AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Lewiston M. E. Church Sued.

The trial of the case of M. A. Means vs. the First Methodist church of Lewiston was commenced yesterday in the district court, says the Lewiston Tribune. This is an action in which the plaintiff, on an assigned claim from Contractor Louis Dubray, seeks to recover the sum of $5,926.91 as a balance due on contract work on the new Methodist church building on Normal hill.

The complaint alleges that due to the failure of the church to make payments for the work, the contractor was required to drop the contract. His statement of the status of the contract was as follows: Contract price, $18,500; extra work, $1,099.93; estimate of amount necessary to complete contract, $1500; amount due, $5,926.91.

In answer the cross complaint of the church cites that the trustees hold the note of Dubray for $1000; that the church is entitled to a penalty of $20 a day for 120 days for failure to complete the contract within the time specified, this item amounting to $2400; that the church is entitled to a penalty of $20 a day for 120 days for failure to complete the contract within the time specified, this amounting to $2400; that the church is entitled to an additional penalty of $600 representing thirty days' time necessary to complete the work and that the amount of cash paid on the contract is $12,181.

These figures show a total of $19,797.33 and the church asks for judgment for the difference between this amount and $18,500, the contract price, or $1,297.33.

Wedding Out Bad Saloons.

The city council surprised many at the meeting last night by refusing to grant Tom Baldwin, the proprietor of the Idle Hour saloon, a liquor license for him to continue his business, says the Baker City Herald. It developed that his license has expired and he will have to close at once. Baldwin's action in beating a drunken man in his saloon and his arrest on the charge of gambling were considered sufficient reasons for refusing the license. The vote of the council was a tie, Mayor Johns casting the deciding vote.

DOUKHOBORS ARE LOW AS ANIMALS

FREE LOVE, IMMORALITY AND IGNORANCE RULE.

Men and Women Live in Common Without Regard to Laws of Marriage—Young Girls Are Forced Into Communal Wedded Life Against Their Will and Against Nature.

Toronto, Ont., April 8.—An exhaustive investigation of the mode of life of the Doukhobors, the Russian religious fanatics who have settled in Canada, has been undertaken and some sensational developments are expected.

It is alleged that the members of the various Doukhobor colonies practice free love, dozens of men and women living together in the same room, and that young girls are forced at a tender age to adopt the communal ideals of marriage.

It is stated that very few parents attempt to care for their own children, but turn them over to the community to be provided for from the common fund.

Some of the Doukhobors refuse to bury their dead, believing that the soul of the deceased would be unable to escape from the grave. Corpses are taken to secluded spots and left to serve as food for the wolves. Physicians are not allowed to treat their sick, the leaders declaring that Jesus is with them all the time and that no human power could serve to avert the fate of one who is "called."

At Fort William, Ont., the members of an investigating commission visited a Doukhobor dwelling, which, in their opinion, was large enough for possibly 18 people at the most, but there they found 76 men, woman and children, ranging in age from 15 to 60 years, lying about the small rooms, nude and uncovered, without the slightest regard for decency or common morality.

The committee found that these people practice free love, marriage being unknown to them. The children born from these promiscuous unions are cared for out of the common fund.

In this way girls grow up and become lost to their own parents at an early age, becoming the free wives of the rest of the community. Such conditions were found to exist that steps were at once taken to disband the commune, and investigations are being made to determine whether similar conditions exist throughout the Doukhobor villages in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

and is considered one of the prize properties of that district, having a record for cup-winning fruit crops and being located just a short distance out of the city limits.

The purchasers of this orchard property were Roland W. Stebbins, H. Morton Holbrooks and the firm of MacRae & Angus. The consideration was approximately $1000 per acre. This figure is considered low in view of the fact that there is at least $10,000 worth of fruit now in sight for this season's crop. The former owner, Mr. Marshall, sold 14 acres of young trees off this tract last fall for $1250 per acre.

It Pays to Imitate Pendleton.

Caldwell's market day was the greatest success of the season, notwithstanding the wind and rain which continued almost throughout the day, says a Caldwell item. Early in the morning teams began to arrive and before noon the streets were crowded with teams and people. Almost every farmer brought in something to sell, and every conceivable article imaginable from household and cooking utensils to farm implements, horses, cattle, sheep, poultry and hogs, were put on the market.

The number of cattle and horses far exceeded any market day previous. Several teams and wagons were sold at a very good figure. Some of the poultry, such as thoroughbred Plymouth Rocks and Rhode Island Reds, were sold for $3 and $9 per dozen. Old vehicles, such as buggies and wagons, sold all the way from $10 to $50.

The amount of business transacted was estimated at about $4000. Dickens and Tobliss were the auctioneers and they were certainly busy men all day. Market day at Caldwell would remind one of a Fourth of July celebration. People were in the city from all the adjacent towns and country and it looks as though market day at Caldwell has come to stay.

OREGON HAS PLENTY OF CASH.

State School Fund Loans Now Exceed $4,000,000.

A Salem paper says of the quarterly report of State Treasurer Steele for the quarter ending March 31:

In the report of State Treasurer Steele for the quarter ending April 1, some interesting figures are given. For instance, it is stated that on the state tax of 1908 there has already been received $104,362.50. The state tax is not due until May 1 and is not delinquent until June 1.

The first mortgage loans in the irreducible school fund for the first time exceeds the four million mark, the exact figures being $4,035,270.51. The report shows a balance on hand in the fund for current expenses, on March 31, 1908, of $153,999.94.

Mr. S. L. Bowen of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not get out of bed, and when I did I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Cure. One bottle and part of the second cured me entirely." Foley's Kidney Cure works wonders where others are total failure. Pendleton Drug Co.

Rich Strike at Cornucopia.

Late Saturday night news was received from the Cornucopia camp that another rich strike had been made, this time in the Jim Fisk mine and later reports confirmed the story, says the Baker City Democrat. The strike is a five-foot ledge of extremely rich ore—gold showing all through and over the rock. The Jim Fisk location is owned by P. W. Gallagher of this city, and Hugh Curren of Cornucopia. The property is under bond to the Stampede Mining company, of which H. L. Ross is manager.
