FORECAST OF REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS

Birmingham, Ala., April 28.—That Alabama, the first state on the roll call in the national convention, will be split into three republican factions, all of which will send contesting delegations, is made evident by the expressions of delegates who arrived here today for the Davidson or anti-administration convention of the party.

The Roosevelt faction, led by State Chairman J. O. Thompson, internal revenue collector for Alabama, will hold its convention on May 6, Charles Scott, the national committeeman from Alabama, is for Fairbanks. He will probably lead the third delegation to Chicago.

The "City-white" and the "black-and-tan" elements of the party also may play a part in this peculiar contest. The negro voters will have no affiliation with the Taft outfit, and Scott, it is pointed out, may derive much support from them. While the colored voters as a rule prefer Foraker, they would be more apt to flock with the Fairbanks crowd than with Taft's emissaries.

For the real thing in debatable ground and furnishing a hot three-cornered contest, Alabama it seems easily takes the palm.

Taft in South Carolina. Columbia, S. C., April 28.—Indications point to the selection of a delegation favorable to Taft in today's republican state convention, although this procedure is opposed by the colored republicans of the state.

Colorado in Line. Pueblo, Col., April 28.—Colorado republicans speedily crawled into the Taft band wagon when the state convention of the party was opened this morning in the Grand Opera house. Every mention of the names of Taft and Roosevelt was greeted with wild cheers and demonstrations of approbation. Over 700 delegates are in attendance at the convention.

Vermont Republicans. Burlington, Vt., April 28.—Republican conventions of the first and second congressional districts are in progress today in this city and Montpelier respectively, and the state convention will be held tomorrow. The Taft boomers are working hard for their candidate, and it is more than likely that delegations favorable to the secretary of war will be selected.

Primaries in Jersey. Trenton, N. J., April 28.—In accordance with a resolution of the republican state committee of New Jersey, an open primary will be held throughout the state today for the selection of delegates to the state republican convention here on May 5, when the four delegates at large and other delegates to the Chicago convention are to be chosen.

Knox in Pennsylvania. Harrisburg, Pa., April 28.—Delegates are beginning to arrive today for the republican state convention here tomorrow. The slate decided on, which includes the indorsement of Senator Knox for the presidency and the selection of four delegates at large who are favorable to his candidacy, will probably be carried out without a hitch.

Arkansas Favors Taft. Hot Springs, Ark., April 28.—The state republican convention of Arkansas was opened here today and its inception was marked by much enthusiasm for Roosevelt and Taft. This feeling is not shared, however, by the representatives of the colored voters, but it is likely that the delegates will be pledged to Taft over the protest of the negroes.

Mississippi for Taft. Jackson, Miss., April 28.—On the eve of the Mississippi republican state convention, it is indicated that the Roosevelt faction is in control and that tomorrow's convention will send an instructed delegation to Chicago for William H. Taft. An attempt by the negro wing of the party to create a controversy over the Brownsville incident is frowned upon by the white leaders, who have gone on record as indorsing "most heartily" the administration of President Roosevelt. Congressional conventions were held today in the second and seventh districts.

New Jersey Non-committal. Trenton, N. J., April 28.—At the opening of the democratic state convention here today, it appears likely that an unpledged delegation will be selected to represent New Jersey at Denver. Sentiment is about evenly divided between Bryan, Johnson and Gray, but there is little possibility of a definite declaration in favor of any candidate.

Bryan Men Hopeful. New Haven, Conn., April 28.—Bryan men are hopeful of controlling the action of the democratic state and congressional conventions, which met here today and will continue through tomorrow. Many delegates favor an unpledged delegation, but the friends of the Nebraskan are confident of securing the selection of men favorable to his nomination as the democratic standard bearer.

He Got What He Needed. "Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come," says Mr. C. Farthing of Mill Creek, Ind. Ter. "I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. It was then my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got what I needed—strength. I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I've been well ever since." Sold under guarantee at Tallman & Co.'s drug store. 50 cents.

A fish story that is somewhat different from the usual run comes from Sheridan, Wyo. It is said that a small boy with his dog were out fishing. A trout was hooked and the pole and line were jerked from the boy's hands. The dog was sent in after it and succeeded in getting hold of the pole, but the fish was so large that the dog was jerked about in the swiftly running stream until drowned.

While grading for a street on the site of an old race track at Walla Walla, the skeleton of a man, evidently hurriedly buried, was unearthed by the workmen. The fact that the remains were near the surface of the ground on which the paddocks were located, has given rise to the belief that a murder was committed during a race meet and the body buried to conceal the crime.

Successor of St. Patrick.

New York, April 28.—Cardinal Logue, Primate of All Ireland and successor of St. Patrick in the See of Armagh, celebrated a pontifical mass in the cathedral today, as one of the features of the Catholic centennial. The Irish cardinal is well advanced in years and has never before visited this country. As the direct successor of St. Patrick, he is one of the best loved churchmen in the world. Cardinal Gibbons preached the sermon at today's meeting. This evening there will be pontifical vespers in the cathedral, Mgr. Falconio being the celebrant and Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis the preacher. The program for tomorrow includes a great mass meeting at Carnegie Hall in the evening.

John M. Dickenson and his son William, will spend the remainder of their natural lives behind the walls of the Oregon penitentiary, having been found guilty of murder in the second degree for the killing of a Hindu near Boring last fall. The tragedy occurred on the night of Hallowe'en. The Hindu was fatally wounded while in the bunk house at the sawmill. Three other young men who participated in the riot were found guilty of manslaughter.

HOT CAMPAIGN FOR SENATORSHIP

BOTH CAKE AND CHAMBERLAIN TO SPEAK

Campaign Opened This Week by Both Candidates in Different Parts of the State—Chamberlain Starts at Vale and Cake in Coos County.

That Oregon will resound with oratory in the senatorial campaign from now until the close of the ballot boxes is shown by the fact that both Cake and Chamberlain are to take the stump personally in their own interests.

Beginning this week an active campaign will be conducted by both senatorial candidates, beside several outside speakers of national reputation who will be brought into the state.

The Portland Oregonian says of the opening of the campaign in the senatorial contest:

H. M. Cake and Governor Chamberlain will open their campaigns for senator this week, probably tomorrow night. Mr. Cake left yesterday for Coos county, expecting to reach Marshfield in time to hold a meeting tomorrow night. On the same night Governor Chamberlain will speak at St. John and will leave Wednesday for eastern Oregon. Both candidates will canvass the state thoroughly.

Governor Chamberlain will make his address in eastern Oregon at Vale, Malheur county, the latter part of the week. After making a thorough tour of eastern and southeastern Oregon, Governor Chamberlain will go to the southern part of the state, speaking in all of the principal cities in southern Oregon and the Willamette valley, and concluding the campaign in this city the Saturday night preceding the election, Monday, June 1 Governor Chamberlain expects to complete his itinerary today.

CONGREGATIONALISTS MEET.

Distinguished Gathering of Preachers and Laymen.

Detroit, Mich., April 28.—Some of the most distinguished preachers and laymen of the denomination are in attendance today at the opening session of the first convention of the Congregational Brotherhood of America. The opening session was held this morning in the First Congregational church. Additional meetings will be held this evening, tomorrow and Thursday. All parts of the country are represented.

The organization and its convention are an outgrowth of a meeting of the national council of Congregational churches held in Cleveland last fall, when definite plans were formed. The council appointed a committee of 29 men, representing various sections of the country. This committee is made up of eminent men from all walks of life. Among them are Victor F. Lawson, proprietor and editor of the Daily News, Chicago; Justice David J. Brewer of the United States supreme court; President Henry Churchill, Kink of Oberlin, and Mayor Beardsley of Kansas City, Mo. The chairman of the committee is President J. H. T. Main of Iowa College, Grinnell, and the secretary is Rev. Frank Dyer of Chicago.

Connecticut Democrats.

New Haven, Conn., April 28.—Connecticut's entire representation in the democratic national convention will be selected by the delegates who gathered in New Haven today for the democratic state convention. The sessions will continue through tomorrow and Wednesday, congressional district conventions being scheduled in connection with the state convention. An effort will be made to secure the indorsement of Mr. Bryan, although many influential democrats favor an unpledged delegation to Denver.
