THE SNAKE-BITE CURE FOR FEVERS

PASTEUR INSTITUTE SEEKS REPTILES FOR MEDICINE.

Snakes Are Shamed and Poison Is Extracted by Delicate Process—
Frenchman Believe Venom Will
Cure Serious Cases—Have Interesting
Method of Treating Accidental Bites.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 18.—Dr. Walter M. Atkinson and his assistant, Dr. J. L. Eagle of the Pasteur Institute at Lille, France, are now in the mountains of this state hunting copperheads and rattlesnakes for the purpose of extracting poison from their fangs and using it in experiments to find an antitoxin for malignant fevers.

The reptiles are caught alive by means of a snare of fine silver wire as flexible as a thread. One end is made into a slip noose, and attached to the end of a stick four or five feet in length, and when a snake is caught this noose is slipped over its head and the slightest pressure of the snake will draw it tight. In this manner it is often carried until the cage is reached.

The extraction of the venom has of necessity to be done with extreme care. Over the mouth of a thin glass funnel about three inches in diameter is stretched a piece of sterilized, wide-mesh gauze, fastened in place by a rubber band. The end of the funnel is inserted in a sterilized, frosted glass tube, about three-eighths of an inch in diameter and about three inches long.

The funnel and tube are held by a pair of long forceps. The cage containing the snakes has a small opening in it. When this is opened they will try to make their escape and as they do so they are grasped just back of the head.

Anger the Reptiles.

Snake and gauze-covered funnel are gradually brought nearer and nearer until the snake's head has approached within two or three inches of the mouth of the funnel, when a slight, quick pressure of the doctor's hand angers the reptile and it strikes the first object in view and sinks its fangs into the meshes of the gauze. These fangs, of which there are two, located in the upper jaw, are nature's hypodermic needles. As soon as any pressure is exerted upon them the venom is ejected through them from glands located above.

Two drops of venom are all that are extracted each time, but the same snake is used time and time again. With these two drops of poison clinging to the gauze the first gleaning of the harvest is obtained. A slight tap upon the gauze causes the venom to drop into the funnel and from there into the sterilized tube. Great care is exercised to keep everything connected with the operation sterile. When the tube is full it is hermetically sealed.

The commercial value of the venom is $30,000 a pound, or $2000 an ounce. Dr. Atkinson expects to obtain about $3000 worth from his summer's work.

Venom as Antitoxin.

While the use of venom secured from reptiles as an antitoxin and antitoxin is not new, its use as an antitoxin for malignant fevers is. Dr. Atkinson carries a set of surgical instruments with him whenever he is out hunting snakes and his method of treating a snake bite is very interesting.

Should he be bitten on the end of a finger, the most probable place in handling them, a common rubber band such as is used in every office, is twisted tightly about the finger near the hand. When the circulation has been shut off the band is gradually worked forward until the blood is all forced into the tip of the finger. Then with a sharp lancet an incision is made in the flesh from the first joint to the tip of the finger and the blood spurts out and carries the poison with it.

After the blood and venom have been removed from the lacerated finger a hypodermic injection of potassium permanganate is made in the finger, and as a last resort strychnine is administered in tablet form.

INSTANT RELIEF OF ITCHING HUMOR

Limbs Below the Knees Were Raw—
Feet Too Swollen to Get Shoes
On—Sleep Completely Broken
by Intense Itching and Burning—
Well in Two Days and Says That

CUTICURA IS AMONG HIS HOUSEHOLD GODS

"God bless the man who first compounded Cuticura. Some two months ago I had a humor break out on my limbs below the knees. They came to look like raw beefsteak, all red, and no one knows how they itched and burned. They were so swollen that I had to split my drawers open to get them on and could not get my shoes on for a week or more. I used five or six different remedies and got no help, only when applying them the burning was worse and the itching less. One morning I remembered that I had a bit of Cuticura and tried it. From the moment it touched me the itching was gone and I have not felt a bit of it since. The swelling went down and in two days I had my shoes on and was about as usual. I only wish I had used the Cuticura Remedies in the first of my troubles. They would have saved me two or three weeks of intense suffering. During that time I did not sleep an hour at a time, but was up applying such remedies as I had. Henceforth the Cuticura Remedies will be among my household gods, rest assured. George B. Farley, 50 South State St., Concord, N. H., May 14, 1907."

LEAPS FROM WINDOW.

Baseball Player Dreamer He Was Catching a Fly.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 18.—Sherwood Magee, Philadelphia's great left fielder, was painfully, though not seriously injured this morning by jumping from a third-story window of a hotel across from the Phillies' grounds, while laboring under nightmare. Fortunately Magee fell on a stable roof under the window and rolled to the ground with no bones broken, but he was considerably bruised. Dr. Boyle, the team's physician, was sent for and took him to a hospital. An X-ray photograph showed no bones broken so he was taken back to the hotel, where he explained how it happened.

"I dreamed I was catching a high fly, just a fence-skimmer. I heard 25,000 voices, 'Catch it, you lobster.' The first thing I knew I bounded from the stable roof to the turf. The doctor says it was nightmare. I'll be in the game inside a week."

Kodol will, in a very short time, enable the stomach to do the work it should do, and the work it should do is to digest all the food you eat. It makes the stomach sweet and it is pleasant to take. It is sold here by Tallman & Co.

Chile's Holiday.

Santiago, Chile, Sept. 18.—National festivities on a large scale marked the anniversary of the Chilean declaration of independence, September 18, 1810. A great military parade was reviewed by the president this morning. As bull fights have been abolished in this republic, horse races will be the principal sport of the afternoon, except for labor troubles, the country is now peaceful and prosperous.

HAWKING MACHINES.

Catarrh Sufferers Are Nothing But
Hawking, Spitting and Blowing Machines, Says an Authority.

Is it possible that in these days when cleanliness and sanitary reform is being preached in the churches, schools and at public gatherings, that thousands of people will continue to suffer from catarrh, when there is an absolutely certain remedy always on hand.

Hyomel (pronounced High-o-mel) is a pleasant, medicated and antiseptic air. Breathe it in and it will cure catarrh. It will stop foul breath, watery eyes, and crusts in the nose in a few days.

It is guaranteed by Tallman & Co., to do it or money back, and such a guarantee ought to be strong enough for anybody.

Entirely Cured by Hyomel.

Having suffered from catarrh for about two years, and having tried numerous remedies without any satisfactory results, I finally tried Hyomel, and am glad to state that after using about one and one-half bottles I am entirely cured. I have recommended it to others with satisfactory results.—C. N. Lindsay, 407 East First Ave., Mitchell, S. D.

A complete Hyomel outfit, consisting of a strong, hard rubber pocket inhaler and a bottle of Hyomel, costs only $1, and extra bottles, if afterwards needed, cost only 50 cents each at Tallman & Co.'s, or direct, by mail, charges prepaid, from Booth's Hyomel Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Hyomel also cures Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs and Colds, Croup of infants, and any inflammatory disease of the respiratory tract.

THE AMOUNT OF YOUR "BELIEF IN ADVERTISING" [WHICH IS PUT INTO TYPE IS WHAT COUNTS.

A business man cannot afford to "miss" news that affects his particular line of business. Nor can the "buyer" of the supplies for the house and family afford to "miss" news affecting prices of things that have to be bought.

Bargain-hunting is not, as sometimes supposed, the pursuit of a wild desire to spend money for things not needed. It is the quest of the best opportunities to buy the things that ARE needed.

LOOK IN OUR CLASSIFIED COLUMNS FOR WANT ADVERTISING.

Where one woman wastes either time or money because of a bent for "bargain-hunting," 50 women save and conserve both.

It is not well to try to load a ship with cargoes far beyond her cargo capacity. Nor well to try to advertise a big store in a small space.

A fixed purpose to find a certain number of new customers each week is a good sort of advertising ambition for a merchant.
