LAND LAWS.

What You Do to Secure Title to the United States.

Every single person and every married man is entitled to 160 acres of a homestead. The laws are strict and must be complied with. You must live continuously upon the land. You must cultivate and improve the property. You have six months in which to build your house and move your property. You pay $16 filing fee to file on a homestead. You are only entitled to 160 acres of land under the homestead laws.

After 17 months continued residence you can commute a homestead by paying $200 in cash. If you do not commute it takes five years to complete your title.

If you are not holding government land by some other method, you are entitled to file on 320 acres of desert land. Desert land is land you have to reclaim by putting water upon it. You are required to pay 25 cents per acre for this land when you file, and you are then compelled to spend at least $1 a year per acre upon the land to reclaim it. You have four years in which to get water upon the same. Fencing, clearing, building ditches, putting down wells for irrigation purposes, etc., are all allowed by the government, and you are credited with the money spent and the work done towards the annual payments. At the end of four years you pay $1 in cash to the government. You can take any amount of this land up to 320 acres.

Timber and stone land—Per acre, $2.50. Ninety days after application it must be proved upon and paid for. One can only take 160 acres or less of this class of land. A wife can also acquire title to these lands.

A homestead of 160 acres or less costs for filing $16 and advertising fees.—Lakeview Examiner.

The Unhappy Experiences of a Young Married Woman.

A young married woman in Brooklyn suspected that her husband was indulging in wine. She determined, however, to say nothing until she had confirmed her suspicions. In conversation with her bosom friend she said she would give anything to discover the truth. The friend mentioned that a man even slightly intoxicated can not pronounce words of length. This gave the young wife an idea, which she proceeded to put into execution.

When the young woman met again the suspicious wife announced that the worst had been ascertained. She burst into tears and, took from her hand bag a paper which she handed to her friend.

"I gave him this," she sobbed.

The friend read from the list the following words: "Philoprogenitiveness, disproportionableness, pseudathesia, phthisis, parachronism, hypochondriasis, phtochromy, syncategorematic."

"And," added the unhappy wife, with a fresh sob, "the wretch missed nearly all of them."—New York Tribune.

Pastor Takes Vacation.

Rev. R. E. Storey left yesterday evening for Seattle, where he will spend a vacation of four weeks. His parents live in that city, and as he has not seen them for several years he expects a pleasant outing. Mrs. Storey will spend the month at the home of her people in the east end of Umatilla county. During their absence there will be no services in the church other than the Sunday school, which will meet regularly.

If you see it in the East Oregonian, it's so.

PERSONAL MENTION

J. A. Horseman and family have gone to Kamela for a few weeks' outing.

Guy Clark and wife have just returned from an outing at Desolation lake.

County Judge Gilliland has returned from an outing of two weeks at Hadaway springs.

A. B. Stephens, the merchant of Umatilla, is in the city today a guest of Hotel Bowman.

J. R. Dickson and family have gone to Tokeland, Wash., for a month's outing at the coast.

C. S. Cheshire of the Clarke Hardware company, leaves tomorrow on a two weeks' outing.

Roy Skiles and Harry Macuen have returned from a two weeks' outing at Lehman springs.

D. C. Brownell, the pioneer of the Umatilla river, is up from Umatilla today on a business trip.

T. L. Dunamore, formerly of this city, but now located at The Dalles, is in the city today a guest of Hotel Bowman.

Chester Gordon the high school student and sprinter, has recently been employed as a clerk in the Standard grocery store.

Mrs. Al. Koeppen expects to leave in a few days for Meacham, where she will be the guest of Mrs. Isaacs for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. E. R. Swinburn and daughter, Miss Fay Bartholomew, left last evening for Wenaha springs, where they will remain for a few days.

Mrs. Alex. Oliver returned today from Meacham with a large supply of huckleberries which she picked there during the past week.

Dr. F. W. Vincent and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Burke came down from Wenaha springs today after a delightful outing in the mountains.

W. J. Clarke of the Clarke Hardware company returned yesterday from Wenaha springs, bringing with him a splendid string of trout.

Mrs. E. Blanchett has gone to the country to remain until after her husband, who is a member of company L, returns from American Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Wiley and their daughter, Mrs. Geary Kimbrell, will leave in the morning for Meacham for a few weeks' outing on the mountains.

Will Moore, manager of the Pacific Elevator company, visited Yoakum yesterday, where extensive wheat shipments are now being received by the company.

Prof. Charles Denson of Lewiston, and well known in this city, passed through Pendleton last evening on his way to Wenaha springs, where he will spend a few weeks.

President R. Alexander of the Commercial association, accompanied by Mrs. Alexander, will leave tomorrow for Wenaha springs to spend a few weeks at that resort.

Dean Goodman expects to leave Thursday for southern Oregon, where he will join Geary Kimbrell, the surveyor, and spend the remainder of his vacation in the mountains.

W. C. McKinney of the Commercial National bank, accompanied by Mrs. McKinney, left last night for Burns, Harney county, where they go to spend a month with relatives.

The Misses Gracey Crockett, and Mabel McDill returned to their homes in Pendleton after a two weeks' visit with the former's sister, Mrs. Otto E. Didion.—La Grande Observer.

Joe H. Parker, justice of the peace for the Pendleton district, came down from "The Pines," his summer home near Meacham, for a brief business visit today, intending to return tomorrow.

Earnest Knight, who has been ill at the home of his parents in this city for several days, is now about well. He will go to the spring for a few weeks as soon as he is able to make the trip.

J. J. Hamley, head of the Hamley Harness company, left today for Long Beach, Wash., where he will join his wife and two children for a brief outing. During his absence the store will be in charge of Lester Hamley.

Miss Elizabeth Walker, who has been teaching school at Dufur, Wasco county, is now at home, where she will remain until about September 1, when she will go to Salem to take a position in the public schools of that city.

D. Brusha, the well known painter, who has been suffering from the effects of a fall from a scaffold for the past five weeks, was down town today for the first time, and is now improving rapidly and expects to be at work soon.

C. H. Day, formerly of this city, but now of Portland, is here this week from Heppner, in the interest of his insurance business. He says that he has done more business this July than last and that all classes of people seem to have plenty of money.

Joe Kennedy, a former student of Pendleton academy, is in the city for a few weeks visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kennedy. He is employed by the Seattle Power company as an electrician, and is well pleased with his work. He will visit his brother, B. E. Kennedy, proprietor of the Baker City Herald.

Charged With Stealing Cattle. A. J. Sloane has been arrested at Orofino, Idaho, on the charge of cattle stealing. George Moore, W. T. Reid and C. A. Rice, who are also wanted on the same charge, have skipped out. A number of cattle owned by Daniel Carr have disappeared lately and Mr. Carr's two sons started out on a detective stunt with the above result.

Do You Remember?

And the other fishing days when you got up before dawn and stole down stairs to the dim kitchen—a drink of milk, a doughnut and a triangle of pie, then you stole out quietly to the barn and got the spading fork; then the search, armed with fork and tomato can, under the broad leaves of the rhubarb bed, back of the henhouse and down by the cow barn until you had enough worms for the day's sport. Then of course you left the fork sticking in the ground—you never would learn to put things away—and started off; through the garden and orchard, stopping long enough for a handful of currants and a pocketful of sopsavines—over the pasture bars, eating a handful of huckleberries or low bush blackberries here and there; into the wood road—very dark and still in the dawn—where you stepped along very quietly so as not to disturb the bears (you knew perfectly well there were no bears, but you rather enjoyed the creepy sensation); then out through the deep wet meadow grass to the river, where the sun was now beginning to burn away the wisps of mist and the red winged blackbirds were making a tremendous fuss over their house-keeping. You reached the river bank at the point hole or the big rock or the old willow (of course you know the exact place), and then you started fishing—Atlantic.

Suction.

People often speak of chimneys "drawing." We also speak of the suction of a pump. There is not so much harm in these expressions, except that they are liable to lead us away from the true state affairs. But in truth there is no such thing as suction. Suction is merely partial or entire absence of pressure in one place which enables the greater pressure of air or fluid in another place to rush in. In the case of the chimney the heated air in it does not weigh so much as an equal volume of cold air, and if the air in the chimney, the air in the room and the outside air were all the same temperature there would be no tendency to any motion. But when the air in the chimney is hot it does not press downward so much as the colder surrounding air presses upward. Consequently an upward current is started and will continue if the air in the chimney is kept hot.—A. S. S. Ackerman in London Express.

Changed the Name.

He had given up town life, with its cares and dissipation, and was living in the country.

"What a charming cottage!" exclaimed a dainty lady visitor from London. "What have you called it?"

"I have called it the Nutshell," he told her, and she exclaimed: "Oh, how delightful!"

After tea and cakes she took the train back to London, where she remained for six months. Then she "ran down" to see him again.

"As sweet as ever!" she told him. "But you have changed the name! Why is it now Chez Nous?"

"Why?" he responded, with some warmth. "Because I was tired of being jollied! Because I was tired of being kidded! There isn't a boy for a mile round who hasn't stopped and rung the doorbell every time he passed to ask if the colonel was in!"—London Telegraph.

Damaging Forest Fires in the Hood River Valley.

A forest fire started Friday afternoon in upper Hood River valley and burned over the ranch of 190 acres belonging to George T. Prather, causing a loss of $1,200, says The Dalles Chronicle.

It was only after several hours of hard work that the fire was kept from devastating the whole timbered district in that portion of Hood River valley. The loss consists of cord wood and standing timber and amounted to about $1,200. There have also been fires near Green Point and Lost Lake that did considerable damage within the past few days.

Good Automobile Record.

Wallace Bransford drove his Pierce from Idaho Falls to Salt Lake last week in exactly twelve hours and thirty minutes, an average of some nineteen miles per hour for the 234-mile run. It's a record for some of the boys to go after when they get tired of running to Provo and Ogden on someone's time. Tom Botterill was in the car. The run from Idaho Falls to Pocatello was made in three hours and a half in the night—a hard, dangerous trip. The run from Pocatello to Malad was made in 3:40, and from Malad to Callister in 1:40. An hour was used in getting to Bingham City and an hour into Ogden from that place. The run from Ogden to Salt Lake was done in 1:40. No accidents and few stops.—Goodwin's Weekly.

THE DRUG STORE THAT SERVES YOU BEST.

IT IS FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpicide." Besides, Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressing there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that sets the hair off the root. After the germ is destroyed the root will shoot up, and the hair will grow as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists and chemists. In stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00. A. C. Koeppen & Bros.
