 'Twas moonlight on a night in May, I met a traveler walking fast-- I called his name, and bade him stay; "Old friend, we meet at last!" All strange and dark and tall he seemed Under the rising moon-- He turned and said, "I never dreamed That we would meet so soon! You are too young to be my friend-- All hope and boyish breath-- Are you quite sure you know my name?" "Your name," I said, "is Death." --Richard C. Gallene. *****

LAND REFORM NEEDED. When the thoughtful citizen looks over the map of Oregon and sees the monster land grants held in private hands and stretched across the path of state progress, the subject of fundamental land reform is suggested to his mind as one of the pressing needs of the state. While the people of Oregon are dealing with economic questions, while they are taking away the power from politicians and corporations, while they are taking unto themselves their sovereign prerogatives, they should not forget that the present land monopoly is really the greatest curse in the state.

Two or three vast road grants stretch across central Oregon from side to side and there are no roads, as promised by the men who received these grants. On the west coast is the 3,000,000-acre Southern Pacific land grant, standing as a barrier to the settlement of the state.

The military road grants are now mostly in foreign hands and are not for sale or settlement except in rare instances. Private industry cannot touch these vast idle tracts. Surrounding property holders cannot go ahead with reclamation projects because of these barriers. They lie like blighting blotches upon the state, while people are hungry for homes and the state needs the taxes which these idle lands should be turning into the treasury under cultivation.

And so when you come to think of it, land reform, a big, broad, revolutionary change in the land laws, a change which will forever do away with land monopoly, is needed. The people should dig down deep into this subject and correct it. Landlordism is a public nuisance and the people of the state can so declare it. They have the initiative law under which to express their wishes. If the present system of landlordism or land monopoly is a detriment to the state; if it can be shown that it is ruinous to state growth; if it is opposed to the best interests of society, the people can make a law to abolish it. They have that right. And the need for such a law is apparent every time you look at the map of Oregon and note these great idle land grants blocking the progress of the state.

TEMPERANCE, BAH!

The audacity and ignorance which dominates the United States Brewers' association which is now in session in Milwaukee, was never more emphatically displayed than in the statement of President Liebmann of that association, when he said yesterday in an address that "the brewers' association stands for temperance in its best and highest sense."

This very association of which this fellow Liebmann is president, is responsible for the rapid spread of prohibition today. It has sheltered, encouraged and backed with capital and liquor stocks, every disreputable joint in the country, simply through the inordinate greed to sell beer.

This association has started more joints and maintained more dives and kept more low-down saloon men in business than all other interests combined. Because the joints sold beer for members of the association the association protected the joints and the worse the joint and the more beer it sold, the better it has suited this great "moral" association.

However, since the wave of prohibition started over the country in revolt at the wickedness of the liquor business, the brewers' association has had several moral spasms and now the members are falling over themselves in the effort to check the prohibition movement, but this last insult to the good sense of the average American, that the brewers' association stands "for temperance in the best and highest sense," is the limit. Who ever heard of a buzzard cleansing its nest?

FUTURE OF WESTON NORMAL.

The statement of Colonel Ernest Hofer, a member of the state normal school board that the Weston Normal school would be made self-supporting by an attendance of 500 students, gives the people of eastern Oregon a glimpse of what is in store for this school and for Oregon.

Here in the little village of Weston, an ideal school town, is to be built up the great educational institution of eastern Oregon, the only state school so far east of the Cascade mountains. This vast territory, 56,000 square miles in extent, will supply the 500 students. The idle lands of this territory are being settled up. Soon there will be no more idle lands. And then: Pendleton's public schools and private academies, the Weston Normal and Weston public schools will be the training grounds for eastern Oregon teachers. Pendleton is the center of this great empire and Weston is but 18 miles away and to these towns will come the school hungry and ambitious young men and women from hundreds of miles distant to receive a finished education in these towns which are congenial and accessible to all eastern Oregon.

The vital progress made by the Weston Normal school in the past year, the excellent class of graduates of 1908, and the large and increasing attendance will certainly induce the legislature to grant the request for additional facilities. The institution needs the facilities. It is too small for the territory it accommodates. It has outgrown its buildings and there is no reasonable excuse for not making additions to it as its patronage grows.

CONGRESSMAN ELLIS' WORK.

The people of the second congressional district and especially of Umatilla county have every reason to be proud and grateful as a result of the work of Congressman W. R. Ellis at the session of congress just closed.

That he caught up with the work of the office which had been neglected for two years, is a remarkable record, to say nothing of the new work done by him. A vast volume of work had accumulated during the term of Williamson, who was entangled in the land frauds and did not attend the previous session. This work was cleared up by Congressman Ellis without extra cost, while his own work was being carried on.

The passage of the federal building appropriation for Pendleton is due almost entirely to the persistent work of Congressman Ellis and is the first genuine recognition ever secured by any eastern Oregon town from Congress. This alone is a triumph for the eastern Oregon district, in the face of the fact that it is a presidential year when appropriations were cut down to the lowest limit.

James O'Leary's love for the flowing bowl cost him a foot at Glendale Sunday. His home is in Pocastello and he was passing through the Oregon town on a train. While the engine was taking water he ran across the street for a drink and the train, started before he could get back. In trying to get on he fell beneath the wheels.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes--50 cents and $1.00. A. C. Koeppe & Bros.

What Makes a Bank Strong?

In judging a bank, always remember that it is the personnel of the stockholders, directors and officers that are behind the institution which give confidence to the depositor that his funds are safe.

The Pendleton Savings Bank

Is essentially a "Home" institution. Its stockholders are well known Umatilla county and Oregon citizens. Its constant growth is the result of careful and conservative management, with the most liberal treatment for all deserving enterprise.
