Thirty-eight officers and members of company L, Oregon national guard, of this city, left last night in a special tourist car attached to O. R. & N. train No. 5, at 1:05 a. m., for American Lake, Wash., where all the guardsmen of the three northwest states and a large portion of the regular troops stationed in the northwest, will hold their annual encampment for the next two weeks.

The Baker City car was also picked up by No. 5 last night and at 7 o'clock this morning a car bearing The Dalles company was attached to the train, these three companies giving eastern Oregon an excellent representation at the encampment.

Those going from this city with company L were as follows:

Land Fraud Trials Set for Today Go Over Until September.

At the request of United States Attorney McCourt, Judge Wolverton Saturday continued until September 15 the time in which the defendants, indicted for land fraud operations in Umatilla county, may appear in court and plead, says the Oregonian. The original time set for the appearance of the defendant in court was today, August 1.

These are the cases in which J. H. Raley of Pendleton, and about a dozen other Umatilla county citizens are charged with acquiring wrongfully several thousand acres of unallotted Indian lands in that county. It is understood Mr. Raley and the other defendants will file demurrers to the indictments. These necessarily must be argued and disposed of before further proceedings can be had under the indictments.

NEW HARVESTER WORKS WELL.

Reynolds Combined Used by Neil and Elgin Makes Good Record on the H. R. Neil Farm.

The Reynolds combined harvester, now being used by Ben Neil and Elgin on the H. R. Neil place near Fulton, is giving perfect satisfaction. It is a 14-foot cut and is pulled by 25 horses and is cutting on an average of about 25 acres per day.

The machine is an automatic leveler and adjusts itself to all kinds of land automatically. This gives it a great advantage over other machines and it is hoped that it will be generally adopted by Umatilla county farmers. It is manufactured in this city by the inventor, H. D. Reynolds. The Neil wheat is running about 27 bushels per acre.

PROMINENT RED IS KILLED

"SENATOR" MITCHELL DIES AS RESULT OF INJURIES.

Thrown From Horse Onto Pavement Saturday Evening and Died Last Night at St. Anthony's Hospital—One of the Best Known Tribesmen on the Reservation.

City Recorder Thomas Fitz Gerald has fined "Senator" Mitchell for drunkenness for the last time, for the reason that this famous member of the Umatilla tribe is no more.

Mitchell was critically injured by falling from his horse near the O. R. & N. depot Saturday evening, while under the influence of liquor and at 11 o'clock last night he died at St. Anthony's hospital as a result of the fall.

The remains were taken from Rader's undertaking parlors to the reservation cemetery this afternoon and "Senator" Mitchell was laid to rest on the hill overlooking the scene of many of his drunken revels.

He was about 40 years of age and was one of the most prominent Indians on the reservation, and but for his inordinate thirst for whiskey could have been a power among the Indians. He was shrewd, diplomatic and highly intelligent and was a natural born leader, but his persistent drunkenness was his undoing and finally brought him to an untimely end.

Superintendent Welles at Home.

County Superintendent and Mrs. Frank K. Welles, who have been on an outing at Roseworth, in southern Idaho, for the past six weeks, returned home Saturday morning after having a most delightful vacation.

Roseworth is in the range country south of the Twin Falls district and is one of the most typical frontier districts left in the west. While there they traveled over much of the southern portion of Idaho and were at Butte, another postoffice in the range district and near Three Creeks, another typical frontier town which consists of a log house with a postoffice and grocery store in one end and a saloon in the other and which is the supply point for an enormous range district.

Euster and Huston Return.

Rev. W. T. Euster of the M. E. church, Jack Huston and party who have been rustling in the high mountains of Wallowa county for the past month, have returned home after a delightful outing. Mr. Huston arrived home yesterday, having come from Elgin by train while Rev. Euster and son arrived by wagon this afternoon, having driven across the mountains. They saw some of the most mountainous country of Oregon and enjoyed their stay very much.

Many at Meacham.

Those who were at Meacham yesterday say there were nearly 300 people there over Sunday, and many are now camped there to remain during the most of the month of August. A dance pavilion has been erected, and dancing will be in order a couple of nights during the week, especially Saturday nights. There are about 35 people at the Joe Parkes camp, the Pines, where a great many tents have been erected. The hotel is constantly crowded, and Meacham is more popular this summer than ever before.

Fireman Adler Promoted.

Fireman Will Adler, who has been on the Pendleton-Portland local run between this city and Umatilla since the local train was put in service, has just been promoted to the position of engineer and left Saturday for La Grande to begin in his new work. Fireman Kinney of the helper service at Kamela, is the next fireman for promotion.

LOCAL SCHOOL'S FINE CATALOGUE

PENDLETON ACADEMY PUTS OUT NEAT BOOKLET.

Printed on Finest Quality of Paper and Beautifully Illustrated—School Year Opens Sept. 15—Changes in Entrance Requirements—No Pupils Below Sixth Grade to Be Admitted Hereafter.

The finest school catalogue ever issued in Eastern Oregon is now being distributed by Pendleton academy, and is a credit to that growing and popular institution. The catalogue was issued from the press of the East Oregonian and consists of 28 pages of reading matter and 12 pages of illustrations. It contains every detail of information concerning the academy as well as showing the academy buildings, a number of the classes and other leading features.

The catalogue is printed on the finest quality of cream book paper and the illustrations are in brown tints, giving the book a highly artistic appearance.

By the academy calendar of events it is shown that the next school year actually opens at 8:45 a. m. on Tuesday, September 15, although registrations and examinations will be in progress on September 14. No pupils below the sixth grade will be accepted at the academy hereafter, and all the energies of the institution will be devoted to the development of the academic work proper.

Rooms for girls in Koozts hall, the girls' dormitory, will cost from $1 to $1.25 per week and will be reserved in the order of applications received. Boarding at Koozts hall is conducted on the co-operative plan, each student paying her proportionate share of the actual cost making living at the dormitory very reasonable.

The cost of rooms in Brown hall, the boys' dormitory, is the same as in Koozts hall and there also the co-operative boarding plan has been adopted for all occupants of the hall.

The cost of tuition in the new academy is given in the catalogue as follows: Academic course, $25 per term, or $50 per year; preparatory course, $20 per term; teachers' review course, $25 per term; domestic science course, $25 per term.

In addition to the excellent instrumental music which has been maintained by the academy for a number of years, a course in voice culture and vocal music under the direction of Mrs. Anna Selkirk-Norton of this city has been established beginning with the coming school year.

This promises to be a valuable addition to the institution and will be well patronized.

The commercial course promises to be well patronized also, as there is a growing demand for commercial education, and the academy offers special preparation in this course.

The coming school year promises well. Principal W. H. Bleakney is making a personal solicitation for students, and is meeting with good success, and it is probable that both Brown hall and Koozts hall will be filled to overflowing when the school year opens on September 15. It is very necessary for students to apply early in order to secure accommodations in the dormitories, as it is quite probable that those coming late will be accommodated in outside cottages or in private homes.

Mrs. Lina Sturgiss and son and Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman, Jr., came down from Wenaha springs by auto this morning. They had been spending a few days at the resort.
