TO LAY KEEL OF SEA MONSTER

THE FLORIDA TO BE THE BIGGEST OF THE NAVY

Navy Department Is Ready to Begin Work on New Warship.—New Leviathan Will Weigh 20,000 Tons—Government Will Do the Work on the Florida Instead of Letting It Out on Contract.

New York, Sept. 2.—It is likely that the present month will witness the laying of the keel of the Florida, the biggest and most powerful of the vessels of Uncle Sam's navy. The 20,000-ton leviathan of the seas will be constructed at the Brooklyn navy yard and when completed will be the monarch of the United States navy and the equal in fighting power and tonnage of any other ship afloat.

The contract to build the Florida was given to the local yards after one of the greatest campaigns was waged to force the navy department to let the workers of the Brooklyn navy yard build her. Boards of trade, congressmen, senators and every one that could exert authority with the Washington officials were fighting night and day to get the battleship built here.

The argument of the experts in Washington was that private builders could construct a warship or any other kind of vessel cheaper and quicker than government workers. At the time that all this was going on the collier Vestal was started at the navy yard. From Naval Constructor down to the humblest apprentice the feeling was rampant that the only thing to be done was to have the ship built here was to show good results in the Vestal.

Now that the giant collier is finished and all records for quick and cheap construction are broken, the men at the navy yard are waiting with interest for the keel of the Florida to be laid. Although the building of a battleship is a greater task than the construction of a collier, the workers at the navy yard have no fear that they will not make as good a record on the Florida as they did on the Vestal, for they have also built the battleship Connecticut, now the pride of the navy.

The new fighting monster is so much larger than the Connecticut that the ways on which the latter was built will have to be lengthened a hundred feet. To do this part of a storehouse will have to be razed, as there is not room for the extension of the ways on the land. After the building is razed and the ways lengthened, they will be undermined so that the railroad of the navy yard can pass beneath them.

Another interesting feature of the building of the new battleship is the fact that a new monster cantilever crane will be erected, so the steel and other material will be hauled to the workers nearly twice as fast as they were while the Vestal was being built. The crane is now in course of construction and will be ready soon after the Florida is started.

They Take the Kinks Out.
"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for many years, with increasing satisfaction. They take the kinks out of stomach, liver and bowels, without fuss or friction," says N. H. Brown, of Pittsfield, Vt. Guaranteed satisfactory at Tallman & Co.'s and Pendleton Drug Co., 25 cents.

LINE OF IRON POSTS WILL MARK STATE LINE

Information was received in Boise this week by local civil engineers to the effect that the government has inaugurated a novel boundary line plan which in brief means that installation of iron posts at a distance of one mile apart along the border of the state of Idaho separating this state from Washington and Oregon, says the Boise Capital News.

This act of government at this time indicates that no action will be taken in the future to cut the top off Idaho, and merge it into a new state called Lincoln, together with a slice of eastern Washington and northeastern Oregon.

At the present time a party of government surveyors is camping at Spokane Bridge, near the panhandle border line of Idaho and Washington, while engaged in the work of setting the iron posts every mile along the state line. S. S. Ganneth, of Washington, D. C., is in charge of the crew and superintending the work. It is the intention of the government to set the posts but from the southern Washington line north to the Canadian border.

The posts are about three feet above the ground and nearly solid iron, so that they can stand the wear of ages. In time it is planned to extend the border line to the southern line of this state and Oregon, thus perfecting a marked distinction in the original survey line between this state and its two sisters, so that there will be no question as to where the division line should be.

In order that the posts may be set permanently it is necessary that the government engineers resurvey and establish the line between the states and this is being done as rapidly as possible after which the posts are set at intervals of a mile.

Local surveyors who have been informed of this plan of the government, have freely expressed themselves as being heartily in favor of it for after the posts are set the survey is made permanent and there can never, in the future, be any question as to where the line lays. It is understood that the government intends to follow this policy on all the border lines in the northwestern states.

THROUGH A MOUNTAIN TO REACH HER SCHOOL

Getting to and from school in some parts of this country isn't as easy as it is in a big city, says the New York Sun. There is one school teacher in Colorado, who, on stormy days, makes the trip through a mountain, traveling nearly four miles underground before she reaches her school.

The school which this teacher teaches is on top of a mountain near Idaho Springs, Colo. Idaho Springs is a bustling place for that part of the world, but around it on all sides are the Rocky mountains and many wild places.

The school law of the state prescribes that wherever there are 10 children there must be some sort of a school. Up on top of this mountain a little settlement of miners has grown up—Gibson's Gulch.

The mountain underneath it is honeycombed with mines. To tap these mines there was driven what is known as the Newhouse tunnel. It runs into the base of the mountain nearly four miles, is wide enough for two tracks of electrically propelled tram cars, and carries the ore and the miners working in the various mines in the mountain.

It is a six-mile ride on horseback from the town of Idaho Springs, where the teacher of the school lives up to the top of the mountain, where her school is. It isn't a bad ride in nice weather for a Colorado girl used to the saddle, but it's tough in winter.

Since the opening of the tunnel the teacher gets into one of the little cars at the foot of the mountain whenever the weather is bad. The ore train takes her into the mountains about three miles. Then she gets out at one of the mines, transfers to a bucket and is hoisted up a shaft 2100 feet.

When she gets out of the shaft she is on top of the mountain, 50 feet from her schoolhouse. It takes about an hour to make the trip. The school has 14 pupils, and they never know whether their teacher is coming up from the bowels of the earth or over the mountain.

THOUSANDS OF VETERANS ON FOUR MILE MARCH

Toledo, O., Sept. 2.—To the music of many bands and the lusty cheers of thousands of spectators the boys in blue of the Grand Army marched through the elaborately decorated streets of Toledo today. Many distinguished men reviewed the procession.

This evening there will be a great electric display, covering a distance of four miles, on the Maumee river. A pyrotechnic display of Sheridan's ride will also be shown tonight and tomorrow night. Two hundred troops will be required to produce the spectacle. The sessions of the national encampment will begin tomorrow.

THE AMOUNT OF YOUR "BELIEF IN ADVERTISING" WHICH IS PUT INTO TYPE IS WHAT COUNTS.

There is probably a clothing ad in today's paper that will remind you that your new suit is overdue. Meet the ad "face to face," and it will help you to meet the clothes problem that way.

It won't pay you to try to deal with a buyer who wants your property only half as much as "the right man" would want it.

Your store is NOT "big enough," or prosperous enough, unless your ambition and aspirations are under-sized.
