MILTON'S NEW BUILDINGS COST $50,000

That Milton, the beautiful home town of the east end of Umatilla county, will make substantial progress this year is shown by the following enthusiastic article from the Milton Eagle:

Milton is growing some—just a little—and it is believed that not less than $50,000 will be spent for new buildings this year, besides several other projects are under consideration and a like amount will probably be invested in 1909. The business men of Milton are conservative and when they invest their money in city improvements it is a sure thing that business conditions justify it.

Now many are awaking to the fact that the growth in population of the town and surrounding country demands better business buildings and there is plenty of money ready to put into them.

Milton's growth has not been marked by unnecessary boasting or beating of tom-toms, but it has been steady and substantial and before the older residents were aware of it they were living in a modern city of electric lights, a gravity water system, graded streets, concrete sidewalks, electric street cars, and imposing dwelling houses.

Everything has grown but the business portion of the town and now that will be remedied by the enterprising citizens and Main street will be a section of the town to be proud of. The following buildings are being constructed, or are reasonably sure to be constructed, in the near future:

In Course of Construction.
Milton Fruit Growers' Union packing house, a modern two-story building with a concrete basement, to which the Interurban has built a spur and cars can be loaded right at the door.

Traction company's freight warehouse.
H. M. Cockburn's 14-room, $3500 residence.

Charles Albrecht's residence.
W. H. Bailey's fine residence on Main and Mill streets.

Jasper Olinger's handsome residence on Kinney street.

W. A. Bannister's $2600 residence on Broadway.

Dr. McQuary's handsome residence in Wright's addition.

To Be Constructed This Year.
The local Odd Fellows' lodge has at last decided to build on their lots at the corner of Main and Quartz streets and at the last meeting a committee was appointed to secure bids for the construction of a building to cost in the neighborhood of $20,000. Plans have been drawn and local contractors are already figuring on the proposition.

The building will be 90 feet deep with a 60-foot front. The ground floor will be divided into two, or possibly three, large rooms, the corner room to be occupied by the First National bank. This room will be arranged especially for the bank and will have a glass front 14 feet wide and nine feet high.

The second story will be fitted up with lodge rooms and no expense will be spared to make it as fine as any meeting place of fraternities in eastern Oregon. It will be steam heated throughout and will be long odds the finest building in Umatilla county outside of Pendleton. Work on the building will begin at an early date.

What Is It?
Baltimore, Md., June 15.—The trustees of Johns Hopkins University are planning to establish the best equipped psychiatric clinic in the country as the result of the gift of a half a million by Henry Phipps of Pittsburgh. Phipps is the founder of the Phipps Institute of tuberculosis research of Philadelphia, with an endowment of $1,300,000, and gives $500,000 for the study of insanity.

Kodol is the best known preparation that is offered to the people today for dyspepsia, indigestion or any stomach trouble. Kodol digests all foods. It is pleasant to take. It is sold here by Tallman & Co.

Seaman Criticizes Teddy.
Tokio, Japan, June 15.—Louis Livingston, a seaman and former professor of New York university, here on a tour of the world, criticized Roosevelt for sending the fleet around the world. ROBBED MAIL TO GET FINE CLOTHES

It was the aesthetic taste, it seems, and her longings for higher and finer things that led to the downfall of Mrs. Nellie E. Ragan, former assistant postmistress at Hoyston, and at one time known as the cowgirl queen of Southern Oregon, against whom an indictment containing four counts was returned by a federal grand jury this morning, sustaining the charge of robbing the United States mails which had been placed against her two months ago, says the Portland Journal.

Among other fancy articles that Mrs. Ragan is accused of having taken from the United States mails and converted to her own use are two sofa pillow covers, each of which was addressed to other persons. Then pretty petticoats and fancy hose, cream colored and dainty blue union suits are also mentioned in the indictment as having been among the effects which Mrs. Ragan confiscated from the channels of Uncle Sam's mail service.

Corsets Included.
But in keeping an eye open for delicate articles of an ornamental nature, Mrs. Ragan did not, according to the charge of the government officials, overlook the necessities of life. For the evidence shows that such articles of wear as corset covers, white vests and many other pieces of dress goods had been taken by the woman accused.

One of the counts in the indictment is that Mrs. Ragan took charge of a sofa pillow cover belonging to Mrs. Abe Erb at Bly. This was rather a fancy affair; and particularly attractive to the eye. The cover is made of postal cards. This was taken, it is charged, November 18. Another sofa pillow cover had been sent to Miss Hees Clopton of Bonanza, but had been sidetracked by the assistant postmistress.

Petticoat's Owner Found.
Miss Maggie Leonard of Bly, comes in for more things found in possession of Mrs. Ragan than any of the others who lost articles in the mail and who gave testimony before the grand jurors. Miss Leonard claims a petticoat, two union suits, four white vests and the same number of corset covers.

Mrs. J. E. Edsall of Bly, claims a corset which Mrs. Ragan had when the authorities searched her home.

It is also asserted by the government agents that nearly a trunk full of articles of wear, sundries and various other things which are usually sent through the mails by the department stores to their customers were found after complaints against Mrs. Ragan had been made.

Mrs. Ragan is but 22 years old. She has a baby only a few months of age. She was formerly Miss Nellie Bauer and as a girl rode the range for her father, who was in the cattle business in Klamath county.

Husband Innocent.
Bert Ragan, her husband, who was arrested on the belief that he had been implicated in the thefts, is not to be tried, the grand jury reporting that they had failed to find a true bill of information against him.

Hoyston is a relay stage station near Klamath Falls. Mrs. Ragan took charge of the postoffice last fall while the postmistress moved to Bonanza to give her children an opportunity to attend school.

Mrs. Ragan will probably be tried before Judge Wolverton in the United States district court some time during the summer, or possibly not until next fall.

The amount of bail was fixed at $1000.

MODERN WOODMEN TO REVISE RATES

Head Consul Talbot Recommends Establishment of Tuberculosis Sanitarium.

Peoria, Ill., June 16.—An unequivocal stand for a readjustment of rates is taken by Head Clerk C. W. Hawes of the Modern Woodmen of America, in his report presented at the fifteenth head camp session of the order convened here at 9 o'clock this morning. Ten possible plans are suggested, and it is expected that before the head camp adjourns next Saturday, arrangements will be made to hold another session within the year, to be devoted exclusively to the rate question.

The session was called to order this morning by Head Consul A. R. Talbot, the president of the society. There are 634 delegates and head officers, representing all parts of the country, sitting in the convention. On Thursday a big parade will be held, which is expected to attract 50,000 visitors. The national encampment of the degree teams is also in session here, with 5000 Foresters in attendance.

According to the report of Head Clerk Hawes, submitted today, the present membership is 920,179, with 12,999 local lodges. The insurance in force aggregates $1,430,688,000. Benefit fund receipts during the past term, 1905-1907, were $24,786,885.53, and disbursements $21,798,367.38. General fund receipts were $2,908,709.02, and disbursements, $2,765,013.93.

The report shows that during the society's existence its deaths have totaled 36,408, the death rate at all ages being 5.02 per 1000. This is very favorable, as the National Fraternal Congress table shows a death rate of 7.51 and the American Experience table a rate of 10.24 per 1,000.

At the society's present rates, with 12 assessments per year, the members at all ages are paying for an average of only $390 of each $1000 in force. It is this condition of affairs that calls for a rate readjustment.

Head Consul A. R. Talbot's report also presented today, recommends the establishment of a sanitarium for tuberculosis, a site for this purpose having been already secured at Colorado Springs, Colo. The members of the order are reported as having already contributed $50,666 for this purpose.

A thorough consideration of the rate question is also urged by Consul Talbot, who predicts that legislation in the various states within the next few years will render it imperative that all fraternal orders shall readjust their rates. During the last two years the order has admitted 355,691 new members and has paid 12,504 death claims, aggregating $21,785,578.58.

WILL STORE WYOMING WOOL.

Output of the State Will Be Shipped to Chicago.

Committees from the National Woolgrowers' association will go to Chicago this week to confer with business men, bankers and representatives of the railroads entering that city relative to the establishment of a large wool warehouse in the Windy City, says a Cheyenne item. The business men of Chicago are known to be heartily in favor of putting in a wool warehouse and do other things to attract sheepmen to that city. The bankers have been seen and all are willing to make liberal advances, and at low rates of interest, on warehouse certificates.

The railroads also will help, and will grant the same favorable fill-in transit rates and other concessions that were granted the Wyoming Woolgrowers' association when it established its warehouse in Omaha recently. The business men of Chicago are endeavoring to establish a big wool market there, and if they succeed in getting the warehouse as planned, this move will be followed this season or next by the establishment of scouring plants, and later by manufacturing establishments.

First Drinking Fountain.

The Empire Meat company has installed the first free drinking fountain in the city to help quench the thirst after July 1. The company has run a pipe from the cold storage room in the rear of the meat market to a pole in front of the market, where a faucet has been placed and where the public is invited to drink. It is a unique arrangement and will furnish excellent ice water, free, to the public.

Operation for Piles will not be necessary if you use Manzan Pile Remedy, guaranteed. Price 50 cents. Sold by A. C. Koeppe & Bros.

Council Saved Money.
By submitting the reservoir and pipe laying to bids a second time the city council saved $1263 over the first bids received and will have this much more money to apply to the work of improving the cemetery. The first bids received were highly unsatisfactory to the council and all were rejected and bids were asked for a second time.
