GOT BIG GAME.

L. E. Hoover and Party Got Five Deer and Seven Bear.

L. E. Hoover and his party, consisting of T. C. Vincent and Ralph Allen of the Oregon Agricultural college, J. S. Tucker and Charlie Hoover, returned yesterday from a 10 days' hunting trip at Fish lake, on the Umpqua divide, says the Medford Mail.

They had for their guides two Modoc half-breed Indians—and those Indians surely guided the party right.

The first day out one of Mr. Tucker's horses died—dropped dead in the harness—but the party pushed on into the mountains, and when in the vicinity of Fish lake, on the Umpqua divide, the entire party commenced to get busy, and as a result of the chase they slew five deer and seven bear.

Speaking about bear, calls to mind the canebreakers of Louisiana and President Roosevelt, but the president never in his best day's chase scored a record equal to the above.

OPEN UP CENTRAL OREGON.

New Line in Wasco County to Tap Rich Section.

All of the central Oregon district from Condon south and tributary to the proposed line of the Wasco County Electric & Water Power company will be vastly benefited by the new line according to J. E. Hunt, former state senator from Multnomah county and now a prominent hardware merchant of Condon.

"There are now about four towns in eastern Oregon that can beat Condon out a little bit," said Mr. Hunt last night, "but if that road is completed as soon as it is said it will be there will be none that Condon cannot boast over within a couple of years. It is to be the terminal of the new line and will naturally be the center of a large trading business as soon as the road is in operation and the produce of the country is moved over it."

"Adjacent to the new line as it is now proposed are vast wheat fields, immense stock ranges, coal deposits and gold mining districts. All of these products will be brought on the road to Condon, the terminal of the line and the town will prosper because of the added trade."

"But it is not alone to Condon that the new line will be a benefit," continued Mr. Hunt. "The whole district will be the gainer. The wheat of the country, the stock, the coal, which is of good quality, and the gold ore will be shipped out over the line and be able to find a market where it is now practically impossible because of the rugged nature of the country and the lack of transportation."

Mr. Hunt is enthusiastic over the future of the section and says it will be one of the best parts of the state just as soon as the last spike of rail transportation is driven and the new line opened to traffic.

Boosting the Fair.

S. T. Warner, booming the Morrow and Umatilla County fair at Pendleton, September 28 to October 3, is in Walla Walla today, says the Walla Walla Bulletin. Mr. Warner is out with one of the development league wagons and is billing all localities. His territory is the northern part of Umatilla county and Walla Walla county. "We expect that Walla Walla will be well represented at the fair," he stated today. "Pendleton always helps this city when it has a fair and the Garden city will undoubtedly reciprocate. We will guarantee all comers a good time and they can see some first-class exhibits." Two wagons are in the field.
