a proposition to increase the capitalization of the concern from $250,000 to $750,000 will be voted upon.
The cost of the land, of the construction of the immense power canal and the erection of the pumping machinery and other work of the company has been more than $500,000 up to date and it is more than probable that the extension of the scope of the project is planned.

Among visitors to Hanford last week were Samuel Hill, W. J. Hillgoss, of St. Paul, one of Hill's chief land appraisers, and N. W. Miller, chief construction engineer of the North Bank railroad, and each of them spent several days going over the territory to be watered and inspecting the plant.
There is no doubt that Hill intends at an early date to build a branch of the North Bank road from Pasco via the Columbia to a point of junction with the Great Northern system, and this would give the easy grade road down the river to Vancouver the chance to handle economically practically all of the heavy freight destined for tidewater originating in the state of Washington. Incidentally, the road would pass through White Bluffs, Hanford and the growing settlements all along the Columbia to Wenatchee.

J. L. Carter in the Legislature.

Carter, who in 1894 was elected school superintendent of Union county on the republican ticket and who contested the election of Miss Nellie Stevens, the populist candidate and took the office from her after she had received a large majority over him, has just been elected a member of the legislature from Wasco county, he having resided at Hood River for a number of years.

Northwest Field Meet.
Minneapolis, Minn., June 5.—A field and track meet which promises to be the most interesting in the history of the Northwestern Interscholastic Athletic association, will be held tomorrow on Northrop Field and has attracted entries from many of the crack high school athletes of this section. The cross country run and the mile relay have been abandoned and the half-mile relay substituted for the latter.

BIG TRACK MEET.

Best Athletes on the Coast Will Contest at Portland.

Portland, Ore., June 5.—All the leading amateur athletic clubs, schools and colleges of the Pacific coast will be represented by entries in tomorrow's great track and field meet of the Pacific Northwest association. California, Washington and Oregon amateurs will participate and the meet will decide the championship of the Pacific coast. As the athletic feature of this week's big rose carnival, the meet will probably be witnessed by a record-breaking crowd.

The Olympic club of San Francisco, has again sent a team north and hopes to gather in a goodly share of honors. Last year the Olympic club team of four men composed of Garner, Cheek, Gerhardt and Gilmore won the championship, each contestant of the winged "O" organization taking two first places. Cheek annexing an additional three points with second place in the high jump.

CHICAGO GIRL'S IDEAL.

Model Husband Must Swear and Be Able to Buy Meat Ticket.

An Omaha paper asked its unmarried women readers the following question: "If you were to exercise your leap year privilege what kind of a man would you propose to?" The prize offered for the best answer went to Miss Myrtle Bascom of 339 La Salle street, Chicago.

Here are some of the qualifications of Miss Bascom's ideal man:
He must be a good meat ticket provider.
He must be able to swear when the occasion demands it.
He must not stay out too many nights in the week. But he would not be forced to tell where he had been.
He must be old enough to know what life is. He can't learn this too young.

He must have a face that will attract dogs and babies. Beauty is no object.
He must have just enough money to know where the next meal is coming from, and not enough so that he can live without working.
He must be an American and a gentleman. Foreign noblemen and Americans of the Thaw class need not apply.

Miss Bascom does not think that beauty should enter into a marriage contract. It is all the same whatever the parties look like if they are suited with each other, she says.

Western Athletic Meet.

Chicago, June 5.—College athletes from the Ohio river to the Pacific coast will be seen in action here tomorrow at the big intercollegiate conference meet. Practically all of the leading universities and colleges of the middle west have entered teams and the far west is represented by the crack athletes of Stanford university. The athletes who will participate are beginning to pour into the city today, and as many teams are accompanied by large crowds of "rooters," tomorrow's meet will doubtless be marked by enthusiastic and clamorous demonstrations on the part of the spectators.

The grandmothers of the old Dutch Dunkard families of western Pennsylvania have made and used "Hickory Bark Cough Remedy" and reared their families on it for a hundred years. Wheat Looks Well North.
J. W. Myrick came in from his ranch at Myrick today and says that wheat in the north part of the county looks fine, notwithstanding the scarcity of rain this spring. Practically all of the wheat north of Pendleton will make a full crop this year, he thinks.

Many brave men become perturbed at the sight of a black cloud.

MURDER MYSTERY REVIVED.

Final Account Filed in Estate of Man Killed 22 Years Ago.

The Willis Skiff murder at North Powder, 22 years ago, was brought vividly to mind this week when McAllister filed the final account in the Skiff estate, with the county clerk of Union county, says the Baker City Democrat. The action has started pioneers gossiping about the supposed murder at that time. Dates conflict slightly, but nevertheless, the fact that Willis Skiff disappeared in the year 1886 and that a body, identified later to be his, was found in the North Powder river the following year, is well known.

History and pioneers say that Skiff was murdered on the steps of a North Powder hotel in 1886. The following year a body was found in the North Powder river and identified as that of Skiff. Others refused to believe this and say that Skiff is alive or at least lived after the finding of the body. In any event, 14 years ago saw administration of the personal property in the courts of Union county.

From that day to this the courts have not dealt with the Skiff estate. The final account as filed today specifies that although the estate inventoried at $2240, has badly depreciated and is not worth that amount now by a large margin.

Suspicion pointed strongly at the hotel near which the alleged murder took place. Long and sensational trials followed, but no one was ever convicted of the crime. The proprietor was soon after incarcerated in the insane asylum.

BIG RANCH BRINGS $22,500.

Yakima Dairy Farm Will Be Cut Up Into Fruit Tracts.

The Wilder ranch, located in the upper Naches valley, and known as one of the best pieces of property around Yakima, has been purchased by Fred H. Hess, the consideration being $22,500, says the Yakima Republic. Mr. Hess is from Milwaukee, Wis., and has associated with him in this purchase several other gentlemen who are connected with the passenger department of eastern railroads.

It is the intention of the investor to make this one of the banner fruit farms of the Yakima valley. The whole 120 acres will be set to fruit this fall. Mr. Wilder, who owned the ranch, has lived on it for 29 years.

getting his title from the government. He has operated the place for hay and dairy purposes.

Large Ranches Being Cut Up.

The Wilder property has never before been on the market. It is one of the many large ranches of the Naches valley that are being set to orchard. For years this section of the Yakima valley has been more of a stock raising and dairy community than it has been a fruit section. With the advent of hundreds of homeseekers to the Yakima valley Naches ranchers have gradually sold off their large holdings to persons intending to raise fruit.
