FREEWATER ADVICES NEWS OF WESTON

SELLS LAND FOR INCREASE IN PRICE

Haying Is Done and Farmers Prepare for Big Harvest, Some Grain Being Threshed at Spofford — Unknown Man Goes Insane on Streets—Woman Undergoes Operation—Apples to Denver.

Freewater, July 10.—James Adrians of Sunnyside, who recently purchased 10 acres of land from G. A. Hobbs for the sum of $1000, has sold the tract to Davis brothers of Walla Walla for a consideration of $3000. Land continues to grow in value in this section.

The farmers are too busy these days to pay much attention to the extreme warm weather that has prevailed. Haying is about done and the wheat growers are now beginning to harvest the grain, which promises to yield very well in most localities.

Man Goes Insane. Some excitement was occasioned yesterday when an unknown man who had been about the streets for a few days became insane. He yelled about town, and talked mostly of religion. He was captured and taken to the city hospital. Doctors found that he was crazy with cocaine. He gives his name as Charles Manton and claims to be from Milwaukee.

Mrs. Dan Sheets has returned from a trip to McMinnville, Oregon.

Mrs. C. E. Dowling of Hudson Bay underwent a successful operation for appendicitis at St. Mary's hospital in Walla Walla yesterday.

Apples to Denver. Two carloads of Oregon apples, canned in Freewater, have just been shipped to Denver, where they have been sold to wholesale houses. This will practically clean up the apples packed last year in the Webber-Russell cannery.

Harvest at Spofford. Harvesting is now on in full sway at Spofford. Reports of good yields are being received. In a few days harvesting will be on in all directions.

HOPE FOR FREE LOCKS.

People of Willamette Valley Look for Favorable Action.

The Salem Journal says of the prospects of securing free locks on the Willamette river for the people of western Oregon:

The Oregon delegation all promise there shall be something done to secure free locks and canal at Oregon city.

The state has taken the initiative and appropriated $300,000 for the purpose of helping congress to buy the locks and canal at Oregon City.

One hundred thousand dollars has already been levied and collected and is in the state treasury for this purpose, as a result of the Jones bill, full swing until about the 15th or a bill to make the necessary appropriation for this purpose.

The Fulton resolution passed the senate directing a new estimate to be made of the cost of acquiring the locks and canal.

Congressman Ellis of eastern Oregon feels grateful for the kind words said for him in this part of the state and writes:

In regard to free locks and canal will say I am earnestly in favor of any measure that will bring that about at an early day, and will willingly and cheerfully work hand in hand with Hawley in behalf of this much needed work.

Following is the text of a plank in the last republican platform, and to which the whole state is committed:

This convention approves the action of the last legislature in passing the Jones bill to secure free locks and canal at Oregon City by the cooperation of the state and government.

We urge our delegation in congress and the United States senate to make this a foremost issue to the end that the farmers and shippers of the Willamette valley may be relieved of the tax of 50 cents per ton now levied on all commerce of western Oregon by a private corporation to the great financial injury of the industries and manufacturing enterprises that demand competition in freight rates, which is impossible without a free and open waterway.

Georgia Suffragettes.

Atlanta, Ga., July 10.—Women of the Cracker state who favor equal rights are today testifying to the faith that is in them, the occasion being the second day's session of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association. The speakers include several suffragettes of prominence, among them Miss Laura Clay of Lexington, Ky., one of the leaders of the movement in the United States. Governor Hoke Smith was congratulated by the suffragettes for having appointed a woman as state librarian, the only state office in Georgia which is open to the fair sex.

INTERURBAN OFFICERS MAKE IMPORTANT BUSINESS VISIT

Reported That Line Will Soon Be Extended to Weston—Weston Normal President Goes to Boston and Other Eastern Points—Many Campers Found in Mountains—Preparing for Harvest.

Weston, July 10.—Some of the officers of the interurban line running between Walla Walla and Milton were in the city this week in connection with business concerning the survey of the line, which it is understood will soon be run to Weston. Among those here were President Baumliester, Vice President Drumheller, Secretary Isaacs and Mr. Isaacs, the New York representative. It has not been learned just how soon the line will be run on to this place.

President French of the Weston normal, left Wednesday for Boston, Mass., where he will meet his wife, and they together will visit different points of interest, stopping at Newport, R. I., and different places.

The farmers of this section are preparing for the big harvest which is expected to begin in earnest next week. A number of new combines will be in use this season.

There are a great many camping parties from here out in the mountains. Everyone that can is going out since it has been so warm the past few days.

It is understood that a great many campers are already coming to the mountains in the vicinity of the toll gate above here. There will be the usual number there during the months of July and August.

DAYLIGHT TRAIN TO PORTLAND FOR WALLA WALLA

Run Will be Made By Pasco Over North Bank and Northern Pacific.

It is believed that Walla Walla is same time a daylight train to Seattle Portland over the Northern Pacific and North Bank roads, as N. P. officials of this city are today comparing possible schedules of trains of the two roads, says the Bulletin. At the same time a daylight train to Seattle and Spokane will be made possible for Walla Walla residents, and the long delay in Pasco will be practically done away with.

With the completion of the large bridge of the North Bank across the Willamette river at Portland, trains will be inaugurated on that road between Pasco and Portland. It is expected that this bridge will be ready for use about the last of this month, and it is probable that by the first of August the daylight train from Walla Walla will be inaugurated.

In order to do this, two trains each way between Walla Walla and Pasco will be necessary. A train that would make the daylight ride to Portland possible, would have to be run out of Walla Walla in the morning, leaving here in time to reach Pasco by 11 o'clock. But if this train could be run out of Walla Walla in time to reach Pasco at 9:25 in the morning, connection could be made with trains for Seattle and Spokane, as well as the train on the North Bank for Portland.

This would be a great improvement in the railroad service of Walla Walla, and it is possible that the Commercial club will take up the proposition and make strong recommendations to the Northern Pacific company. One prominent business man said today that he could see no reason for not discontinuing the night train out of Walla Walla if necessary in order to secure the day train.
