Morbid Mob Has No Restraint of Mad Desire for Souvenirs of Cleveland's Funeral.

ONLY INTIMATE FRIENDS SEE FACE OF DECEASED

Mounted Troops Drive Back Crowd Which Had Broken Down Fence and Was Raiding Floral Tribute at Ex-President's Grave—Only Limited Number of Newspapermen Allowed—Most Noted Men in Public Life Attend Simple Services—Brazilian Government Remembers Friend.

Princeton, June 26.—A hurry call was sent to the city hall this afternoon for reserves to be rushed to the cemetery. A squad of soldiers were rushed to the scene and found hundreds of persons, eager to obtain souvenirs, had broken down the fence, and made a raid on the floral tribute beside the grave in which Cleveland is to be buried. The soldiers charged through the gap and put the crowd to flight.

Princeton, N. J., June 26.—It was announced this morning that the casket containing the body of Cleveland will be placed in the reception room on the east side of the residence where callers will be received first. Only Mrs. Cleveland and the most intimate friends will be permitted to see the face of the deceased former president.

The casket was opened upstairs this morning in the room where Cleveland died. It will be closed and the cover fastened before it is taken down stairs, where the simple services will be held.

A representative of the United Press and other press associations will be the only newspaper men at the funeral services and the interment.

Viscount Kanako of Tokio today cabled sympathy to Mrs. Cleveland.

Mounted Troops on Guard.

The Monmouth mounted troops arrived here today to aid the four companies of the militia in policing the line of cortage. It is only half a mile from the Cleveland home to the old Princeton cemetery, where the burial will take place. The infantry will be stationed at intervals all along the route. The mounted men will form a patrol.

A squad of secret service men has arrived, and is laying plans to prevent any possible attack on Roosevelt or any of the government officials.

Carriage Assignment.

The carriage assignment for the funeral is as follows: First—Doctors Henry Van Dyke, W. R. Richard, S. W. Beans and M. V. Bartlett, the four officiating ministers; second—Mrs. Cleveland, Richard, the oldest son, and Dr. Joseph Bryant, the family physician; third—Miss Rose Cleveland, a sister, and Ester Cleveland, eldest daughter of the deceased; fourth—Roosevelt, his wife and secretary Loeb. Then will follow the most prominent men in public life today.

Family Not Impoverished.

Cleveland Bacon on behalf of the family denied the report that Cleveland's estate is so depleted that the widow and children will be impoverished. However, the estate is unextensive.

Tony Leggett, of Trenton, for many years Cleveland's hunting companion, was permitted to see the remains. He wept like a child and was led away.

Long wreaths have been received from Roosevelt and Baron Riorbrance, the Brazilian minister. It is difficult to find room for the flowers. The largest floral pieces of all were sent by the New York organization of Sons of St. Patrick.

The Brazilian government, which held Cleveland in the highest regard on account of his settlement of the Venezuelan border line dispute, has given orders for a military salute at the time of the funeral.

England Flares Up.

The British legation this afternoon demanded the Shah to withdraw the Cossacks from the legation grounds by six tonight under pain of serious consequences if the demand is unaccomplished.

Several members of the constitutional party refugees have been here since the battle at the parliament house Thursday. Soldiers have been keeping a close watch over the legation to prevent their escape. England deems this a rank insult.

MEXICAN BANDITS CAPTURE A CITY

Three Persons Are Killed and Several Seriously Wounded During the Fight.

TELEGRAPH WIRES CUT. COMMUNICATION SHUT OFF

Government Officials Refuse to Believe Outbreak Has Any Political Significance—National Troops to be Hurled to the Scene—Some Say Revolution Against Mexican Government Has Started—Eleven Mexicans Arrested at El Paso, Texas, Charged With Fomenting a Revolution.

La Redo, Texas, June 26.—Two hundred armed and mounted men yesterday attacked and captured the town of Vieca, state of Coahuila, Mexico. Three persons were killed several wounded in the fighting.

Telegraph wires were cut and the railroad lines torn up and a bridge burned.

Three train loads of troops left the City of Mexico last night for the scene, and a trainload of soldiers also is leaving Saltillo, the capital of the state. Reports received here are to the effect the government believes the attack was made by bandits. The vice president of the republic and secretary of war and interior, it is stated, deny that the trouble has any political significance.

Some reports received here say the outbreak is the starting of a revolution.

Revolutionists Arrested.

El Paso, Texas, June 26.—Eleven Mexicans were arrested by the police of this city yesterday afternoon charged with fomenting a revolution against a friendly power on American soil.

The men were arrested in an adobe hut in the outskirts of the city and a search of the building revealed two cases containing rifles and revolvers and also 1000 rounds of ammunition. Literature and letters involving the men in this attempt were found.

One of the men is the editor of the La Reformacion, a Mexican publication with revolutionary tendencies, published in this city.

Among the letters found are said to be several from Antonio Villareal and Flores Magon, the two revolutionists whom the Mexican government recently sought to extradite from the United States.

Port Townsend, Wash., June 26.—That some of the best gunners in the United States army are at present stationed on the Pacific coast was proved at the target practice yesterday at Fort Casey. All known records were broken during the day's shooting. Twelve shots were fired in eleven seconds at a target 30 feet, three miles away and moving under a tow of seven miles per hour. Eleven out of the 12 scored.

CARELESS RIFLEMAN.

Bullet From Large Bore Gun Crashes Into Montgomery Home.

To have a bullet from a big 45-90 rifle crash through the window and bury itself in the window casing was the startling experience that befell the family of J. E. Montgomery this morning. Who fired the shot is a matter that the police and northside people would like to know.

During the forenoon today Mrs. Montgomery, her child and Mrs. Will Ingram were seated in a room of the Montgomery home on the north side when they were astonished to hear the bullet shatter the glass in a window and then cut a hole into the casing.

For a time the ladies were panic stricken for they feared that some insane person had run amuck with a gun and that further volley might result. But no other shots were fired and there is absolutely nothing throwing light upon the affair, excepting that the shot was evidently fired by someone below town, as the bullet came from that direction.

The bullet is from a large calibre old fashioned rifle and is big enough to serve as an anchor for a battleship. It was shown to the police by Mr. Montgomery and an effort is being made to ascertain who is so careless in the use of firearms.

As the bullet went far into the woodwork of the Montgomery house there is little doubt that it would have killed a person had it struck anyone.

SALOONS MUST GO.

Union County Contest Will Not hinder Closing.

La Grande, June 26.—In the event that the injunction now hanging over the county court is dissolved, the saloons must leave Union county and stay out until the supreme court has taken action on the matter, should Julius Roesch appeal a decision favoring the anti-saloon league.

This is the commonly accepted version of the statute, though the question has caused considerable comment among friends and foes of the movement alike. Some maintain that in case the injunction was dissolved the saloons can remain in business until the supreme court has given final decision.

This is erroneous, according to the stated version of the law. Hence, the decision of the circuit court, which is expected before the end of the month, will give definite knowledge to the voters of Union county as to when the saloons must go.

CREW OF WHALING SCHOONER IN IRONS

HOLDUP ARTIST WAS FOILED

KNOCKED DOWN BY FRANK LORIMER

Employee of Pendleton Dye Works Declines to Part With Hard Earned Cash and Delivers a Solar Plexus and Then Runs—Dan Kelly's Record Smashed—Officers Notified but Would Be Robber Escapes.

Another attempt at a hold-up occurred here last night, but it was frustrated by the prompt resistance shown by the intended victim, Frank Lorimer.

Mr. Lorimer, who is a brother of E. K. Lorimer, who is a brother of E. works in the cleaning and dyeing works on East Alta street and he was homebound at a late hour last night. At the time he had about $50 in his pocket and it is likely that this fact was known to the hold-up artist.

While in the vicinity of the Byer's mill property on East Alta street Lorimer was accosted by a stranger with the usual request that he produce his valuables. At the same time the highwayman started to grapple with his intended victim. But Lorimer saw an opening for a safe hit and he proceeded to land on the fellow with a "snoker" that tumbled him over. He, Lorimer, then took to his heels and broke the amateur record for fast sprinting between that section of the town and Main street.

On reaching the business section Lorimer notified the night men of his adventure and a search for the would-be robber was started. However no one answering the description could be found last night.

A Plague of Flies in Paris.

Paris within the last few days has been the scene of an extraordinary visitation. During a rainstorm myriads of flies descended with the rain and caused much consternation to Parisians who happened to be out of doors. When the rain stopped and the sun came out the flies invaded the houses. These particular flies, it appears, are known as "bibions of St. Mark." They are about two-fifths of an inch long, and have a very large ear. The wings, though long, are weak, and do not permit of much flying, but their feet are provided with sharp hook-like teeth, which enables the flies to cling tenaciously to whatever object they light upon. Fortunately, the species has a very short existence, extending only over a few days.

BARNES MURDER TRIAL ON AGAIN

Jury is Selected for Second Trial for Murder of Mrs. Anna Aldrich.

WIFE OF PRISONER SITS BY HIS SIDE

Task of Securing Twelve Men Was a Severe One—Case Stated Briefly by Attorneys for Both Sides and Taking of Testimony Taken After Short Delay—Defense Asked to Have Case Dismissed on Ground that First Jury Was Discharged While Asking for Instructions—Judge Denies Demurrer and Trial Proceeds.

Walla Walla, June 26.—After an effort of a day and a half, the jury which is to have charge of the verdict in the second case of "Bud" Barnes, was selected yesterday morning at 12:03 o'clock, the personnel of the jury being as the above.

Seldom, if ever before, in the history of Walla Walla county, was a more steady day's work in superior court experienced, there having been 12 hours of almost ceaseless grind, which resulted in great progress in the second trial of "Bud" Barnes, charged with the murder of Mrs. Anna M. Aldrich. The jury was completed shortly before noon, and when court convened at 1:30 o'clock, the prosecution and the defense stated briefly the case, after which examination of witnesses was taken up.

Before any witnesses were put on the stand, however, the jury was taken from the room while the defense demurred to the answer of the state to the defense's plea of former acquittal. The demurrer was overruled by the court, but an answer was filed by the defense, and the matter of the former acquittal was left to the jury.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the jury was sworn in, and soon after the prosecution stated its case with a 15-minute address. The defense followed in a 5-minute talk, after which Isaac Page, the first witness, was put on the stand for the state.

Mrs. Barnes in Courtroom.

Mrs. Bud Barnes appeared in the courtroom yesterday morning, and during the day occupied a seat beside that of her husband. She seems not to realize the enormity of the offense with which her husband is charged, and takes everything seemingly as a matter of course. "Bud" appeared wholly at ease, though he was somewhat startled when his wife slipped up behind him and touched him on the shoulder, causing him to color and hastily discard a cigarette which he had just rolled and lighted. There were many more spectators in the room all through yesterday's proceedings, though the courtroom was not crowded as was the case during the progress of the first trial. Many ladies were in attendance yesterday.

Kirkland, a forest supervisor, will have charge of the new administrative district. The boundaries of the Snoqualmie national forest will be the Darrington branch of the Northern Pacific railroad and the divide between the Whitechuck and Suttatle rivers on the north, the summit of the Cascade range on the east, the main line of the Northern Pacific railroad on the south and the present boundary of the Washington national forest on the west.

PASSENGER TRAIN SMASHES HANDCAR

The fact that a handcar has no show on a railroad track against a train was again shown night before last near Saxe station. At the time of the accident No. 46, the evening stub to Walla Walla, was bowling along a few miles beyond Saxe when it met with a section crew on a hand car.

Seeing the train coming the members of the crew had jumped from the car and they were trying hard to get their car off the track. But one corner of the car was still on the rails when the passenger engine plowed into it with a force that sent the hand car off at a tangent.

E. Mathews, one of the section crew, was badly hurt and several other of the workmen were crippled more or less. Edwards, who was hurt internally, was taken aboard the train and received treatment in the hospital at Walla Walla. It is not yet known exactly how serious he was injured.

So sudden was the shock when the train struck the handcar that a crowbar on the latter was driven half its length into the ground. The accident is charged to carelessness on the part of the train crew.
