CURS DYNAMITE WATER FLUME

CAUSE $30,000 LOSS TO HOOD RIVER BERRIES

Two-Thirds of Berry Fields Left Dry By Dastardly Crime—Disgruntled Laborers Are Suspected—About Four Hundred Acres Are Left Without Water—Loss at Least 10,000 Crates.

Giant powder was successfully used Sunday night in an effort to cause the growers composing the Farmers' Irrigating company of Hood River the loss of a large portion of their strawberry crop. Disgruntled laborers are suspected.

About 150 feet of flume on a hillside on the west side of Hood River was destroyed, and the water in the big irrigation ditch is shut off. As a result, the crop of two-thirds of the valley, about 400 acres, is without water until such time as the flume can be repaired, which will take at the least estimate three or four days. The growers stand to lose at least 10,000 crates of berries, worth $30,000, and if the flume cannot be repaired before Wednesday, the loss will be far greater. The damage to the ditch will not amount to more than $500.

Destruction Took Hard Work. The point where the ditch was destroyed is high on a hillside. The members of the company state that it must have taken considerable work and three or four boxes of powder to produce such disastrous results. This is the ditch from which all of the water is taken to irrigate the big strawberry crop on the west side of the valley.

Although 25 men were hurried to the scene of the trouble as soon as it was known it is estimated that it will take three days, working day and night to repair the damage. The Hood River berry season is now at its height and no water to sustain the plants and ripen the berries during the present warm weather will cut down the yield on every grower along the ditch to almost nothing. For the past few days from five to seven bars of berries have been shipped daily.

An investigation started this afternoon by M. H. Nickelsen, secretary, and A. C. Staten, manager of the company, in an effort to determine if possible who the ditch destroyers were, developed the fact that the noise of the shots were heard by C. W. Reed, who resides two miles away from the spot where the explosion took place, and who states that it occurred about 11 o'clock. Beyond this nothing is definitely known.

Perpetrators Are Suspected. It is said, however, that the officers of the company have under suspicion several men whom they had in their employ last year and to whom they refused to give work this summer.

The greater part of the injury to the ditch consists of the blowing to pieces of 150 feet of flume situated in an almost inaccessible spot on the west side of Hood River and evidently selected on account of the long time it would take to make repairs.

BIG REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

It was rumored just as the convention opened that Senator Borah of Idaho, had prepared a speech of nomination for Roosevelt. When Borah arrived he denied he had any such purposes.

"I was asked to present the name of Roosevelt," he said, "but refused emphatically. No friend of the president will nominate him, knowing he does not want the honor."

"If any friend of Roosevelt placed him in nomination the action would be misconstrued and the president would be accused of conniving with the nominator to bring about such a result. In my judgment the president will absolutely dominate the convention. There will be no Roosevelt stampede."

Roosevelt Makes Denial.

Washington, June 15.—Now comes a characteristically vigorous denial from the White House that Roosevelt dictated the provisions of the platform submitted to the convention. It even goes so far as to deny that Taft played any important part in the drafting of it.

The following statement was issued today from the White House:

"That which purports to be the so-called administration platform, telegraphed from Chicago, is a mere tentative draft, prepared by one member of the resolutions committee for submission to Taft for the purpose of obtaining his views upon certain planks. A large part of the purported platform has never been seen by the president at all, and a number of planks contained in the remainder were subjected to amendments of both verbal and substantial nature."

"This and other drafts are tentative only, merely for information of certain members of the resolutions committee, who were seeking their views of the various prominent republicans. Neither the president nor Taft has committed himself, nor has been asked to."

Fales, the millionaire cotton machine manufacturer who named his own son as correspondent in the divorce suit against his young wife, was today granted an absolute divorce on statutory grounds. Mrs. Fales denied the charge and asked for a divorce in a cross complaint, naming a French maid.

FLOUR TO HONG KONG.

Byers Mills Shipping Out 30,000 Sacks to Chinese Wholesale Houses This Week.

Byers flour mill is this week shipping out 30,000 sacks of flour for the Chinese trade in Hong Kong and will continue to send out orders from week to week all summer. The demand for Pendleton flour in the Chinese and Japanese market is better this year than ever before.

Cremery Team Ran Away.

The delivery team belonging to Pendleton Creamery, took a lively spin down West Webb street this afternoon and aside from a few scratches on the team and wagon no damage was done. When the team collided with a telephone pole causing the wire to break, the wire fell on Peter West's horse as he was passing and it ran with the distinguished divorce lawyer for several blocks before being subdued. So in the parlance of the baseball fan, it was a "double play."

If you see it in the East Oregonian, it's so.

Can It Be Possible?

During the past year a vacuum bottle has been put on the market which will keep contents hot for 24 hours, warm for 48 hours and cold for 72 hours. The bottle consists of two glass bottles, joined at the neck, one bottle being within the other, a vacuum space between the two bottles prevents outside temperature from reaching the inner one, thus permitting contents to remain hot or cold (the same temperature as when placed in the bottle) for days at a time. A. C. Koepfen & Bros, the druggists, have received some and the public is examining them every day.
