

This woman says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved her life. Read her letter.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words. For years I suffered with the worst forms of female complaints, continually doctoring and spending lots of money for medicine without help. I wrote you for advice, followed it as directed, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has restored me to perfect health. Had it not been for you I should have been in my grave to-day. I wish every suffering woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

PROSAC ENDING TO GREAT PLACER EXCITEMENT.

Man Who Bought Thousands of Acres Near Lander, Wyoming, Declares Ground Was Salted—Mining Operations, Abandoned and Property Turned Over for Sheep Pasture.

The following is from the Casper Tribune:

"H. B. Greenough of Spokane passed through Casper last Thursday on his way to Lander. Mr. Greenough has 26,000 acres of land in the Red canyon country, and he will stock it with sheep. It will be remembered that Mr. Greenough purchased considerable land in this country for mining purposes, but he has figured it out that it will be more profitable for stock grazing."

This short item tells the story of the end of one of the most sensational episodes in the mining annals of Wyoming.

Over a year ago H. B. Greenough and his associates, all Spokane men, began to quietly purchase ranch lands in the Red canyon country in Fremont county, following the explorations of prospectors, geologists and mining experts, who made what appeared to be thorough investigations of lands which the Greenoughs subsequently purchased.

It was for many years generally believed in Lander that in the Red canyon district were rich placer deposits and a number of reputable citizens were quoted at the time as saying that to their knowledge, gold in considerable quantities had been discovered by primitive placer mining methods.

The Greenoughs became interested in the stories of the gold deposits and after taking steps to assure themselves that the mineral was really there, prepared to develop the lands on a large scale, even going so far as to purchase ranch lands down the river known to have no mineral value, but which it was planned would be the dumping ground of the tailings from the placer works. Expensive machinery was purchased and hauled to the ground when without warning the statement was made that the placers had been "salted," that there was no gold, and that the mining company would take no further steps toward placer development.

No charges were ever brought into court and while some investigations were reported to have been made, public interest turned to other things and as indicated in the Casper Tribune paragraph, the lands once purchased as placer claims are now being put to good use in the raising of sheep.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. THE PRISON BIRD.

This African Beauty Seals His Mate Up In the Nest.

The peculiarity of the prison bird, a feathered beauty of Africa, is that he is the most tyrannical and jealous of husbands, imprisoning his mate throughout her nesting time. Livingstone watched the bird's habits while in Monpour and in his subsequent observations referred to the nest as a prison and the female bird as a slave.

The nest is built in the hollow of a tree through an opening in the bark. As soon as it is completed the mother bird enters carefully and fearfully and settles down in it. Then papa walls up the opening, leaving only just space enough for air and food to pass through. He keeps faithful guard and brings food at regular intervals without fail. The female thrives under her enforced retirement. But if the prison bird is killed or in any other way prevented from fulfilling his duties the mother and her little ones must die of starvation, for she cannot feed herself from bondage.

Normally the imprisonment lasts until the chicks are old enough to fly. Then the male bird destroys the barrier with his beak and liberates his family. "It is charming," writes Livingstone, "to see the joy with which the little prisoners greet the light and the unknown world."

TOBACCO POISON.

If You Must Smoke, Puff Your Cigar or Pipe Leisurely.

That it is much more injurious to smoke quickly than slowly is the conclusion arrived at by two Austrian scientists after careful study and experiment.

The two professors—Dr. Liebermann and Dr. Davidovics—tested pieces of cotton which had been placed in the mouthpieces of pipes and cigar holders and found them covered with yellowish brown flecks. These were found to be of a tarry nature, produced during the process of combustion, and highly poisonous.

It was found also that two cigars of the same brand and strength often produced differing degrees of discoloration of the cotton. Further investigation showed that these differences were due to the length of time occupied in smoking. The same weight of tobacco smoked in five minutes produced nearly three times as many yellowish brown spots as if it were smoked in fifteen minutes. The professors therefore concluded that a rapid smoker inhales a much larger quantity of poisonous substance, to the consequent injury of his health, than does his more phlegmatic colleague.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Horses and Music.

Horses are particularly sensitive to music. Guenoe, who carefully studied the matter, quotes the following curious fact: "In 1802 the Fifty-eighth regiment of Infantry was making a military test march when the music struck up. The young horse of Captain De R. hastened forward and placed itself, in spite of its rider, behind the last rank of the musicians. Then it followed peacefully, giving obvious signs of pleasure.

"When the music ceased the captain was able to resume his place at the head of his company, but the band struck up again, and the horse, notwithstanding the efforts of Captain De R., galloped ahead and once more placed itself behind the musicians. This happened every time the band played."

Lions have been found to listen with marked joy to the piano. They appreciate the top notes and the medium, but roar terribly when the bass keys are struck loudly.—Paris Revue.

Her Sweet Revenge.

Difficult subjects require careful handling, and for this reason a room clerk at a woman's hotel must have special qualifications. One of the many applicants to approach a clerk of this class was a young, prepossessing woman, who, a few days ago, walked to the desk and hesitatingly asked if a room could be had at a moderate price. "Would you like a room at a dollar and a half a day?" With a startled look she replied, "I want one at $3 a week." "We have rooms at that price, but none vacant. You can see that the office is full of guests, and it is not probable that we shall have such a room as you desire until one of our guests dies—or gets married." Sweeping the office with her eyes, the young woman replied sweetly, "Oh, then, it is hopeless!"—New York Tribune.

Changed Accompaniment.

One can hardly be expected to have "music in his soul" when there is discord in his stomach. Husband—What was that you were playing, my dear? Wife—Did you like it? "It was lovely—the melody divine, the harmony exquisite!" "It is the very thing I played last evening, and you said it was horrid." "Well, the steak was burned last evening."—Stray Stories.

Pretty Bad.

Boston Bill—I'm getting weary of this blasé, nomadic, peripatetic existence. Aren't you, pal? Omaha Red (after recovering)—Why—er—you see, Bill, it never struck me in dat light before. Is it really as bad as all dat?—Puck.

Art Appreciation.

"You Americans don't appreciate art," said the man from abroad. "We don't, eh?" rejoined the earnest patriot. "Why, we pay some opera singers more than we do baseball players!"—Exchange.
