MEMORY OF CHIEF JOSEPH.

Great Stone Face in Wallowa Canyon a Reminder.

Rev. J. D. Gilliam of La Grande writes as follows to the Elgin Recorder of a reputed stone likeness of Chief Joseph in Wallowa canyon:

Does the traveler on the Joseph and Elgin stage ever remember looking high up on the hillside just above Victor's and seeing the remarkable profile of the Indian's face? It is almost the exact image of the device on our copper one-cent piece. It is perfect even to the high war bonnet whose stone feathers are everlastingly set in the great lava "rim rock" that forms the precipice thus nature-hewn.

The tireless tooth of Time has been busy for uncalculable ages day and night, summer and winter, age steadily, patiently, silently chipping, constantly changing his tools; now he uses the fierce canyon blast tearing up

TO MONOPOLIZE CHERRY CROP.
Salem Cannery Company Would Have Three-year Contract.

There is a merry war on between the cherry growers of Marion and Polk counties on the one side and the Mutual Canning company on the other, says the Salem Statesman.

It appears that last week some of the growers called on the cannery people and after some discussion of crop and market conditions were offered three cents per pound for their cherries. Although the growers thought this was rather a small price they finally consented to accept the price and arranged to bring in their fruit.

However, it developed yesterday, when some of the growers appeared with their cherries and scores of others were ready to begin picking, that in order to secure the price of three cents per pound offered, the growers would have to sign a contract tying them up for three years. Under the terms of the contract the price was to be three cents this year and to be regulated next year and the year after by the price of the canned goods in California or as quoted by local canneries.

The growers received this ultimatum with dismay. They tried to argue the matter, but with no avail. President Holcomb, who is personally in charge of the negotiations for his canneries, so far declining to yield a point.

The growers are very much opposed to signing any such contract as they have it all figured out that the cannery people would have everything their own way next year and the year after and that competition would be practically eliminated.

REDS HOLD SUN DANCE.
For First Time in Four Years Indians Are Permitted to Celebrate Painful Festival.

A special to the Wyoming Tribune from Lander, Wyo., says the Shoshoni sun dance is in full progress near the agency. Saturday morning before sunrise, a hundred or more bucks went to Little Wind river canyon to procure poles for the construction of their stockade where the dance will be held.

As many more Indians met them on their return from the canyon, and as is their custom, a sham battle took place which was witnessed by nearly every inhabitant of the post and agency and many visitors from Lander.

At sundown the dance was in full sway and will continue until some time tomorrow. Many of the dancers are growing weak and exhausted and dropping out.

It is one of the largest and most enthusiastic dances they have ever held, two visiting tribes being in attendance, and as this is the first dance they have been allowed to hold in the past four years, an unusual interest is manifested. Nearly all of Lander drove over Sunday to be in attendance.

Statue for Quay.
Arrangements are being made for the unveiling of the state's statue to the late Senator Quay, the famous republican "boss" of Pennsylvania. Former Governor Pennypacker will probably be selected to deliver the eulogy.

AMUSEMENTS

Pastime Pictures Good.

The pictures at the Pastime, which have been on since Tuesday have been the best yet shown at that popular place, among them being "Foreman's Hatred," "A Mean Man" and the "Carnival at Nice." The reproduction of this carnival is something wonderful, in beautiful colorings and instructive. The entire program has been especially good this week. The management announces another change for tomorrow.

The Show Shop.

The Show Shop on Main street, has been showing some of the latest and most up to date pictures of late, among them being "The Days of 61, or the Blue and the Gray." This last program has been particularly pleasing and will continue until tomorrow when there will be another up to date lot of pictures.

The Dimes Please.

The two Dimes have been having some very pleasing pictures the past few days, with new illustrated songs. The management announces some very clever new changes at these places tomorrow, something entirely new. Music is furnished by a real pianist and the songs by Robert Fenner of Salt Lake, are always enjoyed at the new Dime.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.
That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.
Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundance.
Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.
Sold by leading druggists. Send 10¢ in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

Who Pays the Bills?

Did you ever ask yourself who really pays the advertising bills?

By this we mean who actually foots the bills for publicity of business firms and others who purchase space in the newspapers?

Your first impulse, of course, is to reply that the advertiser pays them. But this is not the case. The advertiser incurs no real expense in the matter, for the cost of his advertisement is, as a rule, returned to him in largely increased profits.

Then who does pay the bills?

The purchaser?

No; certainly not. The purchaser profits by the advertising, for he buys cheaper and gets a fresher and better assortment of goods.

Who, then, pays the merchant's advertising bills?

Why, the merchant who does not seek newspaper publicity. The man who draws himself into his shell, like the snail, and declines all inducements to advertise. The non-advertiser foots the advertiser's bills, as a large proportion of the money he loses through his lack of nerve and enterprise finds its way, directly or indirectly, into the pockets of his more business-like competitor.

The snail-like merchant "pays the freight" in another way, for his stock depreciates and eventually hangs like lead on his hands until disaster stares him in the face.

These are days when all men who would succeed must advertise, and those who do not are almost certain to fall by the wayside.—Fourth Estate.
