MAYBERRY BUYS INTO CREAMERY

HAS BEEN SAVINGS BANK BOOKKEEPER FOUR YEARS.

B. F. Camp Sells Interest in Pendleton Creamery to Richard Mayberry Who Will Take Charge of Creamery Office and Books—Business of Creamery Is Increasing.

Richard Mayberry, the well known bookkeeper of the Pendleton Savings bank has just purchased an interest in the Pendleton creamery and, on August 1 will take charge of the office and books of the creamery company and will be permanently connected with that industry.

Mr. Mayberry purchased the interest of B. F. Camp in the creamery and is now one of the principal owners in the business and will sever his connection with the savings bank with which institution he has been employed for the past four years.

The creamery is increasing its business rapidly and is now one of the leading institutions in eastern Oregon. Aside from using local cream and butter fat it ships in large quantities from Union, Baker and Walla Walla counties and furnishes an excellent market for the cream of those counties.

The supply of cream received from Umatilla county is not as large as it should be and an active campaign will be started among Umatilla county farmers urging them to milk more cows. The market for the butter output of the creamery is good and is now well known throughout eastern Oregon.

By Automobile to Wenaha Springs.

It is thought that by next Sunday the Thorn Hollow bridge will be completed and that automobiles will be able to go from this city to Wenaha Springs without trouble. The two Walla Walla automobile parties which visited the springs last Sunday forded the river at Thorn Hollow and reached the springs without delay. When the Thorn Hollow bridge is completed the road from this city to the springs will be in excellent condition and automobile parties to that popular resort will be frequent.

EASTERN OREGON SURVEYS.

Topographic Features of Arid Section Are Recorded.

The Oregon Forester says of the recent topographic surveys made in eastern Oregon including a portion of Umatilla and Morrow counties:

During the past three years, approximately 2000 square miles in eastern Oregon have been surveyed by the state in co-operation with the United States. The topographic features of this area will be known for all time, and will be readily accessible to the public at three cents per sheet. Within this area, land can be intelligently purchased by an eastern investor without coming to Oregon, for he can ascertain definitely the elevation and slope of the ground, its relation to the surrounding country, and whether it lies in a swamp, or on top of an inaccessible mountain.

The Mitchell Butte quadrangle was surveyed in 1905 and includes the Malheur and Owyhee river valleys, adjoining the Idaho line.

The Blalock Island quadrangle, covering Irrigon and extending to near Arlington, was surveyed during 1904. It includes the west half of the largest body of vacant irrigable land in this state. These two sheets are already published and are available for distribution.

This latter sheet, together with the adjoining sheet, covering Umatilla, which was surveyed last season, includes 200,000 acres of irrigable land in the proposed John Day project of the reclamation service. It has been roughly estimated that the cost of reclaiming will be in the vicinity of $75 per acre.

It will, therefore, take some definite information, and perhaps some persuasion on the part of our delegation in Washington, to persuade the reclamation service to take up a project of such magnitude. The success of the government's east Umatilla project will do much to hasten the commencement of work on the larger project.

Float Logs Down Columbia.

Needs of an open river are emphasized in a document filed with the county auditor today, says the Walla Walla Bulletin. It is the announcement that the Patrick Lumber company of Nelson, B. C., has deposited in the Columbia river 9,000,000 feet of sawlogs destined to Prescott, Columbia county, Oregon.

The logs, presumably, are rafted. Each is branded on the end with a large "P." It is a far cry from Nelson, B. C., to Prescott, Ore.—the latter place being west of Portland and but a short distance from the Pacific ocean.

What might be done for the inland empire were the stream open for navigation its entire distance can only be conjectured, so vast are the possibilities. The officials at the court house were greatly impressed with the open river movement when the instrument was received for filing. "If," as one of them said, "they can send nine million feet of lumber down the stream, let for heaven sake hurry and get a line of boats on it and get connected up with the river by an electric line. It will do untold good for this country."

Killed While Hunting.

August Helming, a fur dealer at Marshfield, Ore., was shot and killed by a friend who mistook him for a deer. The shooting occurred in the mountains near Corbis, Curry county, Oregon.

NO TYPHOID HERE.

Few Cases in County But None in Town—Warning Issued.

At the present time there is practically no typhoid fever in this city. Though a few cases are known of they are all from out of the city and the townspeople themselves have been free from the dread disease thus far.

But while there is little typhoid there are many cases of light summer fever, brought on doubtless by the hot weather, though as a rule the patients recover within a few days.

As a rule typhoid does not become bad here until the middle of August or later and the physicians all advise caution, both as to water and food, lest trouble result later.

DEAL NOT CLOSED.

Pendleton Woolen Mill Has Not Been Purchased by Portland Concern.

That he has heard nothing of the sale of the Pendleton woolen mill plant to the proposed textile concern of Portland, was declared this afternoon by F. E. Judd. At the present time E. Y. Judd is away from the city and if any deal for the woolen mill has been made it has been made with him just recently.

According to F. E. Judd, the woolen mill plant was appraised by the promoters of the Portland company and negotiations for the plant had been entered into. However, he has never heard of the trade being closed and is under the impression that the Portland people have not yet produced the payment for the plant.

HOT WAVE HITS HARD.

Season's Records for Warmth Smashed This Afternoon.

It has been H-O-T in Pendleton today and all previous records of the year were smashed to dust this afternoon. At 1 o'clock the official government thermometer at H. F. Johnson's, a very conservative weather gauge, climbed to 112 and threatened to go higher.

On Main and Court streets today the thermometers have risen nearly to the tops and the business section of the town has been as warm as the south end of Hades.

Last night was perhaps the warmest of the season and it drove most everybody to their lawns or porches to sleep. A thunder shower is predicted for tonight.

Marriage License.

A marriage license has been issued to W. G. Rodda and V. Elizabeth Hamer.

THIS COUNTY IS INTERESTED

PLANS FOR NEW EXPERIMENT STATION.

Will Be Located in Eastern Oregon and Probably in Umatilla County—Site at Hermiston Is Available and Would Be of Benefit to This Part of the State.

There may be hope for Umatilla in an announcement that has gone out from Corvallis regarding plans for experiment stations in eastern Oregon. Dr. James Withycombe, head of the agricultural course at O. A. C., has asked to be relieved of further institute work and henceforth Dr. W. P. Kerr, president of the school, will be at the head of the work of that nature.

By action of the board of regents President Kerr has been instructed to prepare plans for an eastern Oregon experiment station and also for sub-stations in different sections of the state.

At present the only branch station in the state is the one at Union, which owing to the wide difference in soil and climatic conditions, is of little use to the section between the Blue mountains and the Cascades.

From the announcement it is evident that the experiment station intends supplying the needs of the state more thoroughly than in the past and the increased activity will be welcomed by farmers of the inland empire.

In the past the proposition of a branch station for Umatilla county has been before the agricultural college people and it was presented to President Kerr when he was in Pendleton last fall. At that time it was hoped to secure a station for the Hermiston country in the belief that it would be of immense benefit to settlers on the newly watered lands.

Full particulars concerning the plans of the O. A. C. regents have not been made known but they will doubtless be forthcoming soon and further details will be awaited with interest.

Ever since the development movement was started here last spring the need of an experimental or "demonstration" farm has been repeatedly urged and any move towards supplying one for this county will meet with strong approval.

NO RACE SUICIDE HERE

Stork a Frequent Visitor to Pendleton Homes During Past Few Days.

That race suicide does not affect Pendleton is shown by the large number of births occurring recently. The following are a few of those just reported.

- To Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Edmiston, a daughter.
- To Mr. and Mrs. Fred Laing, a son.
- To Mr. and Mrs. Omar Stephens, of Umatilla, a son, born here.
- To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neil, a son.
- To Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greulich, a daughter.

Second Crop Has Been Harvested.

The second crop of alfalfa has been harvested in the Butter creek district and the third crop is now growing nicely, according to Zoeth Houser, who came up from his ranch this morning. The second crop was excellent and the third crop gives promise of being fully as good. With a little extra irrigation the fourth crop could be harvested on most of the Butter creek land this year, but most of the farmers will cut but three crops. They will have three good crops and plenty of excellent fall pasture.

Dr. K. A. J. McKenzie Through.

Dr. K. A. J. McKenzie, chief surgeon for the O. R. & N. system passed through the city last evening on his way to Portland from La Grande where he had been called on professional business. He is delighted with eastern Oregon and is especially interested in the irrigation development of Umatilla county. To the East Oregonian he expressed the belief that Umatilla county will be producing more than any other like area of country in the northwest within a few years when all of the idle land shall have been reclaimed.

Dr. Coe a Speaker.

Dr. Henry Waldo Coe of Portland who has become intimately identified with Umatilla county through the Coe-Furnish irrigation project is one of the leading speakers at the Taft rally in Portland tonight and will take an active part in the campaign for the republican ticket in Oregon.

"Exam" for Undertakers.

James W. Brown, undertaking map for Baker & Folsom, and F. A. Ware of Echo, have been taking the embalmers examination here today. The examination is conducted by Dr. C. J. Smith.

FULTON OPENS THE CAMPAIGN

REPUBLICANS TAKE NO CHANCES ON OREGON.

Vigorous Campaign Will Be Waged From Now Until President Is Elected in November—Chamberlain's Election to United States Senate Has Caused Doubt to Rise in Minds of Some.

Does the fact that Governor George E. Chamberlain, a democrat, received the popular vote for the United States senate, mean that there is a possibility of the democrats carrying Oregon in the November election? Such question is now engaging the thought of the republican state central committee and an active campaign for the republican presidential candidates will begin at once. Senator Fulton will formally open the campaign for Taft at the Baker theater in Portland tonight, when he will be the principal speaker at a republican rally.

The matter of bringing a number of prominent republican speakers to Oregon is now being seriously considered by the state committee and it is probable that although Oregon is normally republican by 35,000, there will be witnessed a vigorous republican campaign in the state this year.

Pineules for the Kidneys, 30 days' trial $1, guaranteed. Act directly on the Kidneys and bring relief in the first dose to backache, weak back, rheumatic pains, kidney and bladder trouble. They purify the blood and invigorate the entire system. Sold by A. C. Koeppen & Bros.

A Natural Swindler.

From Prairie City comes the news that J. W. Machen, a stockman of Eugene, has been swindled by a man named T. McLane in a purported cattle transaction. The amount of the swindle was $1,000, and came about in the form of a partnership for the purpose of buying cattle. McLane secured that amount of money from Machen and the latter has not been able to locate his wily partner since.

McLane was in Baker City for a while. He was acquainted with John Carter who runs the Elk hotel, the two having met in Kerney, Neb. Carter drove over the valley with McLane and it is understood that some deals for stock were talked of. When McLane left he gave Mr. Carter a check for $9 to pay his room rent while there and it proved later that McLane only had $5 in the bank.

Hundreds of people who suffer from backache, rheumatism, lame back, lumbago and similar ailments are not aware that these are merely symptoms of kidney trouble. Malheur County Dry.

The injunction against prohibition in Malheur county has been denied the saloonmen and the saloons of that county, 18 in number have been closed. The matter has been in the courts for some time but was definitely settled this week. The saloons of Vale and Ontario were closed Monday. The county carried for prohibition by 250 votes but the saloonmen claimed there was some irregularity in the election.
