KILLED BIG COUGAR.

Southern Oregon Ranchmen Effect Sensational Capture of Cat.

E. C. Pomery, a prominent ranchman living at the Meadows, and a neighbor of his, had a thrilling and exciting experience about 11 o'clock one night last week with a cougar that they are likely to remember for some time to come, says the Medford Mail.

Incidentally, it might be mentioned that they got the animal, and it weighs 150 pounds.

Although it happened to be late, Mr. Pomery could not resist the temptation of going after the cougar when he saw it in the vicinity of his house. The one reasoned that as the animal had been causing considerable trouble to himself and his neighbors lately that it was his duty to get rid of it.

Hastily grasping his trusty rifle, Mr. Pomery followed the animal to a large pine tree. "Two minds with but a single thought," he murmured as he, on reaching the tree, found one of his neighbors there, who was also armed.

"He is up in that tree," said Mr. Pomery.

"You bet he is, and we will get him, too, if it takes all night," said the neighbor.

Then the two men proceeded to tramp around and around the tree till they became weary, but failed to see the cougar. Then they noticed a dark object in a small tree near by where they were standing, and shot at it. Imagine their surprise when they examined it and found they had finished the cougar.

GREEKS RIOT IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

Alleged False Answers of an Interpreter for Witness Enrage Spectators.

Infuriated at an alleged attempt of a Greek interpreter to give false answers in the case of the two factions of the Greek community on trial yesterday before Superior Judge Sturtevant, a score of partisan spectators threw the place into an uproar and for a time threatened to engage in battle, says the San Francisco Examiner.

Judge Sturtevant quelled the disturbers.

The trouble started when A. Gatasstratas secretary of the order, was placed upon the stand, and an interpreter introduced to assist the court in the answers. The interpreter was replaced with another one.

The court later had to threaten S. Bunatasas with imprisonment unless he answered in English, which he feigned not to understand.

The case was concluded yesterday, the court holding that the board of trustees elected by the church on July 6 were the lawful ones to hold office. Attorneys Lipman & Levy announced that they would appeal the case to a higher court.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Show Shop.

The new change of pictures which began at the Show Shop last night is one of the best yet seen there. Among the features are "Summer Boarders Taken In," "The Swashbuckler," "The Piker's Dream" and "Troubles of a New Drug Clerk." The new illustrated song is also very good and the entire program is pleasing.

Pastime Program Is Good.

"The Great Auto Circuit Race," a very realistic reproduction, is the leading feature at the Pastime for today and tonight, and it has proved to be a success in every way. Other features of the program are "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp," "The Thirsty Soldier," "The Dippe" and "Baby's Peril." A new illustrated song is also introduced in the program.

The Dime Entertains.

The Dime is entertaining its large patronage with a delightful change today and tonight. "The Enterprising Florist," "The Accuser," "The Renegade" and other features are among the numbers of the program, while the delightful song, "Anchored," is also rendered. The Dime continues to be well patronized and offers a pleasant entertainment for the hot season.

NO LIQUOR AT THE FAIR.

Spokane Will Convert Former Bar-room into Poultry Pens.

Nothing but temperance drinks will be sold on the Spokane fair grounds this year, as the sale of liquor is a thing of the past at the fair. There will be no bar on the Spokane fair grounds this year. This was the unanimous opinion of the board of directors at the last meeting of the Interstate Fair association.

The abolition of the bar was deemed necessary so the liquor selling concession will be omitted from the list of privileges to be auctioned to the highest bidder on the 29th of August. The long bar under the grand stand will be devoted henceforth to other purposes.

"The management of the fair has long desired to take this step, and has taken it to be the wish of the people," says President George T. Crane. "We have always tried to conduct the fair to please the public. We have had the matter under discussion since the fair last fall, and it has been practically understood that the bar privilege in future would be suspended. Conditions have changed, and I want to assure the public that we are trying always to manage the fair to please the greater number."

The former barroom under the big grand stand will in all probability be turned into a poultry show this year. This poultry exhibit this fall will be one of the most extensive in the history of the fair.

Burned by Electric Current.

Joseph Robin, a laborer employed by the McElvany Stone company at Eighth and Townsend streets, says the San Francisco Examiner, was badly burned yesterday morning about the face and hands when a broom handle with which he was sweeping came into contact with an exposed live wire leading to a motor. The broom handle, being wet, caused a circuit, the electricity flashing like an exploding fuse. Robin was treated by Dr. Fred Zumwalt at the Central Emergency hospital.
