NEW LAW WILL BRING LITIGATION

500 CASES A YEAR
WILL BE ADDED

Statute Relating to Foreclosures on Delinquent Tax Property Will Cause Big Increase of Business for Circuit Court—First Flood of Suits Expected to Come in October

It is estimated that as many as 500 cases a year may be added to the business of the circuit court by operation of the new law relating to foreclosure of property on which delinquent taxes have not been paid within six months from the time they became delinquent. That is about the number of cases that will result if delinquencies continue at the rate of former years, for it seems almost certain that tax titles will be snapped up by those who see a change to make money.

The law gives interest at the rate of 15 per cent on delinquencies after a certificate has been issued by the sheriff, and the certificate may be secured on application to the sheriff and payment of back tax at the expiration of six months after the date of delinquency. Suit to foreclose may be begun immediately thereafter, and it seems likely that there will be a flood of suits in October, when the six months' period has expired.

Under the law county clerks are required to furnish blanks for the proceeding of foreclosure, and they will lay in a stock of them. The fees required on filing the complaint amount to only $2, and if the case goes by default this will not pay the cost. If the case is contested defendant on appearing must pay $5, and the case will then take the course of an ordinary foreclosure proceeding.

The tax title problem has long been a disturbing one, and the new law is the result of an effort of the legislature to bring such matters to a quick conclusion, putting heavy risk and penalty on the person who allows six months to elapse without paying taxes on land. It is thought

Pacific Coast League.

San Francisco, July 17.—Oakland won from San Francisco by a score of 6 to 5. Score:

R. H. E.
Oakland	6 10 4
San Francisco	5 7 3

Hopkins and Lewis; Henley, Skillman and Berry.

Portland 4; Los Angeles, 1.

Portland, July 17.—Craney, Portland's new pitcher, redeemed himself for Tuesday's defeat by pitching a superb game and by proving himself a hard hitter. Koestner, for the visitors, pitched fine ball except in the sixth and even then things might not have gone so bad with Los Angeles had the fielding back of him been up to par.

R. H. E.
Portland	4 5 2
Los Angeles	1 4 4

Craney and Madden; Koestner and Hogan.

Northwestern League.

Seattle, July 17.—Vancouver hit Franklin hard when runs were in sight and won as they pleased by a score of 11 to 4.

Aberdeen	1 4 1
Butte	5 12 1

Penoll and Boettiger; Harkness and Bender.

Helm Is a Wonder.

Spokane, July 17.—Helm, another young city league "find," had the Tigers at his mercy after the first inning today, when a pretty double saved him. Roosevelt held his old team to four hits, but his eight bases on balls were costly as his wild throw to first gave one run.

R. H. E.
Tacoma	1 4 2
Spokane	3 4 2

Roosevelt and Danny Shea; Holm and Denny Shay.

STRENUOUS VOYAGE

MRS. WESLEY MATLOCK WRITES OF ALASKA TRIP.

Twenty-one Days on the Ocean, Eight Days in Behring Sea, and Steamer Cut Its Way Through 350 Miles of Solid Ice—Rudder Broken Amidst the Icebergs.

In a letter to relatives in this city, Mrs. Wesley Matlock, who with her husband and children is now at Solomon, Alaska, tells of the hazardous experience which they had in reaching the frozen north.

The Matlocks left Seattle June 1 and they were on the ocean for 21 days, reaching Solomon June 21. Eight days of the voyage were passed in Behring sea and the ship passed through 350 miles of solid ice.

While amidst the icebergs the steamer broke its rudder and the boat had to crawl for days between mountains of ice on either side. Owing to the danger of being caught in the floe the passengers suffered great uneasiness and there was joy when they reached port.

Four other boats were also out in Behring sea at the same time and when Mrs. Matlock wrote her letter the Ohio, since reported safe, had not arrived. At that time plans were being formed for sending out a relief party.

Solomon is on Behring sea and is 40 miles north of Nome. The Matlocks have mining property at that point and on the trip north Wesley Matlock took a band of mules and a pony along, the mules to be worked in the mines. Though the animals suffered on the trip they soon got in condition for work and were at work in the mines when the letter was written. The pony was likewise enjoying life in the Arctic zone.

Here from Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kelsay and Mrs. Liggett of Springfield, Mo., arrived today to visit Mr. Kelsay's parents, Conductor and Mrs. W. H. Kelsay, at their home on South Thompson street, for a month. Mr. Kelsay is a well known locomotive engineer of Springfield, and with his wife and wife's mother, Mrs. Liggett, is making a tour of the northwest states during the summer. They have stopped at Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake and other places en route and have enjoyed a delightful trip. This is their first visit to Pendleton and they are well pleased with the city.

Miss Alma Harris will leave Monday for her home at La Grande to remain until the opening of the Pendleton schools in September.

ORVILLE TURNER DIES AT WENAH

DEATH COMES SUDDENLY THROUGH HEART DISEASE

Pendleton Young Man Has Been a Sufferer from Bright's Disease for Several Months—Condition Regarded as Hopeless But End Not Expected So Soon—Survived by Wife.

Orville Turner died at Wenaha Springs at 12 o'clock last night from the effects of heart failure brought on by Bright's disease. News of his sudden death was received here by wire this morning and came as a great surprise to the relatives and friends of the deceased.

When he returned from Portland some months ago Mr. Turner was suffering from Bright's disease and he had lost much flesh though his condition was not regarded as serious. For several weeks past he had been at Wenaha and had been caring for the pool for the Bories. On Tuesday he came down to Pendleton for a short visit and was apparently feeling well. However, it was known that his condition was serious and that he might not live through the summer.

Orville Turner was 35 years of age and was born at Albany, Oregon. He came to Pendleton 15 years ago and passed such a great portion of his life that he was known to all. He was married six years ago to Miss Birdie Bowman, who was with him at Wenaha when he died.

Aside from his wife, the deceased leaves his father, Dion Turner, and two brothers, Otto and Elmer Turner, and other relatives. At this time Otto Turner, deputy game warden, is in the mountains on a hunting trip. Consequently he cannot be reached prior to his brother's funeral.

This afternoon the body of the deceased was brought down on train No. 1 and it is being held at the Rader undertaking parlor. It will be shipped to Albany on train No. 1 tomorrow and the funeral will be held there.

The deceased was a member of the Knights of Pythias and F. J. Quinlan, chancellor commander of Damon lodge, is assisting the bereaved wife with the funeral arrangements. A delegation of 25 or 30 knights met the body at the depot when it arrived today.

LIQUORS ARE SOLD.

Bankrupt Stock of Maze Saloon Is Disposed of at Auction.

This forenoon the stock and fixtures of the old Maze saloon were sold from a room in the Milarkey building on Court street. T. C. Taylor, trustee for the creditors of Hansen & Olsen, acted as auctioneer.

The bar and back bar sold for $175 and fairly good prices were paid for the remainder of the fixtures and stock. The liquors were sold by case and the sale was a source of much interest. Three barrels of empty mineral water bottles were bid in by Mayor Murphy for $1.

Following the sale of the Maze stock, Judge Fitzgerald, referee in bankruptcy, stated that the entire sale will be approved by him.

Stolen Property Found.

Sheriff T. D. Taylor returned today from North Yakima and way points, where he had been searching for goods that had been stolen from a store at Athena. Part of the stuff was recovered through the assistance of Frank Anderson, who helped Grant, the accused man, sell the plunder. Anderson will be held as a witness against Grant.

Big Fight Sure.

Ely, Nev., July 18.—Tex Rickard is on his way to Salt Lake to see the officials of the Oregon Short Line about special rates from Salt Lake and Ogden to Ely, for the coming fight between Gans and Nelson. If Rickard can get the rates he is looking for the fight is surely to be fought.

Will Train Horse.

Fred Windsor, son of Mrs. C. F. Barnett, left this morning for Bengo, Wash., where he will place his speedy little pacer, Winnie Dell, in training for several months. He was accompanied as far as Athena by his brother, Lewis. He will ride his horse to Bengo, which is near Spokane.

MISTAKEN FOR PARKER.

W. F. Matlock Given Former Candidate's Place on Convention Platform.

While attending the democratic national convention at Denver W. F. Matlock was several times mistaken for Judge Alton B. Parker and enjoyed the distinction because of a personal resemblance between the one-time presidential candidate and himself.

At one time early in the convention Mr. Matlock was approached by the head master at arms of the convention, who said:

"Come with me, judge, and take a seat on the platform."

As he was entitled to a seat on the platform, through virtue of the fact that he was one of the convention vice presidents, Mr. Matlock proceeded to take the usher's advice and was given a seat of honor in the front row on the platform. Not until later did he learn that he had been shown the courtesy because the official had mistaken him for the man from Esopus.

The platform seat given him was his until the end of the convention and he consequently really occupied Judge Parker's place throughout the session.

At another time during the convention Mr. Matlock was seated with the Oregon delegation when a bystander was heard to exclaim, "Judge Parker is hanging out with the Oregon delegation."
