

AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Stock Ranch Brings $40,000.

The J. E. Schoeller Real Estate agency today closed one of the biggest ranch sales ever made in Ada county, selling from George L. Cole to Norman W. Thompson of the Palo Alto Stock company, for $40,000, 321 acres of finely improved land situated in the famous Ten-Mile bottom and located 10 miles from this city, says the Boise Capital News.

This ranch, which is already known throughout the country as one of the best in the Boise valley, is improved with a fine house, a commodious stable and other necessary buildings, and is in a high state of cultivation, every acre being under ditch, while the water right is the very best, consisting of 100 shares each in the New York and Idaho & Iowa canals.

The deal also included all the crops, consisting of 95 acres in oats, 40 acres in wheat, and the balance in meadows and plowed land, together with a large number of modern farm implements, work horses, cattle, brood mares, fine hogs and considerable hay in the stack and grain from last season's threshing.

The improvement of this large ranch began five years ago and Mr. Cole has spent a great many thousand dollars in fencing, buildings and tilling the soil, until today it stands as an emblem of what irrigation and work will do in the Gem state, and was picked out by Mr. Thompson as one of the finest ranches in the northwest for his imported fancy stock.

Horse Disease Stops Work.

A large crew of men and 150 head of horses engaged by the Utah Construction company excavating canals on the Payette-Boise project eight miles from Nampa, was forced to abandon work temporarily in the latter part of last week and the first of this owing to the fact that the entire band of horses were placed under quarantine for contagious disease which is alleged to have developed in one of the horses, the animal being shot by the order of State Veterinary Surgeon G. E. Noble, says the Boise Capital News.

Mr. Noble was informed that the band of horses was affected with a disease and went out to the camp where he found one of the horses suffering with some kind of trouble about his nose. He gave orders to have the animal dispatched and also informed the foreman in charge of the crew that the other horses would have to be quarantined and this was done forcing the crew out of work as they could do nothing without the horses. It is expected some action will be taken to raise the quarantine so that operations can be resumed.

The Utah Construction company has several large crews of men and teams engaged on irrigation projects in this state and eastern Oregon, but this is the first time that any of the animals have been quarantined for disease.

Ranches Need Rain.

Jordan valley is one of the richest sections of Malheur county, and the residences on the ranches speak prosperity on every turn.

The farms are large, well improved and show thrift. There is a natural hot well here, with very strong medicinal properties that is reported to be one of the best in the country.

The town is located southeast of a rocky bluff that breaks the dullness of a level landscape scenery and makes the place rather picturesque. There are some nice residences in the place. It is a dry year, and like the rest of the country, the stock will suffer if there is not more rain.

Those ranches that depend on water from the lakes will be short of crops this year if rain does not appear shortly. This is reported to be the driest season we have had for two years.—Jordan valley letter.

Old Coins Waking Up.

The fact that Al Bettingen has become owner of one of those nasty new $10 gold pieces has brought to light numerous old coins. P. S. Plummer is showing a $20 gold piece that had been minted in 1859 and was in good condition. This coin like the new $10 did not have the words "In God We Trust" stamped on its face. Then J. B. Golt pops up with a 50-cent silver piece that was minted in 1898. This piece is the same size as the late coins and bore only 13 stars, representing the original New England states. The edges were not milled, but have what is supposed to be small stars around it. Now is a good chance for some of the many coin collectors to show up with something in this line and share in the glory.—Dalles Optimist.

Michigan Hopes to Win.

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 24.—Michigan athletes who will participate in the relay carnival at the University of Pennsylvania tomorrow were given a great send-off by their fellow students, and there is every confidence that the Ann Arbor boys will again romp home with the four-mile relay championship. The Wolverines are stronger than ever this year, and expect to show their eastern competitors a few new tricks in amateur athletics. Michigan, who gave Pennsylvania such a hard run for first in the inter-collegiate last spring, has for the last five years made a trip to the relay games, and as many times as she went east she returned west as champion in the four-mile relay event as well as winning places in some of the other open events.

Sailors Eat Meat.

Los Angeles, April 24.—Local firms which took contracts to supply the fleet with food supplies are rushed to the utmost to fill the orders. In addition to the steam and trolley cars, wagons are being used to get the material to the big boats. It is estimated that over $200,000 will be left in this city by the fleet. One contract called for 650,000 pounds of meat.

A case of smallpox was discovered in the county jail at Colfax. J. O. Blunt, who was brought to the jail the night before from Tekoa, came down with the disease and was promptly sent to the isolation hospital at Elberton. The jail and court house have been fumigated.

The Swine and the Flower

Oh me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty,
Wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred,
Whose banquet shocked the nostril and the eye;
Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of LARD!"

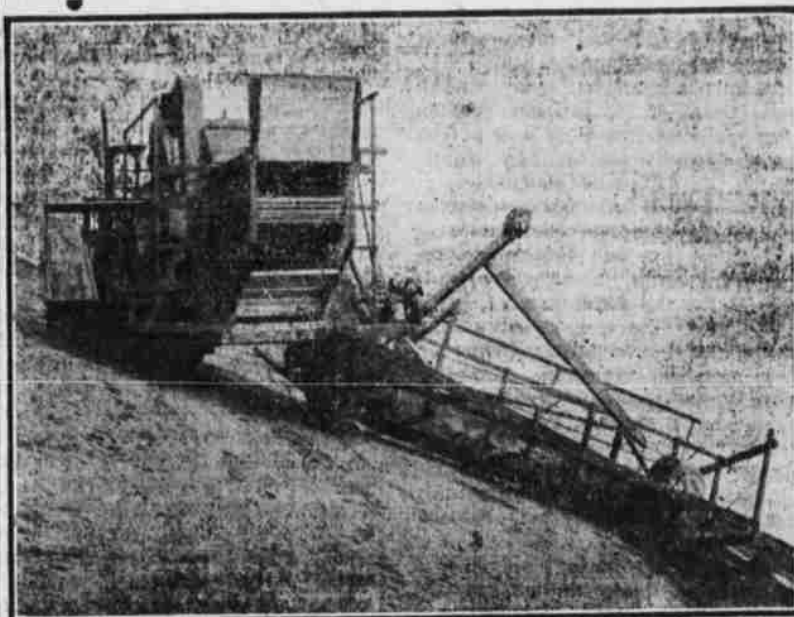

I fled, and saw a field that seemed at first
One glistening mass of roses pure and white,
With dewy buds 'mid dark green foliage nursed;
And as I lingered o'er the lovely sight,
The summer breeze that cooled that Southern scene,
Whispered, "Behold the source of COTTOLENE!"

Nature's Gift from the Sunny South

COTTOLENE is a pure and wholesome frying and shortening medium, made from refined cottonseed oil. There is not an ounce of hog fat in it to make food unwholesome, greasy and indigestible. As evidence of its superiority, COTTOLENE received Grand Prize (highest possible award) at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition; and Gold Medals (also representing highest awards in each case) at the Charleston Exposition, the Paris Exposition, and the Chicago World's Fair. In fact, in every case where COTTOLENE has been exhibited in competition with other cooking fats, it has invariably been granted the highest award.
