Umatilla Ranch

ITS EARLY HISTORY.

Umatilla Ranch was formerly known as the G. W. Hunt ranch. Mr. Hunt first saw this land when freighting between Umatilla and Boise City, in 1862. He was attracted by the fact that the Indians always made this their winter quarters, owing to the mild climate and luxurious growth of grass for their ponies.

It was the dream of his life to some day own this beautiful tract and years afterward, after he had traversed the entire coast, freighted over the inter-mountain country and built railroads, he returned and bought the land for the purpose of converting it into a home ranch.

About two years ago Mr. Hunt sold the entire 2500 acres to the Umatilla Ranch Co., of which company Mr. W. H. Daughtrey is manager, and who are the present owners.

THIS entire tract of land is fenced and in cultivation. IT HAS GONE THROUGH THE "STARVATION PROCESS" and is now producing fine crops of PEACHES, PEARS, APPLES, STRAWBERRIES and VEGETABLES OF ALL KINDS yearly. Umatilla Ranch raised 2,000 tons of Alfalfa in 1907. If purchased for a home it will be self supporting the first year and as to climate--THE INDIANS WHO ROVED THE NORTH-WEST in the EARLY DAYS, CHOSE THIS LAND FOR THEIR WINTER QUARTERS.

As Good Fruit and Vegetable Soil as the Yakima Country,
That Sells for $1000 to $2000 per Acre, and the Climate is Better. Strawberries 2 Weeks
Earlier Than Hood River.

THE Umatilla Ranch Company has found it to be altogether too large an undertaking for them to farm this vast tract of land and are therefore offering it in small farms of from 10 to 40 acres each, all in cultivation, at the unreasonable low price of $100 to $150 per acre. IF BOUGHT FOR AN INVESTMENT, IT WILL DOUBLE IN VALUE IN THE NEXT FEW YEARS.
