ATHENA BREVITIES FREEWATER-MILTON

YOUNG BOY SERIOUSLY INJURED BY FALL

Saloon Row Causes a Fine and One Man Is Injured—Pendleton and Athena Will Play Ball—Arranging Program for Caledonian Picnic—Revival Is Closed.

Athena, May 14.—A young son of Alex Johnson, a farmer north of town, fell from a tree into Pine creek yesterday, and was severely injured and bruised, especially about the head. He was insensible for a time, and when picked up he was lying in the water and would have been drowned had he not been taken from the creek. It was necessary to take several stitches in his scalp.

Saloon Row.

Dan Hart, a well known character, had a fight with Charles Matt in the Corner saloon Tuesday, causing considerable commotion. He was taken before the city recorder and fined $50. After this he went back to the saloon and began abusing the bartender, Ed Thomas, who became vexed and threw a billiard ball at Hart. The ball hit him in the head, causing a bad wound, which necessitated several stitches. No arrests were made after the second row, however.

Eighth grade students are undergoing an examination today, under the direction of Attorney S. F. Wilson, who was appointed by County Superintendent Wells for this purpose.

Ball Game Sunday.

There will be a game of ball next Sunday on the local diamond between the Shamrocks of this place, and the second nine of Pendleton. The Shamrocks played the Adams team at Adams last Sunday, and the game resulted in favor of the Athena boys by a score of 9 to 6.

The program for the Caledonian picnic is well under way, and the committee announces some very fine features this year. The picnic will be in May 22 and continue over Friday and Saturday. H. M. Calk and many of the good speakers of the state will be here for this occasion.

J. W. Hopper will leave in a few days with his family for a six weeks outing in Lake and Harney counties. They will travel by team.

H. A. Barrett is improving his barn corrals where he keeps a string of well bred and trained horses.

Wheat is looking fine in the Athena country, and the people were proud of the excellent showing of grain fields on all hands to be viewed by those on the demonstration train today.

Death Yesterday.

Mrs. Ira Luna died yesterday after a lingering illness of consumption. She was a daughter of Mrs. Ferrin, and was well known here. She had only been married about seven months at the time of her death. The funeral will be held today.

Revival Closed.

The revival meetings which have been conducted at the M. E. church by Rev. Carradine of St. Louis, came to a close last Sunday. They were well attended and resulted in much good.

Electric Line Talk.

Mayor S. A. Barnes of Weston was here yesterday taking acknowledgments from different parties who gave right of way for the electric line through their lands between Milton and Weston. It is not known just what the company will do after extending to Weston, whether it will build over the mountains or into Pendleton. There are various stories afloat regarding the matter. It is also reported that the company will immediately take some action to secure right of way through Athena.

Judge D. B. Richards has been ill for several days with the grip.

PIONEER REUNION.

More Mountain Potatoes Are Being Shipped Out.

Weston, May 14.—Elaborate preparations are now being made for the Pioneer reunion at this place, which will take place the latter part of this month. The Civic Improvement league is arranging for a fine banquet for all the pioneers, and nothing will be left undone to make the old people feel that they will have one of the most pleasant gatherings of a lifetime. Old and young alike are taking an interest in this affair, and it promises to be ahead of all former occasions of the kind.

Ellsworth Woods of Moro, Ore., is visiting his brothers, Anson and Wilbur, and he will remain until after the pioneer reunion.

Professor Mitchell is suffering with a severe attack of rheumatism.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tucker, Monday, May 11, a son.

It is estimated that about 80 or 90 cars of potatoes have been contracted for from the Weston mountain district for the Seattle and sound markets. Sim Cully, the Weston merchant, has bought several carloads and they are being hauled to Athena, from which place they are being shipped out over the Northern Pacific.

NO ARMY LIFE FOR HIM.

Graduate of West Point Resigns His Position.

Washington, May 14.—First of the graduates of this year's West Point class to resign his commission, after a brief experience as a soldier of Uncle Sam, is Second Lieutenant H. Ayers, Seventh Cavalry, who leaves the army today. Last year four officers resigned within three months after leaving the military academy. This was considered an unusually large number, and was partly responsible for Mr. Taft's telling this year's graduates that the war department expected them to stay in the army. It was therefore rather unexpected that Lieut. Ayers would have so little difficulty in getting his resignation accepted. Apparently the war department is not going to stand on the letter of the law which binds a lieutenant to serve eight years from the time of entering West Point.

In the early part of the last century there was a different feeling about resignations of graduates. There was so little change for promotion because of the absence of a retired list that many officers resigned. A classic example of this is afforded by the class of 1831, which had some distinguished officers in it and numbered in all 33 graduates. Within six years after leaving West Point 23 of that year's class had left the service for other pursuits. The first five of 1831 resigned within five years after graduating, the sixth on the list died in Florida in 1839, and the next two also resigned within eight years, leaving but seven officers on the rolls.
