

COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER.
Published Daily, Weekly and Semi-Weekly, at Pendleton, Oregon, by the
EAST OREGONIAN PUBLISHING CO.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
Daily, one year, by mail.....$5.00
Daily, six months, by mail.....2.50
Daily, three months, by mail.....1.25
Daily, one month, by mail......50
Daily, one year, by carrier.....7.50
Daily, six months, by carrier.....3.75
Daily, three months, by carrier.....1.85
Daily, one month, by carrier......65
Weekly, one year, by mail.....1.75
Weekly, six months, by mail......75
Weekly, three months, by mail......50
Semi-Weekly, one year, by mail.....1.50
Semi-Weekly, six months, by mail......75
Semi-Weekly, three months, by mail......50

The Daily East Oregonian is kept on sale at the Oregon News Co., 147 6th street, Portland, Oregon.
Chicago Bureau, 909 Security building.
Washington, D. C. Bureau, 501 Fourteenth street, N. W.

Member United Press Association.
Telephone..... Main 1

Entered at the postoffice at Pendleton, Oregon, as second-class mail matter.

I will give you the Sun to wear
And the Seven Stars to crown
your hair;
And the little new Moon, so
curved and sweet,
Shall be the cushion for your
white feet.

O better, sang she, than stars
to shine,
Thy man's rough hand to take in mine!

I'll build you a palace of cedar wood,
You shall house you there as a princess should;
I'll bind the season you hold
most dear,

And it shall be April all the year.

O better, sang she, the months
of the snow,
And the two chairs set in the hearth's red glow.

There shall be music for your delight,
And laughter by day and a
dream by night,
And pain and sorrow and Care's
dark wings

Shall be forever forgotten things.

O better, sang she, the old unrest
To bring him back to my waiting breast.

—Arthur Ketchum.

REPUBLICAN REFORMS.

The republican platform of the state of Washington contains a demand for a strong local option law, by which the people of the various communities may regulate the liquor traffic to suit themselves. This is an advance step which will make the republican party stronger than ever in the northwest.

Oregon, a republican state, has a local option law, a direct primary law, the initiative and referendum and other progressive measures by which the people may express their sentiments on public questions.

Therefore it is not necessary to have socialistic, populist or other sort of reformation to secure good results. The staunch, sturdy membership of the dominant party is capable and willing to make progress as the results of Oregon and Washington show.

La Follette made the argument in his lecture in this city that democrats in strongly republican states should join the republicans and help secure reforms in that way. In this way all the reform forces of a state may be joined together and accomplish that for which they are striving. What matters it who brings the reform, just so it comes?

INDUSTRIAL HYPOCRISIES.

Andrew Carnegie in an address before the congress of governors at the White House yesterday, bewailed the depletion of the natural resources of the country and especially mourned the disappearing supply of iron ore. And yet Andrew Carnegie has monopolized the iron and steel industry the country, and has seized every foot of available iron ore land and has done more to deplete that natural resource perhaps than any other one man.

John D. Rockefeller preaches Brotherhood and fraternity and urges the people to spend less money and be more economical, and yet that pious old fraud has done more to rob the consumer of his honest earnings and has taken more money from the people in unjust and extortionate prices than any other one man in the world.

James J. Hill bemoans the disappearing timber supply of the country, and yet Hill has encouraged sawmill syndicates and timber monopolies along the lines of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern and has directly encouraged the depletion of the forests by the lumber corporations which have made traffic for his railroad lines. He practices one thing in private life and preaches another in his lectures and addresses before the public.

If about 25 of these pious old frauds and industrial hypocrites would practice in their business dealings what they preach in their lectures and addresses, the people might believe some of their theories. As it is, the people feel the sting of their practices but do not heed the sloppy eloquence of their preachments.

PENDLETON GOES AHEAD.

To those who have kept close watch on the movement for a federal building in this city the news that the $70,000 appropriation for a building has finally passed the house, is no surprise.

Pendleton is the largest city in eastern Oregon, the center of a vast rich empire as large as two or three New England states and in all of this vast empire tributary to Pendleton, there is no federal building.

It has seemed impossible that when congress was made to know this condition, that a building should be denied Pendleton. To the untiring work of Congressman Ellis in presenting the true condition of eastern Oregon to congress, is therefore due the credit of the progress made.

The erection of the federal building in this city will mean the recognition of this city as the pivotal, central point in eastern Oregon and will bring the headquarters of every government bureau in eastern Oregon to this city. The best era is yet ahead of Pendleton.

PRAISE FOR O. R. & N.

On every hand in Umatilla county is heard praise for the freight department of the O. R. & N. for running the demonstration train through eastern Oregon counties. No less praise is heard for the excellent lecturers from Oregon Agricultural college who accompanied the train.

Although the objects of running the train may be selfish on part of the railroad company, in that the company hopes to see traffic for its lines increased, yet what great forward movement in the industrial world is not selfish in its inception?

Did Jim Hill build railroads into the heart of the Dakota wheat belt for philanthropic purposes? Hardly. Did Edison invent the phonograph for fun? Are the automobile companies improving their machines just for amusement?

Every advance movement has a selfish foundation, but in that selfishness is widespread benefit and in attaining a selfish object thousands are aided.

So if improved farming methods bring increased traffic for the railroad company, will they not enrich the farmers at the same time? If more wheat is shipped out of Umatilla county over the O. R. & N. lines will it not mean more bank accounts, more labor, more machinery accounts for Umatilla county?

There is no denying the fact that the improved methods are coming. Where they have been tried they have been eminently successful. They have yielded an excellent profit and they will be adopted generally all over the state and the northwest, in time, and they will increase the production of crops two and three-fold when they come.

HAS CONGRESS DONE ITS DUTY?

The calling of the congress of governors to meet in Washington, D. C., this month, has given rise to many pertinent questions, concerning the conservation of the natural resources of the country. People have asked why the congress was necessary, why it was deemed expedient to call the governors together to consider questions which belong primarily to congress.

The Oregon Daily Journal in discussing the congress and its aims, says:

Why is it that there is a conference of governors of the states, and of other notables, at Washington? It is a gathering, called by the president, to consider the welfare of the country. It is a gathering hitherto unknown. It is such a gathering that its calling involuntarily carries with it the idea that all is not well.

A foreboding that an extraordinary conference is necessary as a means of invoking precautionary measures, is the logic and unconscious deduction of this unparalleled assembly. It gives pause to the thinking citizen, who is compelled to ask himself the query, why is this assembly called?

Why is it deemed necessary to even take action looking to a permanent organization of this extraordinary gathering of governors of states, and others of the nation's best brains?

Since 1789, it has been presumed by the people that the congress of the United States was promoting the welfare of the country, was conserving its resources, was protecting the interests of the people.

For that exact duty it has been depended upon for more than a century. Has it failed to do its duty? Has the system by which it is elected and constituted failed to gather in the congress representatives big and broad enough to protect and defend the people's interests and the country's resources?

Has election by party and for partisan reasons brought the country to the point where a conference of governors must intervene to save the country from wreck? Is the present madness and self sufficiency of the national senate resisting Rooseveltism, a sign of it? What else does the conference at Washington mean?

If the University of Oregon is sustained by the people at the polls in June, the graduates of Pendleton and other high schools may go to their home university to complete their education. If the university is not sustained and is allowed to struggle along with but half enough funds, our young people will be forced to seek a higher education outside of Oregon. State pride should cast an overwhelming vote for the University of Oregon on June 1.

No matter how many times you have been to Hermiston and the government irrigation project, it will pay you to go again. That vast work is now nearing completion and will soon be delivered to the settlers. The week end excursions over the O. R. & N. afford exceptional advantages to see the government project.

LARGEST WOMAN LANDHOLDER.

A Texas woman, Mrs. H. M. King, is the largest landholder of her sex in the United States. Her possessions aggregate the enormous total of 1,470,000 acres, and she has a magnificent ranch home in Kingsville, Tex. Later she added 100,000 acres to her holdings with as little fuss as the average person buys a small tract. Most of her land is valued at from $15 to $20 per acre, and her total wealth, including cattle and other property, is estimated at $30,000,000.

Her estate is managed by her son-in-law, but Mrs. King is consulted about every important matter. Agricultural operations are carried on on an extensive scale, and livestock is raised in great numbers on this vast ranch. Mrs. King inherited a large part of her property from her late husband, but she has been a shrewd investor and has more than doubled her inheritance.

During the early days she was one of the settlers who experienced great hardships, the country then being infested with Mexican bandits and cut-throats.

Another Texas woman, Mrs. C. Adair, owns 1,550,000 acres of land in the Panhandle, and she also has a fine home in London, England, where she lives a part of each year. She is a royal entertainer, and always brings with her from Europe members of the nobility as her guests.

BASEBALL AND GRANDMOTHERS

Baseball is a good thing for everything and everyone except grandmothers. While statistics are unobtainable it is estimated that about 7000 grandmothers perish on or before the day every game is played on the big league circuits.

Sometimes she dies of mumps; other times she perishes because the doctor doesn't know anything about the case, or, mayhap, because even he can not make a call that afternoon between 3 and 5 o'clock and afford the proper treatment; other times because she falls and breaks her backbone, but more often just because. Only the grandmothers of office boys, errand boys and other youngsters who help around at odd things are taken off. It is only common decency that they should attend the funerals, which are held in the afternoon, usually between 1:30 and 5 o'clock. The boss grins knowingly but he hasn't the heart to keep any boy away from his grandmother's funeral. He was once a lad himself, and maybe he had a grandmother to perish in the baseball season. Rain has spoiled many a funeral.—John T. McCutcheon.

TO DEATH.

Come to the bridal chamber, Death!
Come to the mother's, when she feels
For the first time, her first-born's breath!

Come when the blessed seals
That close the pestilence are broke,
And crowded cities wait its stroke!
Come in consumption's ghastly form,
The earthquake shock, the ocean storm!

Come when the heart beats high and warm,
With banquet song, and dance and wine!

And thou art terrible!—the tear,
The groan, the knell, the pall, the bier,
And all we know, or dream, or fear
Of agony, are thine.

—Selected.

THE ONLY CREED.

So many Gods, so many creeds,
So many roads that wind and wind,
While just the art of being kind
Is all this great world needs.

If there is no change for the better in a few days, or if any smallpox patient is caught walking around Havre,
Mont, the town will be quarantined.
This decision has been arrived at by the Montana state board of health. It has ordered all concert halls to be closed and the theater, until they can be disinfected.

FAITHFUL HOUSEWIVES OF THE UNITED STATES

Send Grateful Tributes to Dr. Hartman
For Benefits Received From Pe-ru-na.

MRS. D. C. NOLAN.

No More Throat Trouble.

Mrs. D. C. Nolan, Gem, Kas., writes: "I have no more throat trouble, thanks to Peruna. It is the only medicine I care to have. I always feel safe when I have it in the house."

"I have used Peruna for nine years and I ought to know about it. Peruna has helped me a great many times, and I shall praise it to every one of my friends."

Ever since Peruna was introduced to the public thirty years ago, the housewife has been an ever faithful friend to Peruna. She it is that has seen the practical benefits of the use of Peruna in the family.

When the baby has snuffles or cold she gives a few doses of Peruna, instead of filling the system with the doctor's drugs.

When the school children have coughs or colds she again resorts to Peruna.

When any member of the family is afflicted with catarrh, either in its acute or chronic form, Peruna is resorted to. In a large number of minor ailments she finds Peruna a never-failing remedy.

All this has won the confidence of the housewife in Peruna, which cannot be easily shaken by the statements of people who know nothing of Peruna, having never had any personal experience in its use.

FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

Governor Johnson of Minnesota is an avowed suffragist. A letter over his signature was published in Progress last month.

Secretary Taft has always expressed himself as leaning our way and now he comes out in an interview in which he says woman suffrage will surely come and that Under a representative form of government the interests of any particular set of people are more likely to be advanced when represented by one of themselves than by one of another class, no matter how altruistic the effort of the latter may be.

Mr. Bryan is reported to say he has given the question no thought. Come, come, Mr. Bryan, and get a thought.—Woman's Tribune.

No Discrimination.

"It is very good of you, sir, to give me your seat."

"Not at all, mum," said Pat. "It's a duty we owe to the sex. Some folks only do so when the woman is young and pretty, but I say the sex, and not the individual."

DOCTORS' MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The Physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up the treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, because of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription directed to the cause would have effected a permanent cure, thereby dispensing all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

Pe-ru-na Tablets.

Some people prefer to take tablets, rather than to take medicine in a fluid form. Such people can obtain Peruna tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Peruna. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peruna.

Mrs. T. J. Ballard, Pryor Creek, Indian Territory, writes: "I keep free from my old stomach trouble, feel no catarrhal symptoms at all. I am able to do my work, eat and drink what I want, and am rejoiced to know that I found a sure cure in your valuable medicines."

Dyspepsia and Constipation.

Mrs. John M. Stabler, Millersburg, Ind., writes: "I have been cured of a very bad case of catarrh of the stomach and constipation, and a complication of ailments that I have had for several years."

"I doctored with three doctors who did me not much good, so I quit doctoring. I bought a bottle of Peruna and commenced taking it. I found I was getting some better, but thought I was not doing as well as I might. So I wrote to Dr. Hartman to see what he thought about me. He gave me special directions and medical advice."

"To our astonishment I improved and am today a well woman and weigh as much as I ever did in my life."

"My old friends in Ohio, where we moved from about fifteen months ago, say when they see me, 'How well you look. I did not expect to see you ever look so well again.' I tell them I would not look so well if it had not been for Peruna."

"Peruna saved my life. I recommend Peruna wherever I am, and when any of our folks are sick I give them Peruna with success."

"I thank Dr. Hartman, and may he live many years more to go on with the good work. Tongue cannot express the gratitude that my husband, children and I owe to Dr. Hartman for the kindness he has shown toward me during my sickness."

"I want the public to know what Peruna and Dr. Hartman have done for me."

An astonishing number of families use Peruna continuously for the various petty ailments to which the family is liable.

MRS. AUGUSTA PAULINE OCHS.

Systemic Catarrh.

Mrs. Augusta Pauline Ochs, R. F. D. 2, North English, Iowa, writes: "I took Peruna over three years. I suffered from systemic catarrh and had pains in my right side so I could hardly do my housework."

"I am 66 years old, and am now doing all my housework. I am in the best of health, and cannot thank Dr. Hartman enough for his advice and medicine."

MRS. J. M. STABLER.

Big Values in CLOTHING

This week is one of Bargain Giving at our store. Men, women, boys and girls, can all buy complete outfits at a big sacrifice in price on our part.

We must dispose of all our Stock in a very short time, and only Big Bargains will move the goods quickly.

BOYS' SUITS OF ALL SIZES, FROM.....	$1.00 UP TO $7.98
MEN'S SPITS FROM	$3.98 UP TO $18.98
MEN'S COATS AND VESTS	$1.48 TO $6.98
MEN'S PANTS	69c UP TO $5.98
LADIES' SUITS (JACKET AND SKIRTS)	$5.47 UP TO $15.19
LADIES' WAISTS	98c TO $7.98
GIRLS' DRESSES	98c TO $5.00

Fix up for Summer, and do it here.

The Fair Dep't. Store

Pendleton, Oregon

What Makes a Bank Strong?

In judging a bank, always remember that it is the personnel of the stockholders, directors and officers that are behind the institution which give confidence to the depositor that his funds are safe.

The Pendleton Savings Bank

Is essentially a "Home" Institution. Its stockholders are well known Umatilla county and Oregon citizens. Its constant growth is the result of careful and conservative management, with the most liberal treatment for all deserving enterprise.

Capital and Surplus $250,000.00

STOCKHOLDERS.

W. J. Furnish	T. J. Morris	Montie B. Gwinn
R. T. Cox	Herbert Boylen	F. W. Vincent
Joseph Basler	A. Devlin	E. L. Smith
E. Boettcher	J. W. Maloney	C. E. Roosevelt
L. Dusenberry	A. E. Lambert	R. N. Stanfield
E. W. McComas	J. H. Raley	Clarence F. Lewis
A. C. Koepfen	R. Alexander	Merton Jack
J. N. Teal	T. G. Montgomery	Al Page
Frank S. Carl	Estate of D. P. Thompson	