps.

COMMITTEES NAMED.

Churches Make Preparations for Big Revival Meeting.

To arrange the details for the monster union evangelistic meetings to be held here soon, the executive committee, composed of the five ministers whose churches will participate, has held two sessions today. The churches joining in the movement are the Methodist, both M. E. and south, the Presbyterian, Congregational and Baptists.

On January 22 the evangelical meetings will be started and they will be held in the new Methodist church, with Rev. G. R. Haundenschield as the evangelist.

Aside from appointing sub-committees to look after the various features of the revival, the executive committee has also arranged for a series of prayer meetings to commence next week. These will be held in the different homes throughout the city and during next week a total of 69 meetings will be held. The meetings are to be held as a preliminary to the great evangelical movement that will be on a little later.

- Discussing the Market Days.
- At 4 o'clock this afternoon a meeting of the business men of the city is to be held in the Commercial association rooms to further discuss the proposition of having market days in the city. Messrs. Irish, Gillin and Small, the three promoters of the scheme, will be present and it is expected that some definite action will be taken by the merchants.

PENDLETON MEN ON STEEL'S BOND

LOCAL FRIENDS HELP STATE TREASURER

Big Bond Is Filed Representing $635,000 with the Governor, of Which $25,000 Is Guaranteed by Pendletonians — Almost Every County in State Is Represented—J. P. Rogers of Salem, Is Heaviest Security — Governor Chamberlain Not Fully Satisfied.

Four Pendleton citizens have signed the new bonds of State Treasurer Steele to the amount of $25,000, the individual bonds secured in this city being as follows: Colonel James H. Raley, $10,000; W. J. Furnish, $5000; Montie B. Gwinn, $5000, and E. L. Smith, $5000.

The total bonds submitted by Steele to the governor on Saturday morning amounted to $635,000, and the matter of investigating the personal responsibility of the individual bondsmen is now in progress. Almost every county in the state is represented on State Treasurer Steele's new bond, Marion county being the heaviest security, that county alone furnishing $157,500 of the new bond. J. P. Rogers of Salem, is the heaviest individual bondsman, he having signed for $50,000. W. I. Vawter of Jackson, was next highest with $35,000.

The Oregonian says of the matter of the new bond of the state treasurer:

Governor Chamberlain yesterday began an investigation of the qualifications of the 92 sureties who furnished the new bond of $600,000 for State Treasurer Steele. This investigation will require several days, and in making it the governor will be assisted probably by some mercantile agency. If the sufficiency of the bond is questioned by the governor, Mr. Steele will be given additional time to get other sureties.

Although only $600,000 bonds were required, Mr. Steele has filed sureties for a total of $635,000, and, has announced that he is in a position to furnish bonds to the amount of $95,000 if necessary.

"I have been inquiring into the sufficiency of the treasurer's new bond," said Governor Chamberlain yesterday. "There are some of the bondsmen with whom I am not satisfied, and if the aggregate of the bonds supplied by them exceeds $35,000, or the excess in the required amount of the bond that has been filed, I will call on Mr. Steele to provide for the deficiency until the state is protected by a bond that may be considered entirely good and in the aggregate amounting to not less than $600,000."

"When I have had time to complete checking over the list of the 92 bondsmen, I shall notify the principal of such individuals with whom I am not satisfied, without publicly announcing their names, and ask that the difference between the total of the approved sureties and the amount of the bond I have required, $600,000, has been provided. When that has been done, I shall approve the bond. It will probably take 10 days to check over the various individual bonds and pass on the financial standing and rating of the different bondsmen."

SOUTHERN OREGON TRAGEDY

One Man Killed and Two Wounded in Gun Fight.

A special from Jacksonville, Oregon, says of a terrible ranch tragedy which occurred near there Saturday night:

One man dead and two seriously wounded is the result of a duel fought with shotguns and Winchester rifles at the Mankin ranch, two miles of this city, this evening. The dead man is James Mankin, a prosperous and respected rancher. The two wounded men are C. H. Walsworth and the 19-year-old son, N. W. Walsworth.

The trouble arose over an attempt by Mankin to eject Walsworth and family from a house on the Mankin ranch. James Mankin, the dead man, and the senior Walsworth fought with clubs and pitchforks for nearly an hour, when suddenly Walsworth turned and ran into the house and secured a rifle and began shooting at Mankin.

"The Captain's Mate."
"The Captain's Mate," a nautical play presented for the first time by the Streeter-Bryan company at the Oregon last night, pleased a large audience. The scenic effects were especially good and the play is attractive in every way. Streeter as Captain Sidney Penfield and Miss Bryan as Maggie Chester, the captain's mate, sustained their already excellent reputations, while they received good support from the company.

As promised by Streeter Saturday night, in a curtain talk during the performance of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," the ship and ocean scene in "The Captain's Mate" was spectacular in the extreme and was highly appreciated. "The Captain's Mate" will be presented tonight and Tuesday evening and on Wednesday evening and Wednesday matinee. "The diamond Mystery" will be presented. The new year matinee on Wednesday afternoon promise to be a special event. The admission will be 25 cents to the matinee, all through.

It promises to be well attended as a number of special parties are being arranged.

Interesting New Pictures.
The Dime has been drawing great crowds of people the past week. With the change of program yesterday several new pictures were shown, among them being "The Slave," a scene in the south, "Cohen's Fire Sale" and others which were very attractive. An entire set of new pictures and songs will be shown this week.

Change at Star.
There was an entire change of program at the Star last night, and there will be a new lot of people here during the next week. Two performances are given in one evening, and the people in the different vaudeville sketches are very good as are also the moving pictures and songs, which are new with every change of program.
