John Banister and several other defendants in the suit of Taylor vs. Banister et al. are here today.

Gall and Gertrude Huffman left this evening for Kamela, where they will enjoy a few weeks' outing.

Will Johnson, traveling salesman, left last night for Spokane after a few days' visit with friends in the city.

Harold Fish, of Hotel Bowman, will leave in the morning by bicycle for Lehman springs for a few weeks' outing.

Antone Vey, one of the large sheep owners of Umatilla county, came over to La Grande from Pendleton yesterday.—La Grande Star.

Frank Bonsal of La Grande, came over today to visit with his uncle, Conductor F. L. Coykendall and family, for a few days.

Jack McLaughlin, traveling freight agent for the Illinois Central, is in the city today on his way from Huntington to Portland.

C. D. Thomas, boiler inspector with the Hartford steam boiler inspection and insurance company, was here yesterday in behalf of that company.

J. H. Aitken of Huntington, a prominent Knight of Pythias and business man of that city, passed through last evening on his way home from Portland.

J. W. Kennedy and family, pioneers of Union county, passed through the city last evening on their way to Walla Walla to spend a few days with friends.

Colonel J. F. McNaught came up from Hermiston last evening, and he left at noon today for Athena, where he will remain for a short time on business.

Mr. and Mrs. William Scott left last evening for their home in Walla Walla after a few days' stay at Wenaha springs. Mr. Scott is greatly improved in health.

E. O. Lauritzen, representing the Potter-Chapin realty company of Portland, is here today and is selling lots in Bayocean Park, the proposed Tillamook county summer resort.

Henry Rinehart and family of Summerville, passed through the city last evening on their way to North Yakima, where they were called by the serious illness of L. B. Rinehart, a brother of Mr. Rinehart's.

Night Operator Alfred Noth of the O. R. & N. offices, has just returned from his vacation of 10 days at Seaside and Lehman springs and enjoyed a pleasant stay at both places. He will return to work tonight.

Mrs. R. L. Jackson will leave Monday for Wellington, Kan., where she will visit with relatives for two months. She will be joined by her husband, Day Operator Jackson, of the O. R. & N. offices before returning home.

J. B. Kennedy came in last evening from his farm at Myrick, where harvesting is now in progress. The yield in that section is over average and is surprising to many who had feared that the dry weather had cut the crop short.

D. C. Brown, linotype operator on the East Oregonian, left this evening for Kamela for a few weeks' outing, accompanied by Mrs. Brown. He has been quite ill for a week, but is now slightly improved and will take a rest in the mountains.

Conductor Gordon Menzies of the Pendleton-Walla Walla passenger run on the O. R. & N., came down from Lehman springs last evening, where he left his wife and baby for the hot season. He resumed his run on the branch today.

Harvest in Union County. Harvesting in the valley will be quite generally begun next Monday, says the La Grande Star. The grain is ripening with much more rapidity than had been anticipated and from the present indications the harvest season will come on with a rush. While the intense heat of a few days ago had some bad effect, the grain in many localities has rallied and the prospects for a yield are more favorable than a week ago. Opinions differ as to the condition of the crop and the probable percentage of damage sustained. The Star office has received reports from a large number of the leading wheat raisers in different parts of the valley, and these reports seem to justify the estimate that the yield the valley over will be two-thirds of a crop.

During the electric storm at La Grande Tuesday lightning struck in several places in the city but did no serious damage.

WOMEN DELEGATES.

Two Prominent Women Had Seats in Democratic Convention.

There were two women delegates in the national democratic convention in Denver, Mrs. Mary C. C. Bradford of Colorado, and Mrs. Elizabeth Hayward of Utah. Mrs. Bradford is a descendant of the Virginia Carrolls. Though she is described as a domestic woman and when interviewed by a reporter was found dusting the furniture, nevertheless, she is also prominent in Colorado politics. At the state democratic convention she was the first delegate elected to the national convention, and was enthusiastically applauded. She is a grandmother and an ardent suffragist.

Mrs. K. M. Cook of Colorado, was one of the alternates.

Among the Utah alternates was Mrs. Sarah Ventres. Mrs. Harriet R. Hood, one of the alternates from Wyoming, is spoken of as a petite, womanly woman. She was born in Vermont and is a strong champion of woman's rights.

Conspicuous among the visitors were the wives and daughters of many of the distinguished delegates from all over the United States and the social functions arranged by the Jane Jefferson and other Denver women were many and elegant.

To Attend Osteopathic Meeting.

Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Holsinger, the well-known osteopathic physicians, will leave next Thursday afternoon for Kirksville, Mo., where they will attend the annual convention of the American Osteopathic society, which is held there from year to year. Both are graduates of the Kirksville school of osteopathy and take great interest in the progress of this branch of science.

AMUSEMENTS

Clamans' Show Pleases.

Considering the warm weather the play put on by the Clamans company at the Oregon last night was quite well attended, and the company has given excellent satisfaction in their two nights stay here. Last night "Wife in Name Only" was the attraction, and it was presented in a most clever manner. Mrs. Clamans taking the leading part, that of the wronged wife. The specialties between the acts add to the entertainment, and does away with the long waits and altogether it is one of the best companies of the kind that has been here this season. The band and the orchestra have been a great attraction of the company. The company left at noon for Walla Walla.

Pastime Change.

The management of the Pastime, announces an excellent change of motion pictures for this afternoon, and the program will continue over until Sunday. Among the new ones are "Picturesque Wales," which is especially attractive. "Railmaking at Creive," "The Idler," and the illustrated song, "Love Me and the World is Mine."

The Show Shop.

The Show Shop has a change of pictures this afternoon, all new and up to date, none of them seen in the city before. Among them are "Native Life in Egyptian Soudan," which is beautiful. "Animated Clock," "At the Stage Door," and the illustrated song, "The Summer Girl."

Dime Change Today.

The Dime had a change of pictures this afternoon, all entirely new with one of the latest and best illustrated songs. This program will continue until Sunday when there will be another change, all new. The management announces that it is also the intention to open the old Dime over Saturday and Sunday.
