Mr. Cleveland's "Istist."
(New York Times.)

"Grover Cleveland was all his life a preacher of optimism," said a Princeton man the other day. "All his lectures breathed the spirit of hoping for the best, of looking on the bright side of things. I was fortunate enough to have the entree to his home in Princeton, and on one occasion I made so bold as to compliment him on this pronounced trait of his character."

"Yes, I suppose I am what you might call an optimist," he said, with a twinkle in his eye, "but I hope I am not an iflist."

"An iflist," I repeated. "What is an iflist?"

"An iflist," said Mr. Cleveland, "is a person who is a slave to the little word if, whereas an optimist hopes for the best in a sane manner. The iflist is never quite sane. I once knew an iflist who was lost in the Maine woods with a companion on a hunting expedition. As night came on they made camp, but, although they were hungry, they had shot no game, and had nothing to eat. With a perfectly serious face this fellow looked at his companion and said:

"If we only had some ham, we'd have ham and eggs, if we only had the eggs."

Exportation Statistics Sought.

The secretary of the interior and the secretary of agriculture have approved the organization of what is to be known as the water resources service, in which the forestry service, the reclamation service, the bureau of plant industry and the water resources branch of the United States geological survey are to co-operate with the weather bureau in gathering snowfall data from mountain regions, as well as other valuable information having to do with the forests, irrigation, evaporation and the introduction of new and valuable plants. It is hoped by this means to obtain measurements of rainfall and snowfall in the mountains throughout the state for the benefit of irrigation interests, both public and private. Prof. F. H. Bigelow, who as chief of the climatological division of the weather bureau will have supervision of the weather bureau and of the work, has spent considerable time in the west during the last year, paying particular attention to evaporation problems, and is undertaking the work with a determination to obtain this information relative to the drainage area of every stream of importance in the west.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Enjoy Using Herpelide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpelide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpelide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpelide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpelide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

WRONGED GIRL DIES.

Fails to Recover From Criminal Operation—Arrests Will Be Made.

Blackfoot, Idaho, July 24.—In the preliminary examination continued here yesterday to determine who performed a criminal operation on Mary Robb of Rigby, on or about June 8, 1908, the testimony shows that B. J. Humphrey of Rigby made arrangements by telephone with Dr. Mitchell of Blackfoot to have Mary Robb come to him to be operated upon. In making the engagement, Humphrey said: "This girl is something of a good fellow. She knows enough to keep her mouth shut; do the right thing by her."

Nellie Sayer, John Sayer and Geo. Kite went with her to Blackfoot and left her there on June 9 in good health. During the forenoon she was out somewhere, but returned to the hotel at noon looking sick and feeling weak. She went to a private hospital that afternoon and died June 13.

It was reported that she was operated on for appendicitis, but an autopsy was held, which showed the appendix intact and proved that a criminal operation had been performed. The star witness for the prosecution will take the stand tomorrow.

Hand Crushed and Burned.

Beautiful Indian Pictures.

The two Dimes will be opened today and tomorrow with a fine set of motion pictures. The change at new Dime includes a very beautiful Indian scene, telling an interesting story, "An Indian's Gratitude," and the illustrated song, "Keep on Smiling," is one of the best yet shown. The pictures at both Dimes are exceptionally good, and another change is announced for tomorrow.

"Picturesque Wales."

The Pastime has been showing an excellent lot of pictures the past few days, "Picturesque Wales" being among the most attractive yet seen in the city. The entire program is good, including the illustrated song, "Love Me and the World Is Mine." There will be a change tomorrow.

"The Summer Girl."

Tomorrow there will be another first-class change of motion pictures at the Show Shop, all entirely new. The pictures the past few days have been especially interesting, including "Native Life in Egyptian Soudan" and the illustrated song, "The Summer Girl." Tomorrow's change will be equally as good.
