CROW CHIEF WOULD WED.

Show-His-Gun Would Take Nez Perce Bride to His Wigwam.

Lewiston Idaho, Aug. 5.—Chief Show-His-Gun, of the Crow tribe, who has been visiting friends on the Nez Perce reservation, is said to have decided to return to the Crow agency with a bride, although modesty precludes him from making an announcement of his intentions.

Show-His-Gun is a stately Indian of the Crow tribe and a descendant of a famous fighting family. He is as proud of his family tree as a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and points with as much pride to the various deeds of his forefathers.

He came to Fort Lapwai to attend the Fourth of July celebration, and his reluctance to return, coupled with his attentions to some of the dusky belles of the Nez Perce tribe, indicated to his friends that he is matrimonially inclined, but the Crow warrior is silent as the sphinx when approached on the subject. He came to Lewiston last week in search of an Indian girl who has been rather reluctant to accept his attentions, and although he searched carefully and long for the maiden, he returned to the agency alone. He was resplendent in gaudy blankets and beaded leggings, but despite his charms he has failed to win this modest maiden, who evidently does not believe in an alliance with a foreign chief.

Show-His-Gun is not modest in regard to his raiment, and he is about as anxious to escape the camera fiends as a chorus girl, for he has agreed to pose for his pictures in full regalia, and, it is said, he will be pleased to have the maiden of his choice stand coyly beside him if he can gain her consent. Just at present he is lavishing his affections on more than one girl, but he expects to return to Montana soon, so that a choice will be made before he leaves.

Good Grade of Wheat.

Both J. W. Tulloch, who is farming the McComas place near the reservation, and Frank Snyder, who resides north of the city, brought samples of wheat to the city today which tested No. 1 easily. In both instances the wheat tested from 59 1/4 to 61 1/4 per bushel and in both instances the yield is average as far as threshing has been done.

Surprise Party to Gibsons.

A pleasant surprise party was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gibson by members of Pendleton circle of the Women of Woodcraft, at their home on Willow street last evening. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson have just returned from Portland, where they visited for some time. Refreshments were served and a delightful evening was spent.

Repairing Old Rectory Building.

The work of repairing the old rectory building which was purchased by Joe Connolly and placed at the corner of Alta and Thompson streets, is now about complete. It will be occupied by Rev. and Mrs. Charles Quinney until the new rectory is completed.

Feast of Transfiguration.

Tomorrow, Thursday, August 6, being the feast of the transfiguration, there will be a short service with a brief address at the Church of the Redeemer at 7 a. m.

Installing New Scales.

Henry Kopplike is installing a new set of Fairbanks scales near the Main street sidewalk in front of the Pendleton Ice & Cold Storage company's office. W. B. Hale is doing the work.

PERSONAL MENTION

George Clay of Helix, is here for the day on a trading trip.

H. C. Willis is in the city from Walla Walla for a few days.

A. B. McCarty is in the city from Echo today on a trading trip.

O. D. Teel of Echo, is in the city for a few days on a business trip.

Attorney Will M. Peterson went up to Athena this afternoon on professional business.

Conductor Freeman of Portland, is on the Portland-Pendleton passenger run for a few days.

B. S. Clark of Lexington, is a guest of the Golden Rule while in the city today on a business trip.

Douglas Johnson, clerk of Pendleton academy, will enjoy an outing at Lehman springs during the month of August.

Roscoe Frost of the Goodman Hardware company, left last evening for Meacham and other mountain resorts for a few weeks' outing.

C. M. Kearney, acting chief of police, sent his family to Meacham last evening, where they will remain during the remainder of the hot weather.

Theodore Land, who formerly resided in this city, is here on a few weeks' visit from Coquille City. He will leave for his home next Friday.

Martin Compton, who has been at the Soldiers' Home at Los Angeles, Cal., for the past year, is in the city for a short time to attend to business.

Frank McKenzie, bookkeeper for the Tribune, expects to leave tonight for Seaside, where he will join some friends for an outing of a week or 10 days.

Mrs. A. J. Owen will leave Friday for Forest Grove, where she will visit relatives. She expects to spend the next two or three weeks in Portland and Forest Grove.

County Judge T. P. Gilliland has just returned from Hidayay springs, where he enjoyed a week's outing. The family is now at the Gilliland ranch near Pilot Rock.

Mrs. Will M. Peterson and young son left last evening for Walla Walla where they will join friends and proceed to the Toll Gate on the summit of the Blue mountains for a few weeks' outing.

Frank Robinson, wife and son, are in the city for a few days from Portland, where Mr. Robinson conducts an excellent business on soft drinks, pool and other amusements at the corner of Third and Ankeny streets.

Assessor C. P. Strain has been in the city from his summer camp at Meacham for a few days, but will return this evening. The family is now camped at Meacham and Mr. Strain is working upon the tax rolls at that place.

James Crosswell is in the city today after harvest supplies. His crop is yielding well for the dry season and he is proud of Umatilla county to know that it will produce such crops with such small amount of moisture as has been enjoyed this season.

Justice of the Peace Joe H. Parkes will return to his summer camp on the homestead near Meacham, after attending to business in the city. The Parkes family has picked an enormous quantity, about 50 gallons, of huckleberries during the past two weeks.

Mrs. R. N. Oliver and Mrs. T. D. Oliver left this afternoon for Meacham, where they will join the family of R. L. Oliver, now camped at the Barker place. R. N. Oliver expects to become a member of the camping party immediately upon his return from American Lake.

J. P. McEachern and family, of Helix, have returned from Seaside, where they spent several weeks during the hot weather. They are now in this city attending Mrs. McEachern's father, Ross McMann, who is critically ill at the home of another daughter, Mrs. William Scheer.

Conductor R. Wissler of the La Grande freight division of the O. R. & N. is on the Pendleton-Huntington passenger run for a few weeks during the absence of Conductor Coykendall, who with his family will go to the conductor's excursion from La Grande to the end of the Wallowa branch of the O. R. & N. next Sunday.

Miniature Windmill in Window.

One of the prettiest models ever exhibited in the city is now to be seen in the window of the W. J. Clark hardware store. It is a model of a windmill about two feet in height, complete in every detail and operated by electricity. It is made of brass and is a most attractive window decoration.

Substantial Riprap.

The work of replacing the riprap on that portion of the levee under the Falling building and the Main street bridge was started yesterday and is progressing rapidly. The large rocks are being set in mortar, thus making it sure that they "will stay put."

Pastime Program.

The following change of program was put on at the Pastime today:

"Two Orphans."

"Mother-in-law is Coming."

"Troubles of a Cook."

"The Stepmother."

Song: "So Long, Joe," at the Pastime.

Forest fires in the vicinity of Spirit Lake, Idaho, Sunday and Monday, threatened the town, but by the hard work of the fire department, aided by citizens, the flames were checked before reaching the town.

Ever notice what a "big lonesome" accumulates in a small cottage when the wife and babies are away?

BELIEVE BLACK HAND SET FOREST FIRE.

Rumored That Friends of Italian Murder Suspects Are Responsible for Death-Dealing Conflagration.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 5.—Aspecial to the Vancouver Province, from Nelson, B. C., says: The rumor is persistent among the refugees from Fernie that the fire started in three separate places at once and that it looked as if some one had lighted them intentionally. It is asserted that friends of the Italian Black Hand prisoners who escaped last week and who were recaptured, are responsible for the conflagration, igniting the timber to create a diversion and liberate the prisoners. The story is doubted, but it is persistent and is accepted by some prominent Fernie men.

Fears are expressed for the safety of 100 persons at Fernie, although many of the missing may merely have become separated from their friends in the excitement and confusion of a general conflagration.

Last night Thomas Biggs, secretary of the Fernie Miners' union, wired to this city that he believed 170 persons had been burned to death. Late this afternoon the Associated Press correspondent at Nelson, after interviewing many refugees from the burned city, wired that the deaths will not exceed a score. He adds that the report that 60 men and several women perished in a logging camp at Elk creek is discredited.

A message this afternoon from Hosmer says that the residences on the townsite were burned this morning, but that the tippie and mine buildings erected by the Canadian Pacific are still safe. Hosmer was late last night believed to be safe, but fire broke out again this morning.

Another fire also occurred at Michel early today, though at midnight the news was that the place was out of danger. The women and children have all been removed from Michel east to Frank or Blairmore. A number of buildings were burned this morning in Michel.

It is definitely announced this evening that the town of Coal Creek, reported to have been destroyed, is practically uninjured by fire.

The property loss at Fernie and surrounding points will probably be greater than originally estimated.

BROTHER WAS KILLED.

J. B. Selbert of Enterprise Back from Okanogan.

J. B. Selbert of Enterprise, Ore., was in the city yesterday, having been in Okanogan county, where he was called by the death of his brother, R. Selbert, who was shot at Republic by a half-breed Indian, Chas Phillips, last week, says the Walla Walla Union.

On his return Mr. Selbert stopped off in this city in order to get a photograph of Phillips, who at one time served a term in the state penitentiary for the murder of a policeman in Seattle.

Since being released from prison on parole, it is said that the half-breed has frequently terrorized residents of Okanogan county, as well as people in British Columbia, and the shooting of Selbert was the result of a drunken debauch by the Indian on July 4, at which time the dead man was called upon by a deputy sheriff to assist in disarming the Red Man.

Mr. Selbert's part in the affair so enraged the Indian that he swore he would shoot Selbert, but as he later sent word that it was all right, the threat was not taken seriously. However, a few days later Phillips met Mr. Selbert while the latter was driving with a lady, and before any action could be taken for defense a bullet was sent through his heart.

An organized posse of several hundred men and Indians is scouring the fastnesses of Okanogan county in the endeavor to catch Phillips, dead or alive, and it is reported that the refugee is now almost at bay. A reward of $250 has been offered by the board of county commissioners. The photo which Mr. Selbert secured from the prison yesterday will be used in advertising the half-breed with circulars in case he is not captured within the next few days.

JULY'S RAIN ONLY DROP IN BUCKET.

Portland's Precipitation for Month But .05 of an Inch, and Nearly Breaks Record.

So small was the rainfall in July, comprising but .05 of an inch for the 31 days, that it came within a mile of being a record breaker during the 37 years the weather station at Portland has been in existence, says the Telegram. In July, 1883, there was no precipitation, and during the same month in 188 and 1896 only traces were recorded. Usually there is a fair rainfall in July. In 1902 it amounted to 1.76 inches during the month.

The last shower to occur in July of this year was on the 13th of the month, when the precipitation measured .01 of an inch. A trace was discernible on the 23d and again on the 24th, since when not a drop of rain has fallen. The weather man holds out no false hopes that a shower soon will occur, saying there are no indications of it so far. A downpour is greatly desired to check the progress of the forest fires and eliminate the dense smoke from the skies, together with the saving of thousands of dollars which would be realized by owners of valuable timber tracts. Complaint is also being heard about the dust, which is becoming insufferable.
