BALLOONS FOR BOYS

FREE TICKETS TO BIG CIRCUS EXCITES THE KIDS

Four Miniature Airships Have Already Been Sent Up by East Oregonian and Two More Are to Follow—Free Pass to Sells Floto Shows Saturday to the Boy Who Captures the Tag—Last Chance Comes Tomorrow Afternoon at 4 O'clock.

Great excitement has been prevailing in the ranks of the Pendleton three footers for the past few days and will continue for at least two days more.

The usual troubles incident to the usual balloon ascension have marked the flights of the East Oregonian's balloons bearing tickets to the big circus which will be here Saturday. Despite the trouble of high wind and poor balloons, one has been sent up each evening at 4 o'clock as per advertisement and as a result there are four tickled kids in town.

Today the conditions are more favorable and it is believed that the first really successful ascension from the spectators' viewpoint will be made. A fresh supply of airships have been received from Portland and the absence of a strong wind makes it probable that the flight will be better and that the youngsters will have more of a race to get the coveted prizes than they have had so far.

The sixth and last balloon with the big teddy bear on the side will be sent up from the top of the East Oregonian building tomorrow at 4.

Church of the Redeemer. Thursday being Ascension day, the holy communion will be celebrated at 7:30 a. m. Divine service with short sermon at 10:30 a. m.

W. R. Davis, private secretary to the late Governor Sparks, died at his home in Carson Saturday of stomach trouble. Davis was better known as "Riley" Davis. He served as secretary to Governor Sparks since he first took office. Through the death of the late governor and his secretary, business in the state and federal buildings is at a standstill.

KOEPFENS

THE DRUG STORE THAT SERVES YOU BEST.

Pendleton, Ore., May 25, 1908.
To the Voters of Umatilla and Morrow Counties.

Having, at a late day, been nominated by individual electors of the sixth judicial district, for the office of district attorney, my name will appear upon the official ballot as an independent candidate.

For various reasons I have found it impossible to make any kind of a canvass and I desire to state to the public, through the press, the particular principles upon which I stand.

I believe in law and order and that all law should be observed by all persons, and whenever any penal law is violated it should be enforced by the proper officers, courts and juries.

That all statutes enacted for the protection of persons, property and good morals should be kept alive and effective.

It is necessary for all executive officers, and especially the district attorney, to act with great caution and discretion so as to prevent unnecessary expense to the county and state. The office of district attorney is necessarily an expensive one and for that reason the incumbent should protect the taxpayers in every possible way. Taxes are much too high; there should be retrenchment in every department. It is the duty of the district attorney to advise all executive officers as to what is legal, and to prevent them from doing that which is unlawful. In that capacity it is the duty to advise and guide the county court in the expenditures, which the law imposes upon it. The taxes of Umatilla county have been increased of late years by the unlawful expenditure of very large sums of money, for which reason the taxpayers might, if they saw fit to resort to the courts, repudiate a large portion of the existing debt of Umatilla county.

By this I refer to the voluntary creation of county indebtedness over the amount of $5000 limited by the constitution; all of which indebtedness having been declared by the supreme court of this state to be absolutely void even in the hands of innocent purchasers.

I am in favor of every possible retrenchment, that taxes may be reduced.

In politics I have, in the past, affiliated with the democrats and peoples' parties. Upon the non-partisan questions I have always stood for prohibition and local option and I favor statement No. 1.

If I should be elected as district attorney of the sixth judicial district, I will endeavor to do my duty fairly and impartially.

As to my qualifications, I will only say that I have practiced in this state for over 28 years.

I am under no obligations to any party, class or individuals for I have made no promises or combinations.

Missed Rabbit, Struck a House.

A stray shot from a 30-30 rifle, fired at a jack rabbit near Hull's gulch, about a half mile from the city, came near causing a tragedy yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, the bullet crashing through the door of a brick house on Tenth street, between Ridenbaugh and Lemp streets, going about three inches over the head of the gentleman living in the house and burying itself in the wall on the other side of the room, says the Boise Capital News.

The shot was fired by J. C. Berry, elevator conductor in the Sonna building, and he would probably never would have known how close he came to ending a life had not the German, whom he barely missed, dug the bullet out of the brick wall and taken it to the hills, where he found Mr. Berry and his companions and informed them of the affair.

Open Land On Payette Lakes.

One hundred tracts of land on the west side of Payette lakes, with a frontage of 100 feet and a depth of 300 feet, have been surveyed and platted off by the state engineer's department and will probably be placed on the market at a public sale to be held by the state land board in response to petitions from many people who desire to secure sites upon which to erect summer resorts, says the Boise Capital News.

Secretary of State Robert Lansdon, representing the board of state land commissioners, visited the lakes last week in company with Charles W. Spearman of the state engineer's office to inspect the lands with a view to determining the advisability of placing small tracts of land along the lakes upon the market, returning to Boise today.

A report of conclusions reached during the trip will be made to the land board probably at the next regular session and it is expected that favorable action will be taken toward placing the tracts as surveyed and platted on the west side of the lakes on the market.

THE MIST AND THE SEA.

The mist crept in from the sea
Out of the void and the vast;
And it bore the silver rain
A shimmering guest in its train,
And many a murmuring strain,
Soft as sleep's footfalls be
The mist crept in from the sea.

The mist crept in from the sea,
And folded the length of the shore
In the clasp of the mothering arms
As though it would shield from harms;
And lulled were the loud alarms,
And lost was the rage and roar
Of the surge, so soothingly
The mist crept in from the sea.

The mist crept in from the sea,
White, impalpably, strange;
Full of the wafture of wings,
Of eerie and eldritch things,
Of visions and vanishings
Ever in shift and change;
Silently, hauntingly,
The mist crept in from the sea.

The mist crept in from the sea,
And abode for a space, and then
It heard the imperious call
And it knew itself as the thrall
Of the world old master of men,
So, still as the dreams that flee
The mist crept back to the sea.

This is the way lands have advanced in successful Irrigation projects elsewhere.

The Columbia Land Company started in at the same old hundred dollar price. The Furnish-Coe lands are worth more to start with, but it was determined to start with a price that the lands should go promptly in order that there should be a "first season's showing."

Our first advance comes on June 1st. After that date twenty-five dollars will be added to the prices of every acre of land under our ditches. These lands will then be very much too cheap.
