

TOLD BY HIS HAT.

The Way a Traveler Picked Out an Englishman.

"See that man?" the lately returned traveler remarked to a friend, indicating an individual a little ahead of them.

"How do you tell?" the friend asked. "By the way he wears his hat," was the reply.

"Notice how it is jammed down on the head? Englishmen, especially Londoners, put on their hats for keeps.

"There, what did I tell you?" was the returned traveler's comment.—New York Press.

EDUCATED BEARDS.

Whiskers in Paris Reach the Pinnacle of Cultivation.

It is in Paris that the whisker reaches its highest state of civilization and development. The luxuriant verdure on the faces of some of the Parisians who strut along the boulevard every day can be compared to nothing but the riot of vegetation in the tropics.

The Parisians spend hours on their beards and educate them into formal gardens, set pieces, shrubbery, terrace and vista effects.

Many readers may not be aware of the fact that the full moon gives several times more than twice the light of the half moon.

Moonlight.

Professor Joel Stebbins and F. C. Brown, taking advantage of the extreme sensitiveness to light of a selenium cell, measured the amount of light coming from the moon at different phases with the result above mentioned.

An American Scholar's Work.

It should be humiliating for Englishmen to reflect that it was left to an American, Francis James Child, to compile the five thick volumes of "English and Scottish Popular Ballads" which are familiar and invaluable to all students of this subject.

His Fair Proposition.

"Are you able to support my daughter?" asked the old gentleman. "You know she has pretty expensive tastes, and I don't mind saying that the burden has been pretty hard for me at times."

A Doubt.

Madam (to the nursemaid, who has just brought home her four children from a walk)—Dear me, Anna, how changed the children look since I last saw them! Are you quite sure they are the right ones?—Fliegende Blätter.

The Bride's Disaster.

He found her lying unconscious in the kitchen. But she opened her eyes feebly for a moment.

The beautiful is as useful as the useful—more so perhaps.—Victor Hugo.

Hot? Yes, but it's good weather for corn. So cheer up.

The Left Twin.

The survivor of twins is sometimes credited with curious powers. In folklore he takes his place with the seventh son and with the child born with a caul.

What's in a Name?

"Come here, Bates!" roared Dr. Bigwig, head and only master of the Cranton village school.

On the following day Johnson returned, and Dr. Bigwig sought justification of his act before the whole class.

"Did you tell your father that Bates thrashed you?" he asked. "No, sir," piped the youth.

His Desire to Reform.

Discussing poverty on one occasion, the Dutch poet and economist Van Eeden said, "We want reform, and we want it about as badly as a Dutch student I knew in my youth."

"Yes; it would be splendid to reform, and yet the beer is very good here this morning, isn't it? I tell you what we'll do. We'll let my dog Wilhelm decide whether we reform or not."

Landseer's Persistent Wooer.

Charles Landseer was a brother of Sir Edwin "and for some years," says the writer of "Leaves From a Life," "was the victim of the most extraordinary persecution that I should think any man ever met with.

Forest of Strange Trees.

The most extraordinary forest in the world occupies a tableland some six miles in width between 800 and 400 feet above the sea near the west coast of Africa.

Missed the Job.

Molly—I just dote on Uncle Sam's brave sailor boys. Cholly—I wath thinking of joining the navy at one time. Molly—Oh, why didn't you? Cholly—Why, I wrote to the secretary of the navy for a position as admiral, but he did not reply.—Judge.

Literature's Lost Legion.

"There's a legion that never was listed" among books as well as among men; books that have been contemplated, but never written—a literary regiment of wraiths and ghosts.—Book Monthly.

Fair Warning.

He—I shall speak to your father tonight. How had I better begin? She—By calling his attention to the statutes governing assault, manslaughter and murder. Papa is so impulsive, you know.

THE AMOUNT OF YOUR "BELIEF IN ADVERTISING" WHICH IS PUT INTO TYPE IS WHAT COUNTS.

There is probably a clothing ad in today's paper that will remind you that your new suit is overdue.

It won't pay you to try to deal with a buyer who wants your property only half as much as "the right man" would want it.

Your store is NOT "big enough," or prosperous enough, unless your ambition and aspirations are under-sized.

Any quest by which you can make a "new test" of want advertising today? Think it over.

There never was a day in any calendar when adequate advertising would do more for your store than it will today.
