AN IDLE RAILROAD

RIPARIA-LEWISTON
TRACK HAS NO TRAINS

Reports Say Line is Completed But Trains are Not in Operation—Supposed Controversy Between Hill and Harriman May be Responsible for Delay in Installation of Train Service on Joint Road.

Why is the 72 miles of new O. R. & N. railroad track between Riparia and Lewiston not in use, is a question asked the East Oregonian frequently.

According to all reports the line is complete, the track bridges and all features of the road having been finished months ago. The special train carrying Portland business men to Lewiston was run over the new line in May and everything seems to be ready for traffic but regular trains have not been started and no passengers are carried.

A few work trains and a small number of laborers are still employed at different points on the line, but railroad men say that the track is complete the entire distance and why the line has not been opened has been a mystery to all the employes interested and to the general public.

The daily boat service between Lewiston and Riparia is maintained, but the public is anxiously awaiting the installation of the regular train service. Several train and engine crews will be used on the line and a large amount of equipment will be needed. Inquiries are made daily at this office and at all Pendleton hotels concerning the opening of the line.

It is supposed that the matter of the operation of the line is in controversy between Hill and Harriman. It is understood that both the Northern Pacific and the O. R. & N. were to use the line, but that the construction of the north bank line by Hill angered Harriman and that the matter of the joint use of the Lewiston-Riparia line has been brought into the controversy and the line will not be used until the difficulty between the railroad magnates is settled.

TOUCHING INCIDENT.

Former Inmate of Boys' and Girls' Home Thanks Instructor.

A touching incident of human interest was witnessed by a few people at the O. R. & N. depot today when the westbound train, No. 1, was here. J. Teutscher, Jr., traveling agent for the Boys' and Girls' Aid society of Portland, was on the train and stepped off to look about the depot while the train waited.

While he was waiting for the train to go a boy of about 19 years of age dressed in overalls and having every appearance of being a hard working, honest boy, stepped up and took Mr. Teutscher by the hand and spoke to him.

"I remember you for you treated me right, gave me a good home and started me right when I was on the wrong track," said the boy with tears in his eyes.

The boy was Herbert Mundell of Albee, this country, who was sent to the boys' and girls' aid society in the spring of 1903, after he had been in trouble at Albee. He was well treated and became a good, honest boy and has worked steadily since his release from the society three years ago.

To the good treatment given him by Mr. Teutscher and others connected with the society he attributes his right start in life and is grateful for the kindness shown him. While he had grown up to be a man and was not recognized by Teutscher, yet he remembered his benefactor and publicly acknowledged the benefits he had received from this home provided for unfortunate children in Portland.

TO MAKE LEWISTON DRY.

Temperance Meetings to See What Can Be Done.

There will be a meeting every night this week in this city in the interest of temperance in Lewiston, says the Lewiston Tribune. The announced purpose of the meeting is to see what can be done to make Lewiston a dry city. E. D. Nichols of Boise, is conducting the meetings and he spoke Sunday night to a large audience at the M. E. church, his subject being "Hercules." At the close of his address he was heartily applauded and when the pastor expressed his approval of the applause it broke out the second time more vigorously than the first. Last night he spoke on "The Good News." On tonight his subject will be "The Model License League;" on Wednesday night, "The Dangers of the Republic;" on Thursday night, "Which." On Friday night Mr. Nichols will hold a men's meeting while Mrs. Nichols, his wife, will speak to the women in the Presbyterian church. All women of the city are urged to attend the meeting to be addressed by Mrs. Nichols. All the other meetings will be held in the Methodist church.

The churches are requested to unite in these rallies and the public is invited. The promoters of this movement hope that the people may turn out, generally, and hear the presentation of the temperance side of the question by one who has been in the work more or less for the last 30 years. Admission free.

RIGHT TO CRITICISE.

Jury Upholds Exposure by Press of Misconduct in Office.

The jury in the libel suit for $100,000 brought by L. E. Jones, formerly county auditor, against the Ohio State Journal, Columbus, brought in a verdict for the defendant. It is reported by the Journal as a vindication of the right of the press fearlessly to expose misconduct in public office.

In its charges the State Journal said: "The conduct of the county auditor's office during the past four years has been marked by greater disregard of public interest and holder methods of personal graft than have ever obtained in any office in the history of Franklin county."

At the same time the Journal revealed methods by which the inventor's estates had been used to gain information concerning omitted property upon which tax inquirers had been paid thousands of dollars. The inquisitor was not legally entitled to the percentage upon such property.

In the prosecution of the suit for libel Mr. Jones sought to show that the State Journal's charges were not true.

Sent to the Penitentiary.

William Dodge, who was recently discharged from the regular army, has been sent to the state penitentiary from Walla Walla on a sentence of from one to five years for stealing a pawn ticket with which he obtained a suit of clothes belonging to another.

The Christian convention, which has been in session at Jullaetta, Idaho, for over a week, closed Monday. It is said to have been the most successful gathering of the church ever held in that section. Plans are being developed for the erection of a $12,000 tabernacle, probably at Jullaetta.

"COYOTE BILL" UNDER ARREST.

Officers at Asotin Charge Cattle Stealing in Grand Ronde.

Asotin, Wash., June 25.—William Cottingham, better known as "Coyote Bill," and his brother-in-law, Scott Clark, Jr., were arrested last night by ex-Sheriff Robert Richards and Deputy W. C. Martin on a charge of stealing cattle in the Grande Ronde country. J. C. Brown, a wealthy stockman of Wallowa county, Ore., preferred the charges.

Cottingham is an old offender, having spent some time in the state penitentiary at Walla Walla for stealing horses. Clark is the son of a wealthy stockman and has heretofore borne a good reputation.

Brown owns large herds of cattle, which graze in both Washington and Oregon, and while the officers claim to have a good case against Cottingham, it has not been determined whether the crime was committed in Oregon or Washington, so that no requisition papers will be sought until this charge until the case has been investigated. Prosecuting Attorney M. P. Shaughnessy has charge of the case and says he has secured new evidence, in addition to that which caused the arrest of the men.

SLEEPS IN CAGE WITH LION.

Libby Lumberjack Has Exciting Experience With Pet.

Libby, Mont., June 25.—A lumberjack named La Foy, while under the influence of liquor, crawled into a cage in which J. Z. Clark keeps a pet mountain lion. It was raining and La Foy could not see the animal, and, lying down, was soon asleep. Suddenly awakening, he was horrified to find the lion lying beside him. He made his escape, but not in time to miss a parting blow from the big cat.

DEAD MAN HARMON SLATER.

Palouse Police Identify Stranger Killed Saturday Night.

Palouse, Wash., June 25.—Chief of Police Davis has learned that the man killed in the stairway at the Kuntz lodging house Saturday evening is Harmon Slater. The information was secured from Robert Hamilton, a farmer with whom Slater had stayed two or three days. Slater was a butcher and Hamilton took him to his farm to help kill a beef. He was a physical wreck when not under the influence of whiskey and Hamilton brought him to town Saturday morning. The man took the
