BAN ON BIG HATS IN FRENCH THEATERS

Paris, Sept. 1.—Ticket speculators, free theater passes and Merry Widow hats have fallen under the ban of the theater commission of Paris, headed by M. Lepine, prefect of police, and the new ordinance directed against these nuisances becomes effective today.

It provides for the price of places at each performance as announced in advertisements, and orders that, once announced, admission fees cannot be changed by the ticket office or by any agency. Managers of theaters cannot sell tickets at reduced prices unless the entire house at that performance is sold out at reduced rates. It is also provided by the ordinance that the price must be stamped on each ticket.

The commission was less brutal in its decision on women's hats and expresses itself politely, saying that no spectator shall be allowed to prevent another from seeing or hearing. After today any man who finds difficulty in seeing the stage from behind a hat has only to call an usher, who will notify the owner of the offending headgear to remove it.

The ordinance touches other theater matters. No child under 13 is allowed to appear in a music hall or regular theater except by permission of the minister of public instruction.

All parts of every theater must be thoroughly ventilated and cleaned after each performance. It is also provided that costumes must be disinfected if worn by different persons.

It has long been a commonplace that no self-respecting Parisian ever paid for a theater ticket. If he could not go deadhead altogether, he tried to secure one of the tickets to which an author was entitled each night or at any rate a half-rate ticket, which tickets are issued in great numbers. The Theatrical Directors' association has now decided to end all free tickets.

Every theater after today will keep a register of newspapermen entitled to free admission, which privilege will be strictly personal. The directors will be allowed to distribute among personal friends only 20 tickets for each performance. Only two directors opposed this plan, one being Sarah Bernhardt. Another innovation in Parisian theatrical circles is the opening tonight of a new theater where American and English playwrights will be able to produce plays barred by the "prudery" of New York and London. Maxine Schottland, a young Russian author who has spent most of his life in England and America, is the promoter of the playhouse, and will open it with one of his own dramas. It is his purpose to stage only plays and comedies of a variety so frank that they would have to be mutilated before becoming acceptable to a New York or London manager.

Millions of bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar have been sold without any person having experienced any other than beneficial results from its use for coughs, colds and lung trouble. This is because the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package contains no opiates or other harmful drugs. Guard your health by refusing any but the genuine. Pendleton Drug Co.

Rocky Ford Fair.

Rocky Ford, Colo., Sept. 1.—Rocky Ford, famous throughout the land as a melon growing center, is today thronged with visitors come to attend the annual Arkansas Valley fair. Watermelon day will be celebrated Thursday, when the juicy fruit that made Rocky Ford famous will be on tap for all comers.

Foley's Orino Laxative is a new remedy, an improvement on the laxatives of former years, as it does not gripe or nauseate and is pleasant to take. It is guaranteed. Pendleton Drug Co.

Kentucky Postmasters.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 1.—Postmasters of all Kentucky offices of the first, second and third classes will hold a conference here during the next three days at which it is expected that postoffice officials from Washington will be present and deliver addresses.

WILL MAKE PORTLAND COAL DISTRIBUTING POINT

The Oregonian says: Portland is to be made the distributing station for the combined output of the coal mines in southwestern Washington, estimated at 11,000 tons daily.

These properties, whose aggregate value is $15,000,000, have been consolidated by T. S. McGrath of this city and his associates, prominent Seattle and Tacoma men, according to an announcement made by Mr. McGrath, who declined to reveal the identity of his associates in the deal.

The promoters of the enterprise declare it is a purely commercial consolidation by which mining and marketing expenses will be reduced and the product be used for steamer, locomotive and domestic uses, giving customers the benefit of economy in production and lower prices.

Through the consolidation of the Gale creek and South Willis mines and several of the smaller mines in the same fields, with Kaskell & Co. of Seattle and Tacoma and the United Steel Equipment company of this city, Seattle and Spokane, the new company is in a position to control practically the entire output of high-grade locomotive coal in southwestern Washington.

McGrath denies emphatically that any railroad company is in any way connected with the coal and commercial combination which he and his associates have effected.

"We have simply conceived the idea of consolidating the coal producing properties of southwestern Washington by which we will be able to mine and make the product more cheaply than it is now being produced," said Mr. McGrath. "We will construct coal bunkers in Portland as soon as we can purchase a desirable site. We will be equipped for coaling all of the general and coastwise steamers at Portland harbor at a saving to these vessels which now coal at Nainaimo, B. C. Eventually we also shall have an auxiliary bunker at Astoria for the accommodation of incoming and outgoing steamers."

Bee's Laxative Cough Syrup always brings quick relief to coughs, colds, hoarseness, whooping cough and all bronchial and throat trouble. Mothers especially recommend it for children. Pleasant to take, gentley laxative. A. C. Koepfen & Bros.

ALBEE NEWS NOTES

SQUALLY WEATHER CATCHES MUCH HAY OUT

Albee School to Start Soon With S. S. Darnell As Teacher—Campers Coming Out of Mountains—Joseph Sturdivant and Wife to Rogue River for the Winter.

Albee, Aug. 31.—The weather for the past week and at present is squally, short showers both day and night with no prospect of clearing up, making it almost impossible to gather what little hay that is not yet harvested. There are a number of campers in the mountains yet, but are leaving on account of the cool weather.

Alex Buholz of Combs canyon, was a visitor in the valley this week. He was looking after his stock which range West of Ukiah. Mr. Buholz reports that sheep have been trespassing on his deeded land and is liable to cause the invades serious trouble.

A. S. Quant has gone to Lehman springs after his family, who have been stopping there during the hot weather.

Miss Cleopatra Beeler of Waitsburg arrived here a few days ago and will be the guest of Mrs. Carrie Connell while she stays in the valley. Miss Beeler is a member of the faculty of Waitsburg school and has been teaching there for a number of years.

The Albee school will commence in the near future. It will be taught by Prof. S. S. Darnell.

Martin McLaughlin, who has been running the Dixie ranch for the past two years, is moving back to his old home at Meacham.

Farmers with big teams are now coming to the 93bee sawmill and hauling away all kinds of lumber.

Joseph Sturdivant has rented his dairy and ranch to Tom McKeun. Mr. Sturdivant and family will spend the winter in Rogue River valley.

Miss Fanny Arbogast of Ritter, made a trip through here to Pendleton last week. Miss Arbogast will attend school in Walla Walla the coming winter.

James Estes and wife of Pendleton just passed through here by private conveyance on their way home from Deschutes, where they have been on a camping and business trip.
