IDAHO WOOL MARKET SHOWS NO IMPROVEMENT

The Boise News says of the condition of the wool market in that city and in southern Idaho:

What are eastern wool buyers going to offer for the Idaho clip this year? This is the question which is puzzling local sheepmen who are at a loss to understand the peculiar market conditions.

The fact that the eastern buyers in the city and have been here ever since the clipping season opened, without making any advances, causes endless speculation as to what the nature of the orders are under which they are acting.

For the past month as many as five representatives of eastern wool firms have been stopping at the Idanha and have been quietly watching developments with the clip. They will make no advance to local woolmen and are offering no inducements.

When seen this morning by a representative of the Capital News, one of the prominent sheepmen of the state and an officer of the Idaho association said that he failed utterly to comprehend the situation in the wool market and would very much like to know what the eastern buyers, who are here, intended to do.

It was learned that approximately 1,000,000 pounds of wool from this year's clip has already been shipped out of this state to the eastern market on consignments which were made before the clip started by local sheepmen.

The clip is better than usual and as large as that of last year, the grade being finer.

When asked if it would be possible that the Idaho producers would attempt to centralize their wool with the purpose of holding it for future delivery and until the market opens up and better prices are offered, the sheepman said that he had heard nothing to this effect and that he did not think this would be done, although the conditions right now are so unusual that it would be hard to tell what would result.

Habitual Constipation

May be permanently overcome by proper personal efforts with the assistance of the one truly beneficial laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, which enables one to form regular habits daily so that assistance to nature may be gradually dispensed with when no longer needed as the best of remedies, when required, are to assist nature and not to supplant the natural functions, which must depend ultimately upon proper nourishment, proper efforts, and right living generally. To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine

A query was advanced as to whether any of the Idaho clip this year had been sold at 10 cents and this was instantly denied with the answer that the Idaho wool would bring a better price than that anywhere.

Several of the eastern buyers were consulted at the hotel this afternoon, but without exception they had nothing to offer. When asked how long they intended to stay in this territory and what their plans or offers are about buying the Idaho clip, the buyers failed to comprehend the drift of the conversation and said they did not know. They are apparently waiting.

Local woolmen have been informed that business rushed for the Utah Woolgrowers' association recently when the Salt Lake office filed with the sheepmen from different parts of the state who had come to make arrangements to store their wool in the east.

JOINT REPRESENTATIVE.

(Umatilla and Morrow.)
Editorial from Irrigon Irrigator, Morrow county being joined to Umatilla county as the XXII Legislative District, we have in this county no chance to be represented at Salem save by the good will and liberality of the people of Umatilla county, for they poll over three votes to our one, or about 4000 to our 1200.

In all fairness between the two counties that would entitle us to the representative every third term, and we are glad to say that the good people of Umatilla concede that much to us, always without any quibbling.

At the elections in 1904 and 1906 Morrow county made no effort to secure the representative, acknowledging the implied agreement that when we elected Bert Phelps in 1902 we would not present a candidate again until 1908, consequently at the two last elections we have taken the nominees as given to us by Umatilla county.

Now it is "our turn," and the people of Umatilla recognize the fact, and we believe they will "tote fair" with us as they always have done. In fact, before the primaries numbers of the leading citizens of that county sent word to the Irrigator, and numerous others of the county, that Umatilla was going to stand aside and let Morrow have the representative.

And we nominated Mr. T. J. Mahoney, of Ione, of course we are speaking exclusively as to the republican party, and Umatilla cast a solid vote for him, the same as we did, at the primaries.

Mr. Mahoney is not generally known in Umatilla county. Since his advent into this county some seven or eight years ago he has kept pretty busy attending to his business as cashier of the Bank of Ione, and has not been over Umatilla county generally, so he is not personally acquainted with the majority of the voters.

But the Irrigator wishes to say to the voters of that county, that this district has never had a better man presented for this responsible office than Mr. Mahoney, and there is no man in either of the counties who would be more conscientious in the discharge of his duties than "Tom" Mahoney.

He is a good man in every way. As straight as a string, as true as steel, honest and reliable in all things; but beyond that he is gifted with rare intelligence and fine business acumen.

In offering him to the people of Umatilla as our candidate (speaking always as a republican), we have presented the best man we have for that office, and ask from our Umatilla friends and neighbors the same loyal support which we gave their candidates at the last two elections, and the same support they gave our candidate, Mr. Phelps, in 1902.

That Mr. Mahoney will get such support, and that he will be triumphant is elected, is a certainty, and Morrow thanks Umatilla in advance, and will stand aside for that county at the elections two and four years hence.—Republican Central Committee.

Colds That Hang On.

Colds that hang on in the spring deplete the system, exhaust the nerves and open the way for serious illness. Take Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly stops the cough and expels the cold. It is safe and certain in results. Pendleton Drug Co.

Farmers, Look Here!

Look out for a lying poster gotten out by the liquor men at the last moment, comparing Linn county. All we need to say is that Mr. Wylie of Pendleton is from there where he made his home. He says as others do that Mayor Matlock's son has no drug store and never had. That entire poster is a tissue of lies. There is not a word of truth in it. Two years ago they published declarations from men in Texas, and from various parts of the land when the mater was looked up by telephone it was discovered that these wholesale liars had printed a lot of letters, every one of which had been forged. This is simply filled with a lot of lies. If you ask the saloonmen here about it they know nothing about it and will not own it because they know it is full of lies and made out of whole cloth. The farmers and businessmen are supplying all the money for this campaign. They are tired of having their labor ruined and their taxes increased so much. Like North Carolina, they will vote it out. Fifteen farmers were interviewed the other day. Fourteen out of the 15 are for local option.—Umatilla County Local Option Committee.

For Sale—Nine-room cottage, good location, good order. Too large for present owner. Enquire 100 Bluff street.

SPECULATION MUST CEASE.

There's a Sure Cure for Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and Catarrhs, so Why Should People Speculate.

Remember, Hyomel will cure the above named disorders or Tallman & Co. will give you your money back. Go to them and ask for a Hyomel outfit, which consists of a bottle of Hyomel (a very liberal supply) and a pocket inhaler that will last a lifetime. The whole outfit only costs $1, and if at any time afterward you need another bottle of Hyomel to use with your inhaler, it will cost you 50 cents. Ask them about it. They will recommend it.

"I think your Hyomel is a grand medicine; it has done for me what doctors could not do, and I've tried everything. I had such a bad cough, and nothing I took did me any good, and I tried your inhaler, and I never had anything help me so much or so quick. Wishing you long and prosperous lives I remain, your true friend, Saba Shelton, Metz, Ind."

NEW RAILROAD RUSHES TO COAST

C. M. & ST. PAUL BUILDING
ING RAPIDLY WESTWARD

Scene of Activity in the Dakotas, Montana and Washington—Review of the Line From Chicago to Pacific Coast Terminus at Tacoma—To be Finished in Spring of 1908.

The Chicago American prints the following entertaining story of the rapid conclusion of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad to the Pacific coast and describes as follows the country through which it passes.

By reason of an unusual spurt in work representatives of the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul road say they expect to have the great transcontinental line finished from Chicago to Seattle and Tacoma next spring.

Regular trains are now operated on the new Pacific coast line as far as Moberly, Lemmon, Hettinger, Bowman and Marmarth, in the Dakotas; to Terry, Miles City, Musselshell and Harlowton, in Montana.

Not in the history of railroads has a line been constructed with such speed. The route from Butte to Seattle and Tacoma, with towns, districts and engineering feats, was given out recently.

From Butte to Garrison, 53 miles, the line goes through the Deer Lodge valley. Then comes the valley of Hellgate river, the timber district. West of St. Maries the road runs through the Coeur d'Alene Indian reservation. The well known Palouse district is reached. This is one of the richest grain and fruit belts of the Trans-Missouri country. At Tekoa the Oregon Short Line will be crossed on a steel structure 1000 feet long.

From Rosalia the line continues through this fertile and well settled country 20 miles to Palisade. There it reaches the shores of Rock Lake. The banks of the lake are rocky and precipitous, excelling in beauty the far-famed palisades of the Hudson.

From Palisade the line follows the banks of the lake five and one-half miles to the new town of Lavista, at the foot of the lake; thence 37 miles through a country capable of producing grain, but which has hitherto not been developed for lack of railroad facilities. Six miles east of Roiston the line passes over Cow creek on a steel structure 1495 feet long. From Lind to the Columbia river at Beverly, 73 miles, the line passes through the new towns of Roxboro, Warden and Othello.

The crossing of the Columbia river is made on a bridge of 15 spans of steel trusses, supported by massive concrete piers, the channe span being placed so high a draw is unnecessary. Twenty-five miles after leaving the Columbia river the line enters the well known Kittitas valley, which is irrigated by water drawn from the river.

The line passes through a timbered country to Snoqualmie pass, through the Cascade mountains, at an elevation of 3010 feet. The Cedar river is then followed into Seattle. The line to Tacoma parallels the Interurban.

Grading the whole length of the line is progressing rapidly with greatly increased forces, excellent progress is being made upon the tunnels, and the Columbia river bridge and all lesser structures of the same character are in a state of advancement which makes certain that they will be ready when the grading is completed. Track-laying on the coast will begin at Seattle and progress as rapidly as the heavy work in the Cascade mountains is completed.

Do the Taxpayers Want Prohibition in Umatilla County?

That question will be voted upon at the election held June 1, 1908.

The prohibitionists give us for example Lane county, Oregon, for the reason that Lane county's voting population is about the same as that of Umatilla county. They also inform us that Lane county has had prohibition for a period of two years, but indications are that it is in name only. The internal revenue office in Portland Oregon, shows that on May 10, 1908, 55 government liquor licenses were held by the citizens of Lane county, which made a gain of 10 on the same licenses over the preceding year. Each license cost the applicant $25, and it is very evident that the holder of each license is dispensing liquor thereunder.

The mayor of Eugene, who spoke at Oregon City on the evening of May 15, 1908, in the interests of the prohibitionists, stated that the business conditions in that county were far better under prohibition than without it, and that his son's business had increased from $30,000 per year prior to prohibition, to $60,000 per year after prohibition was adopted, BUT HE FAILED TO TELL HIS AUDIENCE THAT HIS SON WAS ENGAGED IN THE DRUG BUSINESS AND HELD ONE OF THOSE GOVERNMENT LICENSES TO SELL LIQUOR.

During the past year there was shipped into Lane county bottled beer aggregating 200 per cent greater sale in that line of goods than under the retail liquor license law, and during the past year bottled whisky, commonly known as case goods, exceeded 400 per cent greater sale than under the retail license law.

We admit that prohibition, such as they have in Lane county, is good for the lawyers and professional jurymen, for about all they have done in Lane county for the last two years is to prosecute offenders against the prohibition law, and in the prosecutions thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money has been wasted and but little accomplished.

One conviction in Linn county cost the taxpayers a little over $4000. Thirteen trials with verdicts of not guilty in 47 days and one conviction. The farmers pay their share of the additional expense.

Who Are Working for Prohibition? A few preachers who never paid one dollar in taxes in their lives.

Now ask them why Linn county has 44 government liquor licenses issued to its citizens, and 55 in Lane county? Both prohibition.

The druggists and lawyers are rich in prohibition counties, but the taxpayer pays the "fiddler."—Central Committee.
