ADAMS HAPPENINGS NEWS OF MILTON

WHEAT LOOKS EXCELLENT IN ADAMS COUNTRY.

Some Were Fearing Rust, But Seems No Serious Damage—Young Man in Adams Makes Excellent Record in Walla Walla College.

Adams, June 12.—The wheat crop is looking very good in this section of the county. In some places a little rust is found, but it is not thought that it will be of material damage. The very dry, cold spring has hindered the wheat somewhat, but since the warm weather of the past week has come on it is looking good in most places, and it is now thought that there will be an average crop.

Returns From Walla Walla.
Roy Virgil Perringer has returned from Walla Walla, after graduating at Whitman college at that place. The instructors speak of him as having been one of Whitman's great men for several years. He was captain of the varsity that trounced W. S. C. in 1905, a good baseball man and an excellent student and debater. He is a member of the Y. M. C. A. and the Atheneum and a candidate for degree B. S.

Farmers in the Adams and Helix country are now laying in their winter supply of wood. Teams go over to the Weston mountains daily, and before long many of them will have plenty stored for the winter. The weather has been very warm the past few days, and farmers are watching the crops grow.

Thinks It Saved His Life.

Wester M. Nelson, of Naples, Me., says in a recent letter: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery many years for coughs and colds, and I think it saved my life. I have found it a reliable remedy for throat and lung complaints, and would no more be without a bottle than I would be without food." For nearly 40 years New Discovery has stood at the head of throat and lung remedies. As a preventive of pneumonia, and healer of weak lungs, it has no equal. Sold under guarantee at Tallman & Co.'s drug store. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

STUDENTS LEAVING.

School Will Be Enlarged and Improved Next Year.
Weston, June 12.—Nearly all of the Normal students have left for their respective homes in the last few days since the commencement exercises are over. The people of Weston are indeed pleased to see the excellent showing made in the school the past year, and prospects are even brighter for the next term. There will be a big addition of students for the next term, also.

There is some complaint of rust in the grain fields surrounding here, though the growers are not alarmed, and feel sure of an average crop on most places about here.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve Wins.
Tom Moore, of Rural Route 1, Cochran, Ga., writes: "I had a bad sore come on the instep of my foot and could find nothing that would heal it until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Less than half of a 2 cent box won the day for me by affecting a perfect cure." Sold under guarantee at Tallman & Co.'s drug store.

Judge Blakeley for Mayor.
Judge George C. Blakeley of Wasco county, is being boosted for mayor of The Dalles, and the Optimist of that city says of his candidacy: The Optimist presents to the people of The Dalles for the mayoralty, the name of Hon. George C. Blakeley. This is done without the knowledge or approval of that gentleman, but with the approval of many solid citizens who have spoken to the editor on this subject, a suggestion which met with instant favor from this paper. Judge Blakeley would make an ideal official for this important position.

WHEAT CROP WILL BE ABOUT THE AVERAGE.

Where Soil Is Light There Will Be Only Half Crop—Well Known Young Lady Near Here Marries Idaho Man—Strawberries Galore.

Milton, June 12.—The wheat crop in this section of the county, according to the growers in this vicinity, will be an average yield. The long delayed rains and the prevalent high winds have been almost disastrous to the wheat on the light lands, and in some places there will be only a half crop.

WHITE DOCTOR WILL PRACTICE AMONG ESKIMOS

Dr. Rymer Will Be First Physician to Locate in Far North and to Practice His Profession.

The first white medical man to go into the far north with the idea of creating a permanent practice among the Eskimos and Indians of those regions left Edmonton a few days ago for Fort Good Hope, 1800 miles north on the Mackenzie river, says the Spokane Chronicle.

The hardy doctor entering upon this trip is Dr. James F. Rymer, an English surgeon who has practiced his profession in England, the United States and Canada for many years, states one report. He does not intend to return to civilization for at least three years, and then only on a brief visit.

Dr. Rymer will be the first resident medical man in the far north, and will have only semi-savages for patients—people who observe neither the laws of hygiene nor health. He will practice much farther north than the limits where treaty money is paid to the aborigines, making his headquarters at Fort Good Hope and Fort McPherson, on the fringe of the Arctic ocean, where several virulent forms of disease and fevers have broken out of recent years among the natives, many of whom have died because of the lack of proper medical help.

Only five white people live at Fort Good Hope, these including a Roman Catholic missionary, a Hudson Bay storekeeper and his wife, and two trappers and buyers for the Hilsen & Nagle Fur Trading company. Of these five, only two speak English, French being the language in common use, among the Indians at that point. Dr. Rymer mastered French many years ago and expects to become acquainted with the several Indian dialects within the next few months. He is taking with him enough medicine in a concentrated form to last about a year, and has arranged for another shipment to be forwarded to him next April.

Dr. Rymer comes of an old English medical family; his great grandfather, then a surgeon in the English navy, having discovered a cure for scurvy nearly 150 years ago. His father and grandfather were also medical men of some standing.

Dr. Rymer is 43 years of age and a bachelor. He makes a hobby of photography, and is also an author of some note, contributing to a number of London periodicals.

ACTUAL WORK ON NEW GRADE.

Work Train Crew Begins on Walla Walla Branch Monday.

A work train and a bridge building crew will start out from La Grande Monday to begin the first actual work on the extension of the Elgin branch of the O. R. & N. to Joseph, says the La Grande Star.

A big crew of bridge builders will begin the work of constructing the bridge over the Grand Ronde river where the road enters Walla Walla county. The general construction work will be in charge of Chief of Construction L. C. McCoy, and H. A. Brandon will have charge as chief engineer. Superintendent McCoy is now gathering up the construction crew at Riparia.

It is stated that the bridge over the Grand Ronde will be finished within two weeks. All the material is on the ground and the construction work will go forward very rapidly.

As soon as this crossing is ready there will be three more work trains put on and track-laying will also begin. All arrangements are being shaped up with the object of completing the Wallawa extension to Joseph as rapidly as possible.

HANDLING HEAVY TRAFFIC.

Northern Pacific Passengers and Freight By Way of Short Line.

Besides handling a tremendous extra passenger traffic on account of the washouts in Montana, the Oregon Short Line is carrying hundreds of thousands of pounds of extra mail east and west for the Northern Pacific, whose lines in Montana are tied up by floods, says the Pocatello Tribune.

All mail leaving and reaching Butte is being handled by the Short Line through Pocatello. Much of the Northern Pacific eastbound mail matter from Spokane and the coast was sent to Sand Point by the Northern Pacific, with the expectation of routing it over the Great Northern.

It was then tied up by the washout at Basin, and is now returning by way of Spokane, Pendleton and Pocatello. Each Northern Pacific passenger train which passes through the Gate City contains from two to four cars of mail, jammed to the roof.

The Short Line is handling these heavy extra trains in a magnificent manner. Trains on the Montana division are running close to schedule time. Five N. P. trains, loaded with perishable goods, were sent out of Butte over Short Line tracks Monday.

Furthermore, the Short Line is in such good shape that day that Division Superintendent Jones, who was on the ground near Silver Bow, where the greatest danger to O. S. L. tracks threatened, loaned the Northern Pacific a pile driver and its best bridge and building crew to work along the washed out N. P. tracks west toward Garrison.

The route of the Short Line from Butte to Spokane is close to 1000 miles longer than the direct Northern Pacific route between those two points, but in spite of this fact, many tickets are being sold in the Copper City over the line to business men who must make the trip to Spokane.

Are Your Little Ones Strong and Healthy?

There is no mother in the land but wishes her little ones to be strong and robust. If they are not, the main cause of their trouble is usually the inability of their little stomachs to care for the food they eat.

The delight of children is pastry, cookies, cakes and all manner of dainties which contain more or less grease. If this class of food is fried or shortened with lard, it is bound to be more or less greasy, soggy, indigestible, and wholly unfit for assimilation by the stomach of a grown up person, let alone that of a child.

COTTOLENE keeps the children's stomachs in a normal, healthy condition. It is a pure, vegetable product, which makes light, digestible, healthful food. When used to fry or shorten pastries, cakes, and all such edibles, the children can eat their fill and not suffer from the bad after-effects resulting from such products as lard.

If you value the health of your children, shorten their food with COTTOLENE.

CottoleNE is Guaranteed We hereby authorize your grocer to refund your money in case you're not pleased after having given COTTOLENE a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk COTTOLENE is packed in pails with a patent air-tight top, to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome; also, to prevent it from absorbing the disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.

2000 SPOKANE ITALIANS.

Paper to be Published for Natives of Sunny Italy in Falls City.

"I find that in this city there are about 300 Italians in business, and from what I have seen I would estimate the Italian population of Spokane to be approximately 2900." This is a statement made by F. A. Mauro, formerly of Denver, Colo., who is to be manager of the new Italian paper to be known as the "La Patria" and which is to be published in the near future at 211 Front avenue, say the Spokane Chronicle.

Mr. Mauro states that the paper will be published on Fridays and that Dr. Du Rosa, formerly a resident of Pueblo, Colo., is to be editor of the publication.

In the superior court at North Yakima Monday, L. D. J. Ralyea, a druggist at Wapato, was convicted on two counts of selling liquor on Sunday, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $250 in each case. This, with the costs will compel him to pay a total of $750.
