The God of life, is The Lord of toil, And naught cares he if the tool Be anvil, or needle, or hoe, or brain, Or the toiler a sage, or a fool:— The toll is the thing, for a man must grow O'er-topping his greatest work:— The length of the fall 'twixt heaven and hell Is the length of a prostrate shirk. The call's for a man with his task to-heel, And his aim, the good of his clan:— The height of the rise, 'twixt heaven and hell, Is the height of an upright man. —Clara Bushnell Castle, in the Nautlius.

SALOONMEN'S REVENGE.

A movement has been started to close cigar stores and soft drink parlors in this city, for the avowed purpose of getting "revenge" on the keepers of these places who have been allowed to remain open on Sunday while the saloons have been required to close under the state law.

As this matter will now come before the grand jury, if complaint is actually made, there is little possibility of any of the cigar stores or soft drink parlors being required to close. The state law does not intend to close any orderly business house. Saloons are creators of disorder and for this reason a Sunday closing law is deemed a proper thing for any civilized community.

SAME OLD FOURTH.

The Fourth of July like the Bible, never changes. It is one of the fixed institutional phases of American national life. No matter what else may change, the sentiment behind the Fourth of July, the patriotic fervor of the day is perpetually the same.

It is strange to think that the country has entirely outgrown its colonial attributes. Nothing of that period exists today. All the material features of the country have been completely revolutionized. Religion, politics, industrial methods, science, educational ideals—all have been "turned inside out" time and time again.

CLEVELAND'S ACHIEVEMENTS.

The name of the late Grover Cleveland will be associated in his country's history with three matters of importance: the removal of the Monroe Doctrine from the realm of mere academic discussion and its establishment as a part of the practical policy of the United States; the vindication of the federal power in the great railroad strike of 1894, and the secure establishment of the gold standard in our monetary system. In another matter of importance, tariff reform, he failed to impress his will on the country only because he was deserted at the critical moment by members of his party in the United States.

President Roosevelt in his tribute to the late ex-president, said that Mr. Cleveland was possessed of a courage that quailed before no hostility when once he was convinced where his duty lay. No one questions the justice of this view.

Possibly no other president since Andrew Jackson was so impatient of opposition to his course when once marked out. President Roosevelt's motto is: To speak softly, but carry a big stick. Mr. Cleveland carried a big stick equal in size to Theodore's, but he was unable to speak softly.

The 11 years that have elapsed since Mr. Cleveland's retirement to private life have softened the animosities which his political career aroused and he went to his grave regarded as one of the great men of his time and as probably one of our five or six great presidents.

PEACHES.

Peaches are raised and nurtured in all parts of the country, but it is generally agreed that the most tempting kind comes from the blue grass region of Kentucky.

California peaches are used largely by easterners. They are soft and tender to the touch, rather large and flowery, and are very sweet.

The New England peach is often hard and sour. Some varieties, however, have a splendid flavor. The best preserved peaches come from New England.

The New York peach is always of the cling-stone variety. It is almost impossible to separate the peach from the stone.

Our annual crop of peaches, while very expensive to raise (and constantly growing more so), gives employment to thousands of men, who labor night and day to keep the peaches up to the standard.

The points of a peach are not understood by all. Those who are interested in their culture should carefully observe the following rules:

Peaches should be handled with gloves.

They should never be picked when green, but only when they begin to look good enough to eat.

Each peach should be well wrapped. Great care, however, should be taken not to squeeze too hard. The pressure should be uniform.

Change the variety from time to time, and you will be surprised at the results. Almost any one variety of peach gets tiresome if indulged in too long.

Peaches should be kept away from a glaring light. When testing them, turn down the gas.—Success Magazine.

TAFT'S ANCESTRAL HOME.

Mr. Taft's ancestors were among the founders of Jamaica and Townsend, Vt., settling there just before the Revolutionary war, and there runs a tradition from among them that the sound of the cannonading at the battle of Bunker Hill was distinctly heard there, says a New York paper.

This seems a pretty large story, for Jamaica and Townsend must be distant nearly 100 miles in a bee line. Yet Arago, the French physicist of the early 19th century, established the fact that the cannon of that time could be heard at a distance of 90 to 125 miles.

Under favorable atmospheric conditions it is quite possible that the pioneer people on the Vermont hills above the Connecticut valley heard the sound of the cannon of the British ships borne on the morning air of June 17, 1775.

If you see it in the East Oregonian, it's so.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race.

This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases. If we would properly investigate them; and in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvellous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach, liver, intestinal, heart, tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvellous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's most peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of published testimonials contributed by careful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic, ovarian, uterine, irregularities, profuse and other displacements caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrap.

MRS. FRANK STROEBE

I was a nervous wreck. I felt no desire to live.

REMARKABLE RECOVERY, THANKS TO PE-RU-NA.

Mrs. Frank Stroebe, R. F. D. 1, Appleton, Wis., writes:

"I began using Peruna a few months ago when my health and strength were all gone, and I was nothing but a nervous wreck, could not sleep, eat or rest properly, and felt no desire to live.

"Three bottles of Peruna made me look at life in a different light, as I began to regain my lost strength. While my recovery took nearly four months, at the end of that time I was better than I ever had been before. I had a splendid color and never weighed more in my life.

"I certainly think Peruna is without a rival as a tonic and strength builder, and it has my endorsement."

This lady entirely recovered from a nervous breakdown. She did not go away to a sanitarium, and spend hundreds of dollars for a cure. She just staid at home, took Peruna, and in four months weighed more than ever in her life, had a splendid color, life looked bright to her. Peruna did all this for her. What more could be expected of any remedy?
