Women Endorse University.

The Current Literature club, believing that the educational conditions of the state will be materially improved by increasing the annual appropriation for the support and maintenance of the University of Oregon have passed the following resolution:

Whereas, a measure to amend section 3529 of Bellinger & Cotton's code and statutes of Oregon, by increasing the annual appropriation for the support and maintenance of the University of Oregon to $125,000 has been filed in the office of the secretary of state to be submitted to the legal electors of the state of Oregon for their approval or rejection at the regular general election to be held on the first Monday in June, 1908, be it

Resolved, That we, the members of the Current Literature club, do heartily endorse this measure and ask the voters of Umatilla county to use their influence to help pass the measure.

Will "Paint the Town."

There is a movement on to improve the town and by the use of paint and a garden rake to change the appearance of Main street and residence properties. If the plans are carried out every business house except two will have a new coat of paint. H. H. Helmick, who has rented the rooms formerly occupied by George Rinehart's harness shop is transforming the outside appearance of the building. Mrs. Bly states that she will paint the remainder of her buildings that were not painted last year and the new postoffice building will be refinished. Mike Spears is also going to improve the looks of his barn. An effort is being made to paint the Methodist parsonage. It is hoped that the action of these individuals will stimulate further action and that the whole town will be in first class appearance.

PORTLAND LEADS.

More Wheat Exported from Oregon Metropolis Than From Any Other Port.

Portland exported more wheat during the month of March than any other port in the United States, says the Oregon Daily Journal. The combined Puget sound ports, Tacoma, Everett and Seattle, are second on the list and then comes New York, followed by Philadelphia and Boston.

This information was received by Collector of Customs P. S. Malcolm this morning in a report from the department of commerce and labor. The wheat exports for the month were 3,840,545 bushels, of which quantity Portland shipped nearly half, or 1,422,347 bushels. The combined Puget sound ports exporting 899,936 bushels; New York, 449,118; Philadelphia, 300,567 bushels and Boston, 228,649 bushels. The balance was shipped from various less important ports.

In point of prominence as a flour exporting port Portland holds fourth position for the month of March, New York, Philadelphia and the combined Puget sound ports leading. The quantity of flour exported from the states during March was 1,117,576 barrels.

SOCIETY EVENTS

Eagle hall presented an attractive picture on Tuesday afternoon with its gala attire and its throng of merry guests who were bidden by the following hostesses: Mrs. Charles F. Colesworth, Mrs. Allen J. Goodman, Mrs. Bertram W. Huffman, Mrs. Thomas M. Henderson, Mrs. William H. McCormach, and Mrs. Gonzales M. Rice to play the ever popular game of 500. The fragrance of spring flowers permeated the hall, as cherry and apple blossoms were used in profusion, together with blooming plants of Easter and Cala lilies. Daylight was excluded from the hall and numerous candelabra, together with electricity were used in its stead. At one corner of the hall a prettily appointed table was arranged from which punch was served to the players throughout the afternoon by Misses Edith and Nona Johnson, Eunice Vogel, Edna Storie, Gertrude Campbell, Paralee Hailley, Edna Florence, Genevieve Clarke and Miss Hargen.

Indian robes with their bright, cheery colors were artistically draped about the balcony and also the platform where screens were formed of them, back of which Johnson's orchestra was stationed, playing many of the late and most popular musical selections during the last two hours of the afternoon. Two hundred invitations were issued and guests responded out of that number to fill 36 tables at 5-handed 500. At the close of a merry battle at cards, Mrs. Frank Frazier and Mrs. C. K. Cranston possessed the highest scores for points and progressions and were awarded the honor trophies. After the game a dainty two-course luncheon was served by the hostesses with the able assistance of the young ladies.

The out of town guests were Mrs. E. R. Cox of Athena, Mrs. Laura Davis of Hermiston, Mrs. N. E. Perkins of Boise, Mrs. G. W. Proebstel of Weston and Mrs. John Graff of Walla Walla.

At each party given at Eagles hall something new and novel is to be seen in its decorations and Wednesday evening's dancing party given by the young ladies of the Sigma Epsilon Omicron society proved no exception to the rule. The hall was converted into a veritable summer garden by the use of an abundance of apple and cherry blossoms which were placed everywhere about the hall. A canopied top garden swing made an attractive center piece and it also was prettily decorated with the fragrant blooms. Punch was served during the evening from the ante room on the main floor, which was attractively decorated for the occasion. Small tables were arranged in the balcony for the serving of ices throughout the evening. Indian robes which always play an important part in the way of decorating were the only colors used. Aside from the mellow shade of the flowers pennants which heretofore have been used in profusion at these parties were conspicuous by their absence.

Eighteen numbers of delightful dance music were played by Johnson's orchestra, which was stationed back of the folding screens. The young ladies of the society have gained quite a reputation for their parties, which are always enjoyed by those favored with an invitation.

An informal but pleasant event of the week was the tea given on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Leon Cohen in honor of her house guest, Mrs. Laura Davis of Hermiston. All the appointments for the afternoon were especially charming. Mrs. E. P. Marshall and Mrs. F. E. Judd presided at the tea and assisting them were Miss Bertha Alexander and Misses Maud and Gertrude Sheridan.

Mrs. N. E. Perkins of Boise, is the guest of Mrs. Lina Sturgis.

Mrs. John Graff of Walla Walla, was the guest of Mrs. William McCormach over Tuesday of this week, in attendance at the card party on Tuesday afternoon at which Mrs. McCormach was a hostess.

Mrs. Lina Sturgis entertained the Duplicate Whist club on Monday afternoon.

The last dancing party given by the Married People's Dancing club will take place at Eagles hall on Wednesday, April 29.

Mrs. George Proebstel of Weston was a guest of Mrs. Lee Moorhouse the first of the week.

The engagement of Miss Ethel Hayes of Portland to Mr. Willard Bond of this city has been announced. The wedding will take place some time during the month of June.

Miss Geneva Wilcox of Weston, is visiting Miss Rachel Vogel.

Miss Jay Stanfield of Echo, who has been the guest of Miss Bernice Ruppe, will leave tomorrow for her future home at Portland.

Mrs. W. A. Selkirk and grandson, Selkirk Norton, returned home on Monday from spending the winter months at Imperial, Los Angeles and Stockton, Calif.

An event of next week which is being looked forward to with interest is the Commercial entertainment on Wednesday evening at the Oregon, under the direction of Mrs. Anna Selkirk Norton. Many society ladies will take active parts.

Mrs. John Whistler of Hermiston, who has been ill at St. Anthony's hospital, has so far recovered as to be able to return to her home tomorrow.

Mrs. Edgar Lowell, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Tull of Spokane, returned to Pendleton today for a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. Lot Livermore, before returning to her home at Pendleton.

Miss Estelle Moore Clarke, daughter of the late E. H. Clarke, was quietly married on Wednesday at Stockton, Calif., to Mr. Herbert Hamilton Briggs, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis John Viebrock, relatives of the bride. Invitations had been issued to a church wedding, but owing to the sudden death of her father, all invitations were recalled. Miss Clarke formerly resided here in Pendleton and has many friends who will be interested in the above announcement.

The Sans Souci club met on Monday evening with Mrs. Eugene Vaughan. The prize for points was won by Mrs. James Kenney, a club guest. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Thomas Warner on May 3.

Mrs. Laeklan MacCleary of Tacoma, arrived in the city Friday to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nye.

Mrs. Anna Selkirk Norton and Mrs. W. A. Selkirk will be at home on Friday afternoons of each week.
