SHEARING IS OVER

ONE HUNDRED SHEARERS LEAVE FOR MONTANA

Shearing Begins in Montana About June 10 and Ends July 15—Season in Umatilla Has Been Unsatisfactory and No High Shearing Records Have Been Made.

Sheepshearing in Umatilla county is now about finished and 100 sheepshearers who have been engaged in the work in the county for the past six weeks have gone to Montana, where they will shear during the remainder of the season. The Montana shearing season will not begin until about June 10, the weather being much colder there than in this county and the season will consequently not close until about July 15. The price paid in Montana this year for hand shearing is nine cents per head. Few machines have been introduced into that state as yet.

Montana sheep are very clean owing to the absence of sand on the ranges and shearers can shear large numbers by hand and shear them closely also, and therefore there is not the demand for machine shearing that there is in this and other eastern Oregon counties. The shearing season in Umatilla county this year was very unsatisfactory. The weather was cold and cloudy and the shearing records were not high.

BANKERS TO BE TRIED.

New York Financiers Soon to Be Brought Before the Bar of Justice.

New York, June 2.—It is announced that the trials of Charles W. Morse, F. Augustus Heinze and Alfred H. Curtis, on charges connected with their conduct of New York banks, will begin in October. All three have pleaded not guilty to the indictments against them.

Curtis was formerly president and Morse vice president of the National Bank of North America of this city. They are accused of conspiring to deceive the bank examiners by making false entries in the bank's books to conceal loans alleged to have been obtained in order to promote speculation in the stock market of the American Ice company and the Consolidated Steamship company, in which they were interested.

Heinze is accused of over-certifying checks to the amount of $437,000 as president of the Mercantile National bank for the benefit of the firm of Otto Heinze & Co., of which his brother was a member.

Irrigation Talk, No. 35

REAL LIFE

There is a whole lot of real life down at the Furnish-Coe lands back of Foster.

That was a wonderful combination—Furnish and Coe. Furnish had the project and the lands. Coe had the organization of trained men who were accustomed with him to move things. He had the enthusiasm of a successful man, in the vigor of health and with the fullest confidence in the enterprise.

Just think of it! Within 60 days 20 per cent of the lands were sold. One per cent every three days. That is the Coe method of moving things. Furnish holds the ditch management and has put the greatest irrigation engineer in the United States on the project. Not a consulting engineer, but as actual resident engineer.

There is real life down on the Furnish-Coe lands. Prices now $125 an acre, will be advanced shortly.

MORE FREIGHT BOATS FOR COLUMBIA

As a result of the meeting of the executive board of the Open River association in conjunction with the Columbia River Transportation company in Portland, on Friday, plans were formulated for pushing the undertaking of placing boats on the Columbia river, which will be able to relieve, if not to handle, all the crops raised in the inland empire country at just and reasonable rates, says the Walla Walla Union.

The plan formulated, according to Dr. N. G. Blalock, who has recently returned from Portland, is to raise money by subscription to shares in steamers. Dr. Blalock is of the opinion that the boats may be made to pay actual dividends to the shareholders, or at the least can be made to pay expenses, so that it is not asking for a donation in any sense of the word to ask a man to buy shares. In speaking of the proposition, Dr. Blalock said:

"At the time of the meeting of the executive board, last Friday, Portland had raised over $40,000 and had only recently started the subscription lists. At least $100,000 must be raised and it will be necessary for the people of the inland empire to help if the project is to be assured of success."

"In a few days a mass meeting of the local people who are interested in the transportation problem confronting this section will be called. The matter will be laid before the Commercial club at once. The subscription lists will not be opened until after this meeting.

"Prompt action will be necessary in order that the boats may be in operation by fall. The present intentions are to get a line of boats in operation from Portland to Priest Rapids at least. If we can get two goods boats into operation between Kennebec and Priest Rapids the connections will be about complete. The Yakima is offered for sale at reasonable figures and a committee has been appointed to examine it and determine whether it is advisable to purchase it."

The following self-explanatory letter was received yesterday by Dr. Blalock from J. N. Teal, secretary of the Open River Transportation company of Portland: "I herewith enclose you form of subscription list for stock in the Open River Transportation company.

"Confirming my conversation of yesterday, it is the purpose and desire of those interested in this matter to establish a line of boats to the interior that will be of service of broad lines. We will not, and cannot, begin with less than two boats above Celilo. As you are aware, to be of service this year, these boats must be gotten under way at once.

"We are now on a canvass to secure from $100,000 to $125,000 additional subscriptions in Portland. We, of course, feel that the interests of the interior and our own are mutual, and the subscriptions to stock should be made up about the same as we do here.

The subscriptions have, and are being made by the banks, property holders and business men generally, and are varying in amount from $5000 to $250. We will not undertake to do anything unless we have enough to do it right. Therefore what we do will depend upon subscriptions to the stock. Whoever subscribes can do so with the assurance that unless we can build at least two boats this fall for the upper river we will not go ahead."

To this letter Mr. Teal adds the postscript that shares of stock are $100 each and that the desire is that fractional shares be avoided to prevent the trouble that would result.
