PENDLETON BOYS IN ARMY LIFE

MEMBERS OF CO. I GET REAL EXPERIENCE IN CAMP.

Sore Shoulders and Sore Feet Do Not Mar Pleasure of Playing at War—Private Campbell in the Hospital—Pendleton's Company Faces Well-Masoon Francis Lyman on Duty.

Camp Stanley Murray, Wash., Aug. 5.—Drills and more drills have been the order of the day in the encampment and joint maneuvers being held here and in which Company I is participating with the remainder of the Third regiment. From 5 o'clock until sunset there is a "continual round of pleasure" for all.

But thus far the work in the field has not been severe and the men have suffered little. Sore shoulders from the guns and sore feet from marching are the only complaints.

Today the company borrowed a shoemaker's kit from Captain Murphy's company of Salem, and most of the men fitted their shoes with hob tacks, which makes "hiking" much easier.

For the officers there are but few moments of leisure. At intervals between drills following mess, the officers assemble for instruction under Capt. Game a most competent regular assigned to the Third, or else they listen to lectures on various subjects by other regular officers. Last evening the subject was the signal corps and its work.

Being directly under the eye of regular officers, the work this year is being done as nearly by regulations as possible. The instruction is proving highly beneficial to all and rapid improvement is already noticed.

Will Ingram Is Now Sole Owner of the Well Known Main Street Grocery Business.

A deal which has been under way for several weeks was consummated last evening and by the terms of it, Will Ingram becomes sole owner of the George R. Demott & Company grocery business on Main street, and Mr. Demott, who has been in business in this city for the past 22 years, permanently retires.

This is one of the numerous prosperous grocery firms of the city and is well known throughout the county. Mr. Ingram has been associated with the firm for a number of years and in taking over the business he enjoys a wide acquaintance and solicits a continuance of their former excellent trade.

Mr. Demott will probably take a long and much-needed vacation and may visit his old home in New Jersey.

FARM HAND CUT OPEN TWELVE WHEAT SACKS.

W. C. Loper, a farm hand who has been employed by J. Hanscom north of the city, had a hearing this afternoon for the malicious destruction of personal property, having cut open and destroyed 12 sacks of wheat belonging to Mr. Hanscom. It is alleged that there was a difference of 45 cents between Mr. Loper and Mr. Hanscom in a settlement and it is charged that Loper destroyed the wheat in anger as a means of revenge. Acting District Attorney Charles J. Ferguson conducted the case against Mr. Loper and at time of going to press no decision had been reached.

Helix Wheat Yielding Well.

Charles Campbell, the pioneer farmer, residing north of Helix, is in the city today on a business trip, and is elated with his wheat yield. His harvesting is now about two-thirds done and his wheat so far has yielded between 33 and 35 bushels per acre and tests 61 pounds per bushel. All of the wheat in the north part of the county is yielding exceptionally well for the dry season.

Kicked by Horse.

W. M. Juda of Athena, who has been employed by Joe Scott on a wheat ranch about six miles east of Pendleton, was kicked in the stomach by a horse last evening and it was feared for a time that he would die. Dr. Temple was called, and at last reports it was said the young man was resting easy. He will probably recover.

Basket Dinner on Butter Creek.

Prof. W. C. Howard of Columbia college at Milton passed through the city today on his way to Butter creek, where he will attend a basket dinner tomorrow and where he will also attend to business for the college while there. The coming school year, which opens on September 23, promises well and a large attendance is expected.

SOLDIERS' HOME AT LOS ANGELES

MARTIN COMPTON TELLS OF LIFE AT INSTITUTION.

Ideal Life for Old Soldiers at Government Home in Sunny California—Uncle Sam Takes Good Care of Men Who Suffered and Bled for the Starry Banner.

Martin Compton, the G. A. R. veteran of this city who has been at the Soldiers' Home near Los Angeles for the past year, has told the East Oregonian a story of that government institution which will at least interest the large number of G. A. R. readers of the paper, and it is cheerfully told here for their benefit.

The Soldiers' Home is located near the coast, 12 miles from Los Angeles, and consists of 900 acres of land and several hundred buildings, including mess rooms, hospital, living rooms, laundries, reading rooms, store houses, commissaries and other necessities of such a big institution.

There are on an average of about 4000 soldiers at the home all the time, and there is absolutely no cost to them for anything. They are free to come and go when they like, as often as they like and at any time they like. The only attention paid to their movements is that when one is absent more than a day without the knowledge of the officials in charge, a search is made to ascertain where the missing man is and to see that nothing has happened to him.

There are about 1000 attendants in all the departments, and it is an ideal home for the decrepit old veterans who desire to go there. They have all the conveniences and comforts that money can supply. They are free to enjoy life as they see fit, and thousands of them make it their home.

It requires 400 dozen eggs for one meal. About 60 beaves are consumed each day. Thousands of tons of fruit and vegetables are produced on the grounds, but with all of this enormous production the government spends hundreds of thousands of dollars each year for its maintenance.

The old soldiers are paid for every hour's work any of them do. They are not required to perform any kind of labor, but many of them choose to be employed and so receive regular wages.

Mr. Compton says that many of the old boys leave the home when they draw their pension money and stay until it is gone, and then return to be an inmate until the next pension time. The number of inmates therefore fluctuates greatly. But the general average is 4000 men.

Dive to Ocean's Bottom for Drinking Water.

Bahrain Island, in the Persian gulf, is said to be the hottest place on the globe, far hotter than Tophet. The temperature is about 141 degrees. On the coast, where the people live, there is no fresh water, but here and there in the harbor's bottom are strong, free-flowing streams of pure water, rivaling that which flows down the sides of the mountains of Lebanon, flavored by the sap of healthy cedars. Divers equip themselves with bags made of skins and descend to the springs, where they fill the inverted receptacles with aqua pura. This water is cold enough to drink without the aid of ice, of which the islanders know nothing.—New York Press.

Work Begun on New Depot.

Workmen under the direction of Contractor Charles Skooglund of St. Paul, today commenced the survey for the new union depot building on East Main street and clearing the grounds preparatory to excavations for the foundations, says the Lewiston Teller.

Contractor Skooglund reached the city yesterday from St. Paul and will direct personally the construction of the new building. Carloads of equipment to be used in the construction work have already reached the city and the delivery of others will commence within a few days. It is expected the new depot will be completed and turned over to the railroad company early in September.

SAILORS PREACHED AND MATES WORKED.

Schooner Defender Arrives From Honolulu With Crew of Various Faiths.

Urging the Kanakas to throw off the yoke of oppression, Henri Huhr, able seaman of the schooner Defender which is in this port, put in his spare hours in the Hawaiian islands preaching anarchy, says a report from San Francisco. The vessel was lying in Honolulu, near Honolulu, loading its cargo, and the sailor delivered impassioned addresses to the natives.

When the police of Honolulu heard of the agitator they made arrangements to have him arrested and deported, but the vessel left before they could get him.

The vessel was singularly unfortunate with the crew during the voyage, and the master, Captain Hellinger, was obliged to do a great part of the work himself owing to the laziness and worthlessness of some of his crew. Among the men was one named L. M. Garnier, who was a socialist and divided his time on the trip in expounding socialism and lying in his bunk feigning illness to escape work.

Another member of the crew was an ardent Christian Scientist, who applied the absent treatment to everything, including his work. The cook was a religious zealot who gave out tracts to the crew and read the Scripture to any one with whom he could get a hearing.

Finished Wheat Platform.

M. R. Yates, the well known contractor, has just finished a wheat platform 40x120 in size for J. W. Myrick at Myrick station on the Northern Pacific. Mr. and Mrs. Yates and son will now go to the Starkey prairie homestead for a month's outing.
