

GROCERIES ARE AN ABSOLUTE necessity to every human being. From the day you enter the world until the day you leave it you have to patronize, directly or indirectly, some grocery store. You have to eat to keep alive. Among the earliest lessons taught in life is a regard for your diet, by selecting only fresh and wholesome food, and a regard for your purse by practicing the well established rules of economy. We can sell you fresher and better goods and more of them for cash than you can buy elsewhere on open account. Look over our stock, get our prices, and be convinced.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR HIGH SCHOOL

LARGE ENROLLMENT.
GOOD ENTHUSIASM.

Football Team Promises to Win Northwest Honors—Old Captain and Manager Will Serve Again—Many Old Players Back—Student Body Officers for Coming Year.

Prospects are bright for a splendid year's work in the high school. This morning a total of 123 students enrolled, that being nine more than the number on the opening day last year. Therefore it is evident that the attendance will be larger than last year. Of those registering today 15 are seniors, 27 juniors, 35 sophomores and 32 freshmen.

School spirit and enthusiasm is also strong again this year and from present indications the school year will be marked by harmony and good co-operation between the students and faculty.

Before the close of school last year the student body elected officers for this year as follows: Harold Warner, president; Ina Rippey, vice president; and Hazel Means, secretary. These officers will serve during the year. The three officers, together with the high school principal and city superintendent, constitute an executive committee that has general supervision over all student affairs. Both Superintendent Landers and Principal Hampton are popular with the students.

School Children's EYES

A very large number of children attending the schools are in immediate need of glasses and yet are unaware of it. EDUCATION depends largely on the use of the eyes. If these are deficient then the chief basis of learning is hampered. OUR optician will give conscientious advice and recommend the use of glasses only where it will considerably benefit the child's vision.

the arguments in the Freewater-Milton school case Saturday, the members of the boundary board took the matter under advisement. They have set no time for giving a decision but according to Judge Gilliland, it will probably be given when Commissioners Walker and Lee return from the east end, where they now are.

Apparently the Milton-Freewater controversy is a hard one for the board members to settle, but it is now up to them as all the arguments and testimony in the case have been submitted.

HEWITT A PEST.

Helix Rancher Is Cited to Appear Before Grand Jury.

George Hewitt, the Helix rancher, whose appetite for liquor has led to his downfall, will have to go before the grand jury and he may find himself in trouble. Following Hewitt's complaint against the three boys who admitted they had robbed him, some accusations were made against Hewitt himself. From the facts in the case it is evident that Hewitt has been considerable of a pest, if not worse, and his conduct has led to serious accusations being made against him.

At a hearing Saturday afternoon County Judge Gilliland released the younger Cane boy and the Leonard boy, but the case of the older Cane boy, who admitted he stole the $7.50, is not yet decided. He will probably go to the Boys' & Girls' Aid society.

POKER GAME WAS RAIDED

FIVE ARRESTS MADE BY POLICE YESTERDAY

No Professional Gamblers Being Present Police Withhold Names—All Were Released on $25 Bail Each and Same Will be Forfeited Tomorrow Morning.

In a little room above the Matlock resort, formerly the Columbia saloon, five men were arrested for gambling last night and each was required to dig up the sum of $25 in bail. As they will evidently prefer to lose their money rather than appear in police court the city will be ahead $125 by reason of their arrest.

According to Chief of Police Gurdane none of the five men "captured" were regular gamblers and in view of this fact he withholds their names. Upon the police court docket they will go down the line of fame as simple John Does.

Of those arrested one was a wheat-raiser, another a railroader, while the other three were working men. Had they not been men of toil and had there been a real gambler among them it is doubtful if the police would have been so charitable with them.

That some big gambling games are being conducted on the quiet about the city has been freely rumored of late and for these the police are keeping a watchful eye. But thus far they have been unable to "butt in" upon the charmed circle where poker is played for more than a ten cent ante.

MAKING OF DOLLS.

Material Used and How the Parts Are Assembled.

Consul Will L. Lowrie, of Weimar, furnishes the following information concerning the different stages by which dolls are manufactured in that important German city. He says:

Only the assembling of the various parts of the dolls, painting the bodies, arms and legs, and sticking on the wigs is done at the factory.

Each figure passes through about 20 hands before it reaches completion, the raw material being taken to the homes of the work people and then returned to the factory. The work is all specialized, and each time a new process takes place in the evolution of a doll it is done by certain employees who are more or less expert.

Bodies are made mostly of paper, although kid is also used extensively. They are molded at the homes of stamped out in heavy iron molds at factories devoted entirely to this feature. All sizes of dolls are made, from a few inches in length to more than three feet.

The hair is Angora wool from England, which also supplies the rubber (elastic), stretch to keep the arms and legs in place. Styles change each year, and the manufacturers must keep in touch with the modes.
