BUTTER BY THE YARD.

The Way It Is Sold, Pure and Sweet, in Cambridge, England.

In Cambridge, England, butter is sold by the yard. For generations it has been the practice of Cambridge-shire dairy folk to roll their butter into lengths, each length measuring a yard and weighing a pound. Deftly wrapped in strips of clean white cloth, the cylindrical rolls are packed in long, narrow baskets made for the purpose and thus conveyed to market. The butter women who, in white linen aprons and sleeves, preside over the stalls in the market have no need of weights or scales for dispensing their wares. Constant practice and experienced eyes enable them with a stroke of the knife to divide a yard of butter into halves or quarters with almost mathematical exactness.

The university people are the chief buyers of this curiously shaped product. In addition to being famed for its purity and sweetness Cambridge "yard butter" is eminently adapted for being served to the students in the daily commons. Cut in conveniently sized pieces and accompanied by a loaf of the best wheat bread, a stated portion is sent round every morning to the rooms of the undergraduates for use at breakfast and tea.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Thought He Knew Him.

A laborer was engaged in the grounds of an asylum and received instructions to pay no attention whatever to the remarks of the patients.
Some little time after he commenced work the governor of the asylum, a well known doctor, looking at the progress of the work, mildly suggested one alteration. The workman dug steadily on and never lifted his head.
The doctor raised his voice, but the man, without answering, went on digging energetically. The doctor threatened, stormed and finally thundered out:
"Do you know who I am?"
The laborer straightened his back, looked at him a minute and, shaking his head, sorrowfully exclaimed:
"Poor chap! I am sorry for ye," and went on calmly with his work.—London Express.

A Monster Spring.

No state in the Union has larger or more numerous springs than Florida. Many of them form good sized streams from the start, and some of them are navigable. The largest spring in the state, and one of the largest and probably the best known in the United States, is Silver spring, which is located six miles east of Ocala. This spring forms the source of the Oklawaha river, a tributary of the St. Johns, and steamboats traversing the river enter the spring basin, which has an area of several acres. The water is from twenty-five to thirty feet deep and is wonderfully clear, appearing absolutely devoid of color.—Minneapolis Journal.

A petition signed by 740 taxpayers in the town of Caldwell, Idaho, has been presented to the council asking that saloons be banished from the town. The petition was laid over until next meeting.

EAST LYNNE AT THE OREGON

STREETER AND BRYAN WILL PRESENT POPULAR PLAY.

"Tennessee's Partner" Proved to Be One of the Best Yet Presented by Favorite Stock Company—Moving Pictures of Best Prize Fights Will Be Presented Between Acts—Matinee Saturday Afternoon.

Tonight there will be a change of program at the Oregon theater, when that beautiful play, "East Lynne," will be presented with Miss Bryan and Mr. Streeter in the leading parts. This will be the attraction tonight, tomorrow night and for the Saturday matinee. Miss Bryan announces that there will be a prize for the lucky girl and boy in the house, and also one for the lucky lady.

"Tennessee's Partner" was played last evening to a fairly good house, and it was deserving of far better patronage, as it was one of the best attractions on the repertoire. Between acts a fine lot of moving pictures are being shown each evening, and tonight there will be a change when some of the latest and best prizefights will be produced. These pictures are life size, and among the best ever shown in the city.

Sunday night "Thorns and Orange Blossoms," one of Bertha M. Clay's most beautiful productions, will be presented, with Miss Bryan in the leading part. Mr. Streeter will have a comic part Sunday night.

The pictures and the play tonight promise to be well attended, as the company is capable of putting on "East Lynne" as it has never been played here before.

Miss Bryan wishes especially to see all her little friends out at the Saturday afternoon matinee. "Thorns and Orange Blossoms" Sunday night, and "East Lynne" tonight and tomorrow night.

BAND OF SHEEP DROWNED.

Wyoming Owner Loses 800 Head in Heavy Rain Storm.

A correspondent writing from Casper, Wyo., to the Cheyenne Tribune, says of a serious loss of sheep in that vicinity:

The only serious loss of sheep in this vicinity during the past winter is reported by Robert Crosswaite, who recently sheared a band near Casper. The sheep were in poor condition and were caught in a heavy rain storm while on their bed ground.

The band consisted of about 1800 head and were bedded in a narrow draw at the bottom of a range of hills. The rain water drained into the draw flooding the ground and the efforts of the herder and campmover to move the sheep out of the pocket were unavailing. The animals huddled together in the draw in which the water was rapidly rising. A little over half of the band was saved, the remainder, about eight hundred head, being drowned.

Mr. Crosswaite also reports the only sale of wool thus far reported in the state. He consigned the clip from the above mentioned band, about 13,000 pounds, to a Chicago house to be sold on commission, the firm advancing 10 cents per pound on the shipment, which was something less than a carload.

There have been but few other losses reported in this vicinity, due in the main to severe frosty nights following heavy rains upon shorn sheep. The losses have been so distributed among the sheepmen that the individual loss is insignificant, the sheep which succumbed being the poorest of the flocks.

Flying several feet through the air from having come in contact with a Great Northern locomotive, a cow landed squarely on top of her 70-year old owner, injuring him so that death will be inevitable.

CONVICTS ESCAPE.

Trusty Takes Advantage of Opportunity to Run Away.

Richard Fritsch, a one year and a half man at the penitentiary, made a successful escape yesterday afternoon about 5:30 while having the liberty of a trusty cleaning up the premises of the superintendent's cottage just outside the penitentiary fence.

When last seen, Fritsch was steady at his work, and just how he managed to slip out of sight of the officials cannot be learned, and owing to the fact that he was a trusty, no guard was deemed necessary, which advantage he took advantage of. Several of the prison employees were scouring the circus grounds last evening in search of the fugitive, and Warden Curtis took the second train out of here about 10 o'clock for the purpose of keeping a thorough watch in case the escaped man should be on the trains leaving for points south, but nothing was found of him and it is believed by the prison officials that he is yet in this city.

Fritsch was sentenced to one and a half years for obtaining money by false pretense, and he had the half year yet to serve. He was committed from Jackson county.
