WOOL BUYERS ARE DEFIANT

NO ALARM OVER
OMAHA'S GROWING TRADE.

Idaho Buyer Says All Efforts to Wreck Boston's Prestige as a Wool Market From Her Will Prove Ineffective—Other Cities Have Tried This in Vain.

The following defiant interview from an Idaho wool buyer concerning the wool situation this spring, shows the confidence which the buyers seem to have in their low price combination, which threatens disaster to the sheep interests of the west. The Boise Capital News says:

J. M. Johnson, the well known local wool buyer, when seen this morning, gave out some interesting information on the wool situation. He stated that Boston wool merchants are not worrying over the prospects of Omaha becoming the center of the trade in the United States for the wool clip of Idaho, Utah, Montana, Oregon, and other western states.

The project of erecting large warehouses in Omaha capable of holding a good percentage of the American clip until eastern wool merchants or manufacturers get ready to buy it at a price virtually dictated by the growers is not looked upon seriously.

Mr. Johnson stated that the idea is by no means a new one, it having been previously advocated in the west and the east, and all attempts of the kind have turned out failures. The most successful combination was made years ago in Boston, when several large flockmasters in Utah organized an association, rented a large warehouse at Boston and sent on their own representative to handle that end of the business.

The association lasted but two years. This, and the similar plan to hold auction sales of the clip periodically in New York, Philadelphia or Boston, died a natural death after arousing considerable enthusiasm among the growers.

"Whether or not the sheepmen of the west will combine this year and hold their wool until it reaches the prices demanded remains to be seen," said Mr. Johnson. "If the wool is concentrated at one place in the west the sheepmen will only relieve the eastern buyers from carrying the wool until the market is favorable, as they have done in the past."

"The manufacturers are only ready to purchase wool at times when it is needed and it must be held until that time, usually by the eastern buyer. If the sheepmen consolidate and erect warehouses at Omaha to store all of this year's clip they will only relieve the buyers of the east from carrying it themselves."

From information gained from Mr. Johnson, it was learned that he had visited a number of the sheep camps in Idaho, including those about Caldwell and Mountain Home. He stated this morning that he was very favorably impressed although little could be said at this time about the quality of the wool, as the larger share remains to be clipped. He thinks that the quality will be about the same as that produced last year.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney trouble. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
