AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Sawmills Start for Fall Run.

Bert Andrus was in from his sawmill near Mountain Home Tuesday, laying in supplies to last him during the fall run just being started at the mill, says the Pilot Rock News. The crew was completed on the same trip and the run now promises to be an exceptionally good one.

The past six weeks has been spent in cutting logs and getting them to the yard, and an estimate says that there is about 250,000 feet now on hand at the mill. A large amount of timber is also ready for the saw, but has not been taken to the yard. The planing machines are being set up and put into running order as fast as possible and it will be but a short time until the mill will be in a position to fill all orders for rough and dressed lumber.

The Gibbs Brothers' mill at Ukiah has been running steadily all summer, the greater part of their output being sold from the yard as fast as it was gotten out. They have been running their planers steadily for the past two weeks and putting the best of finished lumber on the market.

High Priced Automobiles.

The Inland Motor company unloaded the most expensive car in the city this week when the new six-cylinder Stevens-Duryea was taken from the car. This machine is the biggest in the Stevens-Duryea family and will sell for $4500, says a Spokane paper. The company claims the car will be able to develop 72 miles an hour over good roads. The body is finished in Napier green and the chassis is in bright red, making an attractive car. The machine has accommodations for seven passengers. In the same shipment were two other big cars, one a six-cylinder car selling for $5000 and a four-cylinder car selling for $3800. The freight car in which the cars were shipped was the largest obtainable. The railroad delivered the cars from Chicopee Falls, Mass., in 11 days.

Oil Found in Crook County.

Petroleum has actually been taken from the well on the west of Grizzly Butte, about 12 miles northwest of this city, according to parties from the locality, and samples of good commercial oil taken from the well are now on exhibition at Madras, says the Prineville Review. The oil well is the property of the Madras Oil & Gas company, which has been sinking it for the past two months, and the company, while knowing all the time that oil was there, is highly gratified at being in a position to also convince the public of this fact.

It is said the product of the well is of the consistency of thin, yellowish glycerine, and has a strong odor. It may be that upon refining it will also yield a substantial per cent of gasoline, which is fully as valuable in this neighborhood as kerosene, also there is not so much of it used.

Fine Cattle from John Day.

One of the best bands of cattle that has been market in recent years from Grant county was sold by George Rader at Pendleton last week, says the Long Creek Ranger. These were bunch grass cattle and numbered 1,000 head. They averaged 1212 pounds and the steers sold at $3.75 and the cows at $2.70 per hundred weight.

Eight or ten of this band weighed over 1400 while several were over 1600. The top notcher tipped the scales at 1775 but had reached the 1900 mark when he left his Grant county range.

Mr. Rader said to the representative of this paper that there were all manner of grafts worked on the cattleman between here and Pendleton and that they were imposed upon all along the way. Eight cents a head was charged in some localities for pasture over night on scanty grass and water was denied in several places.

Walter Winchester, who drove the car of Chairman Hower, found that in a full 4000 miles on the Glidden tour route he used but 500 gallons of gasoline, says the Spokane Chronicle. Winchester figured up the cost and found that gasoline through the entire route averaged 22 cents, ranging from 15 to 30 cents. He carried from seven to nine people or an average all through of eight and baggage for all. The record is interesting, for the Pierce Arrow car was of six cylinders.

This is slated for this county a large settlement of Swedish people to come in and take farms this year. This means much when this excellent class of settlers come to help up, as they have been the rebuilding power in Minnesota and The Dakotas.—Ione Proclaimer.

lished on Oregon is in process or preparation by a firm whose books on other sections of America are in a class by themselves. They have enlisted the services of Benjamin A. Gifford of The Dalles, in securing hundreds of choicest views for this use. Mr. Gifford's collection of Columbia river photographs which adorn the convention hall of the Portland Commercial club, have been responsible for many tourists taking this river trip.

MOUNTAIN HEIGHTS IN EASTERN OREGON

Strangers sometimes ask the distance to the beautiful mountains, from town, says the Baker City Democrat.

The Eagle mountains are almost 40 miles away, while the highest peak of the Elkhorns, Rock Creek Butte, is just 14 miles in an air line and is 2993 feet above the sea, a little more than a mile higher than this city, which is 3446 feet.

Elkhorn Peak is 12 miles away and is 8922 feet. The mountain opposite Haines is 13 miles distant and is 8232 feet high.

Coyote Butte, near Haines, is 11 miles and 3870 feet high. The crest of the hill on the west of Baker City is almost two miles and is 4802 feet, being 1356 feet above the town.

Lone Pine Butte two and a half miles east of town, is 5077 feet.

Fuel Famine Threatens Wallace.

Some fear is felt that Wallace will experience a shortage of coal before the coming winter ends, says a Wallace item. It is intimated that a sharp advance in the price of best grades may come about the first of September. Apprehension is based on the possibility of a strike among coal miners in the Montana and Wyoming fields, which have been threatened. Outside of the mines and companies using large quantities and shipping independently of local jobbers, Wallace uses in the neighborhood of 3000 tons of coal annually. Orders are pouring in upon dealers, who are behind at present in filling orders.

Some young men work awfully hard to land an easy job.

THE AMOUNT OF YOUR "BELIEF IN ADVERTISING" WHICH IS PUT INTO TYPE IS WHAT COUNTS.

There is probably a clothing ad in today's paper that will remind you that your new suit is overdue. Meet the ad "face to face," and it will help you to meet the clothes problem that way. If you have lived too long in one place, look at the furnished rooms advertised today—and get a change of scene.

It won't pay you to try to deal with a buyer who wants your property only half as much as "the right man" would want it. Any quest by which you can make a "new test" of want advertising today? Think it over.

Your store is NOT "big enough," or prosperous enough, unless your ambition and aspirations are under-sized. There never was a day in any calendar when adequate advertising would do more for your store than it will today.
