

PRINCE OF WALES TO CANADA

SAILS TOMORROW ON "SHIP OF MYSTERY"

Will Open Big Ter-centenary Celebration in Quebec and Dedicate Monument to Wolfe and Montcalm—Will Cross Ocean on Most Powerful Cruiser Afloat.

London, July 15.—The Prince of Wales today completed preparations for his visit to America and will sail tomorrow on the new cruiser Indomitable, the famous "mystery ship," for Quebec, where he will take part in the tercentenary celebration beginning next week.

The prince will be given an elaborate welcome to His Majesty's great new-world dominion and will dedicate a monument to Wolfe and Montcalm on the Plains of Abraham. The Indomitable is now in readiness for the transatlantic voyage and will land its royal passenger in Quebec a week from today, when the official reception to the prince will take place.

This will be the prince's second visit to Canada, he having crossed nearly 10 years ago when on his world's tour from ocean to ocean, visiting the chief towns. He also spent some time fishing and hunting in the northwest. This time he will go no further west than Quebec and will stay only a week.

His royal highness will be accompanied by a brilliant staff, so that none of the pomp and ceremony of the British court will be missing. Among the staff will be Sir Francis Hopwood, under colonial secretary, who probably knows more about the colonies than any other Englishman and upon whom the Canadians at least rely when dealing with the mother country.

French and American squadrons will be at Quebec and invitations have been sent to France and all the colonies to send delegations. Australia will be represented by Lord Dudley, the new governor-general.

On landing the prince will be received by Governor-General Grey and will be presented with an address by the dominion parliament. The next day (July 23) the landing of Champlain will be re-enacted, the old navigator being shown arriving with a crew in a ship like the one he sailed in. The fetes will then be formally opened by the prince. The program for the following days is this:

July 24—Dedication of the battlefield. Military and naval review.

July 25—Review of the fleets.

July 26—Thanksgiving day. Services in the Roman Catholic and English Cathedrals.

July 27—Naval display ashore by 10,000 sailors. Representation of the bombardment of Quebec by the British fleet and army under Saunders and Wolfe.

July 28—Prince leaves Quebec.

The Indomitable is one of three sister ships, the two others being the Invincible and Inflexible, which were voted in 1905, but not laid down till 1906, and which are to all cruisers of the past what the Dreadnaught is to all earlier battleships.

She is at once the fastest, the largest and the most heavily armed cruiser afloat; indeed, in many respects she resembles a fast battleship rather than a cruiser.

The first point to notice is the immense power of her artillery. She carries eight huge 12 inch guns, each forty five feet long, and each capable of firing an 850 pound shell twice in the minute.

These guns are mounted in pairs in four turrets, and the turrets are so arranged that all the eight big guns can fire on either broadside, and six of them ahead or astern.

The guns are directed from the fire-control stations, which are duplicated one on each mast, the details of the system being absolutely confidential. But the general arrangement is that electrical transmitters from the fire-control stations aloft send down to indicators at the guns the range in yards, the deflection to right or left, the order to commence or to suspend fire, and the final signal, a loud ring on a gong to fire the gun.

Some idea of the blast and the force of these guns can be gained from this fact—that during her two trials two of the amid-ship turret guns were trained right ahead and fired simultaneously.

A boat was hanging on the davits, well out of the actual path of the projectiles, but in the track of the blast of gas which accompanies them.

After the shots had been fired the boat was left a mass of matchwood, lying on the deck. The projectiles from these mammoth guns will pierce four feet three inches of solid iron placed close to the muzzle. At 500 yards they will penetrate with ease 14 inches of the best and strongest armor now made.

The engines of the Indomitable are of the Parsons turbine type, developing 41,000 horsepower, the most powerful ever put into a British warship. They drive four screws, and on her recent official trials, which were carried out under war conditions propelled her at a rate in excess of 25 knots.

The turbine engines run smoothly and almost without attention; indeed, it is said that the engine-room staff in these new turbine vessels have so little to do when running at high speed that there is danger of the men going to sleep.

The boilers are fitted with appliances for burning oil, though coal is the main fuel.

The effect of the Indomitable on naval construction has already been remarkable.

In Germany two even more gigantic and powerful cruisers are now being built of her special type, while

Japan is also constructing cruisers of the same general design.

FOES OF RUM MEET.

Annual Convention of Prohibition Party Convened.

Columbus, O., July 15.—With over 1500 delegates present, many anti-saloon leaders occupying places of honor on the platform and the galleries filled with alternates and visitors, the prohibition party's national convention was formally opened this morning. The assemblage is by all odds the most enthusiastic in the history of the party. Since the last convention several states, including Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, North Carolina and Oklahoma, have joined the prohibition ranks, and the delegations from those states were given a great ovation. In the number of delegates, Illinois heads the list with 178, with Pennsylvania a close second. The latter state, however, with New York and New Jersey, are admitted to be the most hopeless in the union, from a prohibition standpoint. Representation in the convention gives each state and territory four delegates at large and an additional delegate for every 200 votes cast for Dr. Silas C. Swallow for president in 1904.

It is declared by the party leaders that the prohibitionists will cast nearly a million votes at the coming election. In 1904 Swallow received only 258,205, but it is alleged that prohibition sentiment has increased by leaps and bounds since that time. The failure of Tennessee democrats to nominate Senator Carmack, who ran on a prohibition platform for governor of that state, and the defeat of Hoke Smith in Georgia, are declared to be temporary reverses.

Apparently no definite decision has yet been reached in regard to the presidential nomination. The contest for the honor is a spirited but good-natured one. Seaborn Wright of Georgia, has a healthy boom which promises fair chances of securing for him the coveted nomination. Among others actively in the race are F. F. Wheeler of California; Alfred Manierre of New York; W. B. Peimore of Missouri; S. A. Artman of Indiana, and J. H. Cranfill of Texas.

The platform will be little changed from recent years and will demand the complete wiping out of the liquor business.

The prohibitionists will carry on the most active campaign in years and will have abundant funds for that purpose. Maine will be a storm center during the campaign, owing to the attempt to secure resubmission of the prohibition amendment to the constitution.

PROHIBITION AN ISSUE.

Maine Democrats Declare for Resubmission of Amendment.

Bangor, Me., July 15.—With a cut-and-dried program, providing for the nomination of Obadiah Gardner, of Rockland, for governor, upon a platform demanding the resubmission of the prohibition clause of the constitution to a popular vote, the Democrats of Maine began their state convention in City hall at 1:30 this afternoon.

The republicans recently nominated Bert H. Fernald of Portland for governor, on a platform opposing resubmission. Fernald holds that it will be unwise to imperil prohibition, which has been on the statute books for more than half a century, by resubmitting it to decision of the voters.

The campaign will be fought out on this clear-cut issue and the democratic leaders in attendance at today's convention declare that it will mean democratic victory. They allege that public sentiment favors resubmission and point out that the republican majorities have been cut down from 48,000 to 8000 in the last few years by the liquor agitation.

The republican platform declares emphatically for the continuance of prohibition. The democratic platform will assert that under a republican form of government the majority should decide the question, while no positive stand will be taken either for or against prohibition.

Democratic politicians declare that the prohibition law has become a farce and a source of graft and corruption and that, if the people decide to retain it, the statute should be strictly enforced.

Some of the most noted temperance orators of the country will come to the assistance of the Maine republicans during the campaign. Maine was the first state in the union to adopt a prohibition law and the temperance leaders realize that if it should be repealed after the long trial it has been given, the effect would be disastrous to the prohibition movement throughout the United States.

Democrats declare that their state ticket will have the support of thousands of republican voters, who are discontented with the present prohibition regime and will aid in electing a democratic governor and legislature in order to get a chance to express their opinion of prohibition at the polls.

There is little doubt that the coming campaign will be one of the hottest in the history of the state and that the republicans have the strongest fight in years on their hands.

Crack Shots Away.

A detachment of men from the Walla Walla and Boise barracks left Tuesday morning for Monterey, Calif., to participate in the Pacific rifle and pistol competition to be held there the latter part of this month. The men to represent Idaho and Washington are among the best shots in the army, in the northwest. Following are the northwest representatives: Sergeant Brooman, Troop A; Trumpeter William Talbert, Troop B; sergeant Thomas Seemey, Troop C; sergeant Charles Barr, Troop E, Walla Walla barracks. Sergeant Edward Brown and Saddler Robert Evans, Troop L, and Sergeant Frank J. Tupausky of Troop K, the Boise representatives. The Walla Walla detachment has been quartered at Boise for some time practicing for the contest.

MINING MAN IS MISSING.

Manager of Little El Frida Mine Disappears While on Trip to Salt Lake.

Weiser, Ida., July 15.—H. A. Browne of Lakeland, Fla.; G. T. Smith of Tampa, Fla., and Nye F. T. Morton of Boise, arrived here last night from the Little El Frida mine in the Marshall lake district, 125 miles from Weiser. They are heavy stockholders in the Little El Frida and are members of the board of directors. They went to the property three weeks ago on a tour of inspection.

When they reached the mine they learned that J. A. Downall of Jacksonville, Fla., president and general manager of the company, had gone to Salt Lake, taking with him a large amount of ore, which he intended to have tested. They waited at the mine for several days, and hearing nothing from Mr. Downall, telegraphed him, telling him to come to the mine.

Getting no reply they became alarmed and began inquiring through the police at Salt Lake. They found where he had registered at a hotel and had been checked out, and also found the ore at the express office, but could find no trace of Downall. Nothing has been learned of him yet. They are uneasy and will go to Salt Lake and endeavor to get trace of him.

Everything at the mine is in good order. Downall is prominent at his home. He was last seen at Salt Lake June 26. He told a friend while on his way out that he expected to go to Denver to meet his wife, but nothing could be learned of him there.

The grandmothers of the old Dutch Dunkard families of western Pennsylvania have made and used "Hickory Bark Cough Remedy" and reared their families on it for a hundred years. Now you can buy it of your dealers. Ask for it and use it, because it is pure; because it is the best cough remedy made today. Try it. For sale by any druggist and all dealers everywhere. DUCK "UMP" AND WIFE.

Tacoma Laundryman Thrown Into American Lake.

Tacoma, Wash., July 15.—S. G. Thompson, proprietor of the City laundry, acted as umpire in a ball game yesterday at American lake, between the laundrymen and the campers, and as a consequence in the last half of the ninth inning, on account of what the campers termed his "rotten" decisions, he was carried from the field and thrown bodily into the lake. The unfortunate umpire's wife followed the enraged campers and remonstrated in her husband's behalf. Her entreaties evidently fell on deaf ears for they soused the pleading woman into the lake with her husband.

Fortunately, the water was only about four feet deep and by a good deal of scrambling they managed to wade out. Thompson took the ducking good-naturedly.

BURN 12 SLOT MACHINES.

Wallace Judge Issues Order for Destruction—Devices Seized Last Week.

Wallace, Idaho, July 15.—The 12 slot machines seized last week by Deputy Sheriff Sutherland are doomed to go to the flames unless the owners should succeed in getting the matter into the higher court and thus far there is no indication of a contest. Justice Boomer, who issued the seizure order, today issued an order to Sheriff Bailey to this effect:

"You are hereby commanded to take said slot machines on the 25th day of July to some suitable and convenient place and between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock publicly destroy all of said slot machines by burning or otherwise, as the laws of the state provide, and that you make due return to this court of your acts and doings in the premises."

"Known For Its Strength"

What It Means

Many people do not know what a bank's capital means to its depositors, or the difference between a bank of little or no capital, and one with a large capital. One of the functions of

is to protect its depositors from possible loss; therefore the larger it is, the greater protection the depositors have.

This bank has a

Capital of	200,000.00
Surplus Fund of	50,000.00
Undivided Profits	25,000.00
Additional Shareholders
Liability	200,000.00

A TOTAL OF 475 000.00

This means that this bank must lose practically half a million dollars before its depositors could lose a cent.

This protection is for YOU.
