INDICTMENTS IN MORROW COUNTY

HEPPNER GRAND JURY
FINDS MANY TRUE BILLS

Circuit Judge and District Attorney Phelps returned last evening from Heppner and they will go back June 3 to finish the Morrow county criminal session. At the court session just ended no criminal cases were tried out, as the entire time was devoted to grand jury work.

When the grand jury brought in its final report it told of 17 indictments and many of them were for very serious cases. Webb McCaslin was indicted for first degree murder for the killing of the butcher, Kaspell, while Dan Doherty was indicted for murder in the second degree.

Four indictments for gambling were returned, two for keeping saloons open on Sunday, while the remainder of the 17 cases cover a "multitude of sins."

Earhart, "Bad Man."
One of the most remarkable cases up before the grand jury was that of T. G. Earhart, an Iowa saloonman, who was indicted upon three different counts for assault with a dangerous weapon and once for trying to intimidate an officer.

Earhart, it seems, has had a reputation for being a "gun man" of much persistency. Several times in the past he was up for threatening people with a shooting iron and the punishments meted to him by the courts seemed to have but little deterrent effect on him.

But a few weeks ago he held up a deputy sheriff at the point of a pistol and declared that if the officer would not promise to have a case then pending against him, dropped, he would "shoot the deputy's heart in two." Not desiring to die by that method the officer acquiesced in the proposition temporarily and Earhart desisted. A little later he again found the officer and said he had taken a notion to kill him, anyway, and then end his own life.

The following morning Earhart was arrested and when taken before a justice was placed under a bond of $7000 to keep the peace. When the saloonman's case was passed up to the grand jury the four indictments mentioned above were brought in in hopes that they would "hold him" for the time being. Earhart is now in jail at Heppner in default of $4200 bail.

Charged With Robbing Houses.
William E. Freeman was brought down from Huron last night and is lodged in the county jail charged with larceny from dwellings. He is accused of having stolen clothing, a pistol, and other plunder from the home of Lars Nelson of Huron. He is also accused of having robbed another house in that vicinity.

Dean Goodman Honored.
Dean Goodman has been elected business manager of the University of Oregon Weekly. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Goodman of this city and is a member of the sophomore class at the state university.

The couple have known one another since childhood, and were both reared at Lima, Ohio. Miss Crosson made a host of friends during her stay in the city, who wish her every joy. Last evening the registration books in the clerk's office were closed and voters may no longer register for the June election. However, the reports from outside precincts have not yet been received and as a result the total registration is not yet known.

Though the registration since the primaries has been light the total number will be greater than two years ago.

SHEEP GO ON RESERVES EARLY

REQUEST OF FLOCKOWNERS
HEARD AT WASHINGTON

Because of Dry Spring Early Range Is Short—Concession of Fifteen Days Allowed By Forestry Department—Means Much to Woolgrowers—Snow in Mountains Also Welcomed.

Good news has come for the Umatilla county sheepmen in the form of an order that sheep may be taken upon the Wenaha reserve June 1 instead of June 15, the date originally set.

For some time past the sheepmen have been asking to be allowed upon the reserves earlier than usual this spring because of the dry weather that has been prevailing. Last evening Dan P. Smythe received word from Supervisor Schmitz of the Wenaha reserve that sheep may be taken onto the reserve June 1.

At present there is considerable snow in the Wenaha reserve, having fallen during the past few days, and this is a fact that is likewise gratifying to the sheepraiser, for it means more moisture in the summer.

Ranger Green, of the eastern division of the Blue mountain reserve, has been in the city today and he says that orders are out to admit sheep to a portion of the Blue mountain reserve at an earlier date than June 15. Sheepmen having allotments in the low ranges may commence using the same June 1. Among those having such allotments are the J. E. Smith company, Smythe & Sons and other local growers.
