Pheasants Domesticated.

Game Warden Mullen has been investigating a report from the Moxie that a rancher there had captured pheasants in his possession, says the Yakima Republic. This report he found to be incorrect, though the rancher, J. LeGasse, had a number of pheasants, and Mr. Mullen was glad to see them. The rancher, in working over a field which had been neglected last year, found two pheasants nests. In each there were 16 eggs. The birds having been frightened away by the workmen, the rancher took the eggs home and placed the whole lot under one hen. In a few days 14 pheasants hatched and the hen then left the nest with the young ones and, of course, abandoned the other eggs. This means that one batch of eggs was fertile, as the other batch was too, but they were not of the same age, and there being no second hen available, one brood was lost. Those that hatched were getting along nicely and seemed to take to the domestic conditions and their barnyard mother. The rancher was very much interested in the birds and their welfare, so as a matter of policy was encouraged.

Y. M. C. A. Dedicated.

With ceremonies befitting the occasion, the new Y. M. C. A. building will be formally dedicated tomorrow and on Monday, between the hours of 2 and 10 o'clock p. m. the home of the association in Pocatello will be thrown open to the general public who assisted so materially in the establishment of the institution, says the Pocatello Tribune.

The exercises of tomorrow will be for men, and the program will be varied to include both the dedication of the building, addresses, the principal of which will be given by Hon. James H. Brady, and music, both vocal and instrumental.

The keys of the building will be handed over to W. H. Cleare, president of the board, by John P. Congdon, chairman of the building committee, this in itself being symbolic of the completion of the building. Following this ceremony, Hon. James H. Brady will deliver the address. As Mr. Brady was the chairman of the general committee in the fund-raising, which but recently insured, and through its efforts guaranteed the completion of the building, his address will naturally be listened to with interest, since it will reflect what the association stands for in the community.

Automobile Races.

North Yakima automobile owners have expressed such a readiness to participate in an automobile parade and race meet on May 30, Decoration day, that the plans of a meet for that day at the state fair grounds are being pushed, says the Republic. The management of the affair is very anxious to do nothing which will in any way interfere with the legitimate purposes of the day or to set up an amusement attraction as opposition to the objects for which the day has been dedicated. Neither is there any intention to create for Decoration day a character never intended. Grand Army services, the plans of fraternal orders and of private mourners will in no way be interfered with. Such features as are contemplated, involving the automobiles and their owners, will not be presented until late in the afternoon when other duties of the day have been performed. The day as a public holiday will have a great many people with leisure time on their hands and it is to these more particularly that the race meet will cater.

After Artesian Water.

Ex-Senator Tom Sumner, of Everett, a man of considerable wealth and one of the best known politicians of the sound country, has, with several other Everett men, organized a company to hold and develop land near Mabton in the Yakima valley. The company has acquired about 1200 acres above the ditches, and will attempt to reclaim it by means of artesian wells. They have bought an outfit and will go down until they find flowing water, provided it is to be had within a reasonable distance of the surface.

"This Yakima proposition looks pretty good to me," said the senator to the Republic Monday, "and we expect to realize a handsome profit out of our enterprise."

Most people familiar with the conditions believe artesian water can be had at Mabton. Several attempts have been made to bore for it, but the promoters seem to have lacked capital to go down more than 400 or 500 feet. —North Yakima Republic.

late William L. Elkins, of Philadelphia; Peter A. B. Widener of Philadelphia, and the estate of William C. Whitney.

Ryan owns 60,000 shares of the common stock and draws an income of nearly $2000 a day, or $600,000 a year, from his trust holdings. Col. Payne owns 52,000 shares, the Elkins' estate owns 10,000 shares, President Duke holds 15,000 shares and George Arents of this city, one of the original organizers, holds 12,000 shares. The trust has been doing, until the recent slump, a tremendously profitable business, paying as high as 22 per cent dividends. The dividends on the preferred are not limited in amount.

The trust is controlled by the Ryan Syndicate which first organized the Union Tobacco company, and then clubbed the American Tobacco company into absorbing them at a fancy price, after which the Ryan crowd proceeded to snatch the reins from those whom they found in power.

The executive brains of the trust is President Duke, who began life in the south without means. The financial brains of the combine, since W. C. Whitney's death, has been Thomas F. Ryan.

The tobacco trust has a practical monopoly of the cigar, cigarette, snuff, licorice, cheroot and chewing and smoking trade in North and South America and Great Britain.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all.

Mrs. Putnam Yeck, living in Elgin, Oregon, says: "I had known of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills before having occasion to use them. When suffering from an attack of lame back, accompanied by pains through my kidneys, I procured a box and began their use. If I sat long the pains were always more severe and I experienced a languid, dizzy feeling upon first arising in the morning. Doan's Kidney Pills banished the backache, regulated the action of my kidneys and lifted a great burden from me. I cannot express my gratitude toward Doan's Kidney Pills for the good they have done me."

Irrigation Talk No. 25.

Five Reasons.

REASON I.

Moisture is retained for weeks by the rich volcanic ash which forms the soil of the Furnish irrigated lands. Thus crop failure is made impossible.

REASON II.

While at a low altitude in a pocket of the Columbia valley, thus having a hot long growing season, the Furnish irrigated lands are on gently sloping benches lying above all neighboring irrigated lands. Soil drainage and air drainage thus secured except from alkali and frosts.

REASON III.

Best soil of a famous country. One per cent of entire wheat crop of the United States is raised in Umatilla county, Oregon—bumper crops—without irrigation. Acreage of irrigated land is limited and Furnish project embraces the most desirable.

REASON IV.

Water already on land. Big canal is finished, water is running, all lands have been owned for years by present owner, all rights long established and unquestioned. Your title direct from owner—everything ready for you to get a crop first season.

REASON V.

Rail and river transportation to growing markets. The big cities, seaports, mining camps, lumber camps sawmills, etc., of the entire Columbia river valley are available direct by long established, quick rail and water transportation.
