New Hotel for The Dalles.
The new hotel directors and stockholders held a meeting Friday evening to discuss the question as to whether or not the hotel that has been talked of so much, will be built, and it was decided that it should by a strong affirmative vote, says The Dalles Chronicle. It has not been a question of lack of capital that has held the proposition back. It is a business project that could not be rushed into without studying the question from all sides.

The projectors are almost a unit for the building of the hotel. Mr. Mueller of the Star Brewing Co., and a well known hotel man, when asked about the best location for a hotel, said: "Place your hotel on west Second street on the location you selected," and seemed to think it was the most sightly place, and the most public and most desirable place in the city.

The secretary of the hotel project, when asked about the time the hotel will be built, said the company hopes to soon begin. C. P. Crandall is the architect who has furnished plans for the building.

The building of the hotel will mean a great deal for the city and will be a great improvement to west Second street.

The stockholders are holding another meeting this afternoon.

Not Dalles Dandelions.
The Denver Post tells how to get rid of dandelions, but it is not thought that Dalles dandelions could be "shaken" that easily: "There are those who say the dandelions cannot be killed. I know better—I've tried it. I have a lawn 200 feet by 150 feet without a dandelion, and I didn't rip up my lawn, either.

"How do I keep the dandelions out? I dig them out carefully every spring and keep a close watch for their reappearance during the summer, thus avoiding the seeding. Every spring I scatter plenty of blue grass seed on my lawn and thus supply it with seed that is lost to it by reason of frequent cutting.

"Not only that, but when I am digging dandelions, I have a pocketfull of seed handy and drop a pinch of seed in each hole I make when I extract the dandelion from the sod. New grass grows up quickly and fills the hole and chokes the dandelion.—The Dalles Chronicle.

Four Believed Murdered.
Meagre information of what is supposed to be a quadruple murder or accidental drowning reached the sheriff's office yesterday afternoon, says the Walla Walla Statesman. Deputy

BOOTBLACK HAS $703 WATCH.
Walla Walla Colored Man Has an Expensive Timepiece.

Possessor of one of the most expensive timepieces in the state of Washington, recently purchased at a cost of $703, E. W. Few, colored, although he owns mining property and other real estate valued at over $30,000, still is able to content himself with a position as porter and "shine" in J. M. Keeler's barber shop on East Main street, says the Walla Walla Bulletin.

The costly watch which Few now owns was secured from the Martin Jewelry company of this city, made to order. The works is one of the Hamilton highest grade movements, with a special fancy dial and gold hands and is set in a solid fancy raised gold hunting case with applied work.

On the front of the case is engraved a lodge emblem. Mr. Few being a member of the colored Masonic lodge, while set in the back is a diamond, a two carat stone, which is a perfect gem.

J. W. Few is the possessor of several sparklers, including a large shirt stud, and several rings and watch chain settings. All these jewels, together with his watch, he keeps in a safety deposit vault at one of the local banks.

Few owns shares in gold mines in Alaska, Nevada and California. The mining company in Alaska, of which he owns one-fifth of the stock, has refused an offer of $100,000 for its property, while the mine in Nevada of which he is a shareholder, is located in the Searchlight district, just recently opened up.

"I have a sufficient quarterly income from my investments to enable me to live comfortably," said Mr. Few to a Bulletin reporter this morning, "but I am not content to loaf. I came here in December, took a liking to the town and decided to locate here for a while, at least. I accepted this job as porter because I find that it pays better than anything else I can do. Since my arrival I have purchased several pieces of real estate, as I always do wherever I go. I expect to go to Alaska this fall to remain, but before I leave for there I intend to visit my folks in Atlanta, Ga."

Sheriff John Cummings telephoned in from Wallula that he had been informed by a man named Bennington, foreman of the sand crew some six miles below Page, that a raft, on which was the clothing of four men, had been caught on the Snake river. The clothing contained what was evidently all the money and valuables the men had and gave no signs of their whereabouts. Whether it is murder or suicide or accidental drowning, or none of these cannot be ascertained until Deputy Cummings reports which should be tonight or in the morning.

Drowned in Snake River.
While towing a raft of 200 old railroad ties down Snake river near Cow Bar, 12 miles below Starbuck, Floyd P. Wilson was drowned Friday afternoon about 5 o'clock, says the Walla Walla Union. The young man, in company with Peter Hess and Tom McRae, was trying to pull the raft around a clump of willows that extended out into the river, by means of a long rope attached. Wilson waded out in the edge of the water to have a better chance to bring the ties around, when, it is supposed, he slipped into a deep hole and cramped, thus disabling him from using his arms to swim out. His companions saw him go under and were unable to locate the body for several hours after.

Ellis Appreciated.
Congressman W. R. Ellis left this morning for his home in Pendleton. The Commercial club was preparing to give him a reception this afternoon, it being understood that he was not to return until this evening. Congressman Ellis has a warm spot in the hearts of the people of La Grande and the club intended to tender him their appreciation for the fine oration he gave us on the Fourth and his general good will toward La Grande.—La Grande Observer.

Dr. Geisendorfer, who returned this morning from Condon where he had been in consultation with Dr. Wood, of that place, gives the information that the spring wheat crop of Gilliam county is almost a total failure owing to the winds and excessive warm weather combined with a lack of moisture. He, however, brought home a sample of fall grain which has every appearance of a healthy product. The doctor says the fall crop in Gilliam will be normal.

would probably never recover, Eugene Shorter, a youth who registered from North Yakima, but whose home is Tacoma, shot and fatally wounded himself while lying on a cot in the Smith lodging house in this city tonight. Dr. Watkins stated this evening that Shorter had but little chance for recovery.

The wounded man arrived at Pasco last night from Yakima and was in company of his younger brother who is about 14 years old. About 8:20 o'clock he retired to his room and complained of not feeling well.

Dispatching his brother for a glass of water, and adding, as the boy left the room that he would soon be out of his misery, he secured his revolver placed it to his breast and fired.

Efforts are being made to secure information regarding the relatives of the youth. The younger brother, crazed with grief, ran crying from the house, and up to a late hour tonight has not returned to the bedside of his dying brother.

CANDY FOR THE FLEET.
Battleship Squadron Receives 40,000 Pounds of Sweets.

The navy department has ordered another lot of 40,000 pounds of high grade chocolate bonbons for the Pacific fleet to be delivered in San Francisco before the ships sail for the orient, says the Trade Review.

Since the Spanish war large shipments have been repeatedly ordered for the warships, owing to a conviction on the part of the medical corps that chocolates lessen the desire for strong drink and are especially good for men in the tropics.

Purity, flavor and keeping qualities are the three requirements. Every bonbon is wrapped in tin-foil and then packed in air-tight tin boxes with screw tops to resist heat and salt air. Jack does not care for the pretty paper boxes landmen know so well, but he likes the contents and orders in carload lots.

THE AMOUNT OF YOUR "BELIEF IN ADVERTISING" WHICH IS PUT INTO TYPE IS WHAT COUNTS.

There is probably a clothing ad in today's paper that will remind you that your new suit is overdue. Meet the ad "face to face," and it will help you to meet the clothes problem that way.

If you have lived too long in one place, look at the furnished rooms advertised today—and get a change of scene.

It won't pay you to try to deal with a buyer who wants your property only half as much as "the right man" would want it.

Any quest by which you can make a "new test" of want advertising today? Think it over.

Your store is NOT "big enough," or prosperous enough, unless your ambition and aspirations are under-sized.

There never was a day in any calendar when adequate advertising would do more for your store than it will today.
